

ANSWERS TO FINAL EXAM REVIEW PROBLEMS - SPRING 2023

CHAPTER 5

- a) Judgment is for Doug. Doug could prove all four elements for negligence. Denise owed a duty of care to Doug because he was a business invitee and she breached this duty of care to warn him of the non-obvious risk of him getting injured by the broken chair. In addition, Denise was both the actual and proximate cause of Doug's injury because "but for" Denise's not removing the broken chair, Doug would not have gotten hurt and Doug, as an invitee to her business, was a foreseeable victim in the "zone of danger." Lastly, Doug suffered a legally recognizable injury as a result of the chair leg breaking off and stabbing him in the leg.
- b) Judgment is for Denise. Gigi would not be able to prove a negligence claim because (1) Denise did not appear to owe a duty of care to Gigi and (2) there was no proximate causation involved as Gigi was not a foreseeable victim. There was no direct connection between Denise's conduct and Gigi's injury, as Gigi was 2 blocks away when Doug's scream startled her and caused her to crash into the parked car.

CHAPTER 6

- (a) Yes, Christian does have a strict product liability claim against Pepsi because he could prove all six elements needed: (1) the Pepsi glass bottle appeared to be in a defective condition when it was sold because the facts show that the bottle was fragile because of an error in the Pepsi manufacturing plant, (2) Pepsi was connected to the product because it manufactured the bottle, (3) the bottle shattering made it unreasonably dangerous, (4) Christian was physically harmed, requiring 25 stitches, (5) the defective bottle was the proximate cause of Christian's injury, and (6) there is no evidence that the bottle had been substantially changed from the time the bottle was sold to the time Christian's suffered his injury.
- (b) Yes, Christian also has a strict product liability claim against Rite Aid as well. All six requirements, as mentioned above, can be proven as applied to Rite Aid. Under the theory of strict product liability, Rite Aid, as a retailer, has a connection to the product and therefore can be sued.
- (c) No, Christian does not have a claim against Frankie because Frankie was not a participant in the chain of manufacturing and distribution, i.e., he had no connection to the making and selling of the product.

Information Control Problems in Manufacturing Technology 1982 D. E. Hardt, 2014-05-17 Information Control Problems in Manufacturing Technology 1982 documents the proceedings of the 4th IFAC IFIP Symposium held in Maryland USA on 26-28 October 1982. The volume contains 27 papers divided into six sections. The papers in Section 1 cover the various US government programs sponsoring manufacturing related research. This support ranges from basic process physics research to general questions of artificial intelligence in the manufacturing environment. At the heart of any manufacturing operation are the unit processes. Proper control of these processes is vital to achieving the autonomy that will eventually lead to automated manufacturing systems. Section 2 addresses these issues in terms of the general control problem involved and in the solution of specific processing problems. Section 3 presents examples of both on and off line techniques that use novel methods of data acquisition and signal processing. Section 4 focuses on the role of industrial robots in advanced manufacturing systems. It addresses fundamental questions of manipulator design and control and modelling of robot work environment. The ability to integrate processes and robots into an efficient manufacturing system is truly the challenge of the future. Section 5 deals with a wide range of such problems including planning, scheduling, inventory and decision systems. Section 6 presents specific examples of fully automated manufacturing and assembly systems.

Changing U.S. Military Manpower Realities Franklin D. Margiotta, 2019-03-13 Manpower qualified, experienced and in adequate supply is considered by many to be the keystone of the U.S. capability to deter or wage war. But can the all volunteer force (AVF) continue to attract and retain the quantity and quality of active and reserve forces required to meet the security needs of the nation? The contributors to this collection

The Enlisted Experience Janet R. Bednarek, 1998-12 Offers a vivid, candid and highly personal account of military life by four of the first five Chief Master Sergeants of the Air Force: Paul W. Airey, Donald L. Harlow, Thomas N. Barnes and Robert D. Gaylor. Their recollections, captured in a 1987 interview, cover a period of over thirty years from the early 1940s to the late 1970s and illuminate much of the history and heritage surrounding the ranks from the perspective of the highest position available to an enlisted member of the Air Force.

Flying the Line, An Air Force Pilot's Journey Lt Col Jay Lacklen, USAFR, Retired, 2014 Embarking on an insightful journey through the 1970s American military, Jay Lacklen takes you on an enthralling adventure from pilot training to his surreal, nightmarish B-52 bomb run during the Vietnam War. Bringing a fresh perspective to the era, Lacklen shows how the military draft diverted him from a prospective journalism career into an Air Force cockpit. He speaks to the reader as a writer trying to become a pilot rather than the other way around. Ensnaring you with accounts of bomb runs over Cambodia and several episodes of his aircraft on the verge of crashing, Lacklen delves into the darkest moments of a pilot's life with a writer's eye for detail and descriptive ability. Difficult subjects are faced head-on, including encounters with hookers in Southeast Asia, a nuanced view of the North Vietnamese Army and a surprising perspective on the Vietnam War protests, including actress and activist Jane Fonda.
