Ireland,1998-12-01 Seemingly contradictory ideas of privacy and community dominate Ottoman cities While houses are internally divided to guard female modesty behind a frontage studded with peep holes streets in cities like Amasya are often bridged by first floor passageways between different houses This book contains 17 papers by architects and archaeologists looking at how the Ottoman house was structured how it has varied over time and space and how surviving examples are faring in a world of breeze block construction Although the examples discussed are all Near Eastern and mostly from Turkey the revelations this book contains about structuring principles will make it a valuable companion to understanding architectural relics from all over the Ottoman Empire □□□□ □□□□□□□□ ,1984 □□□□□□ Yukio Ōta,1983 Vernacular Architecture in the 21st Century Lindsay Asquith,Marcel Vellinga,2006-03-10 The issues surrounding the function and meaning of vernacular architecture in the twenty first century

are complex and extensive Taking a distinctively rigorous theoretical approach this book considers these issues from a number of perspectives broadening current debate to a wider multidisciplinary audience These collected essays from the leading experts in the field focus on theory education and practice in this essential sector of architecture and help to formulate solutions to the environmental disaster management and housing challenges facing the global community today

Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals. 2d Ed., Rev. and Enl Avery Library,1997 Social Housing in the Middle East Mohammad Gharipour,Kivanc Kilinc,2019-03-01 As oil rich countries in the Middle East are increasingly associated with soaring skyscrapers and modern architecture attention is being diverted away from the pervasive struggles of social housing in those same urban settings Social Housing in the Middle East traces the history of social housing both gleaming postmodern projects and bare bones urban housing structures in an effort to provide a wider understanding of marginalized spaces and their impact on identities communities and class While architects may have envisioned utopian or futuristic experiments these buildings were often constructed with the knowledge and skill sets of local workers and the housing was in turn adapted to suit the modern needs of residents This tension between local needs and national aspirations are linked to issues of global importance including security migration and refugee resettlement The essays collected here consider how culture faith and politics influenced the solutions offered by social housing they provide an insightful look at how social housing has evolved since the 19th century and how it will need to adapt to suit the 21st The Domestic and the Foreign in Architecture Ruth Baumeister,Sang Lee,2007 For centuries across nations dialogue between the domestic and the foreign has affected and transformed architecture Today these dialogues have become highly intensified The Domestic and the Foreign in Architecture examines how these exchanges manifest themselves in contemporary architecture in terms of its aesthetic potential and its practice which in turn are impacted by broad economic cultural and political issues This book traces how diverse cultural encounters inevitably modify conventional categories standards and codes of architecture such as domestic identity its political and economic representations and the negotiations with what is deemed foreign Theoretical reflections by distinguished scholars are accompanied by interviews with some of the most influential architects practicing today as well as stunning visual presentations by professional photographers Contemporary Spanish Architecture Baudilio A.
