Effective Fund-Raising Management Kathleen S. Kelly, 2012-12-06 In a ground breaking departure from existing works almost all of which are how to manuals based on anecdotal evidence this is the first academic textbook on fund raising By integrating practical knowledge with social science theory and research it presents a comprehensive approach to the function from its legal and ethical principles to the managerial process by which gifts are raised Territory previously uncharted in the literature is explored such as the historical and organizational contexts of contemporary practice Explanations of programs techniques and publics introduce a new system for understanding fund raising's major concepts Unlike efforts in established fields most of the material represents original scholarship undertaken to produce a first time text The book's main purpose is to teach students about fund raising a high demand high paying occupation that will continue to expand into the 21st century as the need for trained practitioners exceeds the supply During the last decade fund raising education moved into the formal classroom and away from an apprenticeship tradition of senior practitioners mentoring newcomers Yet until now there has not been a textbook to support this evolving professionalism Faculty have been reluctant to define fund raising as an academic subject in the absence of a theory based teaching resource and courses usually have been assigned to part time instructors hired from the practice This textbook addresses the void It is designed for graduate and upper level undergraduate courses dealing with fund raising as a primary or secondary subject Among its features each chapter points out research gaps and opportunities such as problems and theories for master's theses and doctoral dissertations and ends with a list of suggested readings The text is appropriate for the diverse academic areas in which fund raising nonprofit management and philanthropy are taught including public administration management arts and humanities education social work economics and sociology Because of its public relations orientation it is particularly suited for courses offered in that discipline Additional audiences are practitioners enrolled in professional development programs CEOs trustees and others interested in self study and scholars who need serious literature on the subject     Fundraising for Academic Libraries Karlene Noel Jennings, Joyce Garczynski, 2020-06-15 With more universities facing financial difficulty and academic libraries being asked to do more with less fundraising has been transformed from a luxury to a necessity Now more than ever academic libraries need to know how to effectively obtain and steward donors Most fundraising books are written from perspectives that are not always relevant to the complex environment that academic libraries must navigate Fundraising for Academic Libraries A Practical Guide for Librarian is written just for academic libraries The authors demystify fundraising to enable those to work in an academic library to feel confident in their ability to obtain contributions sponsorships and grants for their libraries From major gifts to events to special collections this book looks at academic library fundraising holistically Not a one size fits all approach chapters explore multiple methods that an academic library can use to identify potential donors ask for gifts and retain existing contributors This book also connects readers with extensive fundraising resources so they can readily apply the book s tips and techniques to their own library environment Whether they are interested in approaching a local business to provide a prize for a silent auction or asking for an established donor for an estate gift novice academic library fundraisers will find step by step instructions that help them navigate a variety of situations By providing readers with practical fundraising tools including flow charts simple proposal and gift templates as well as sample donor correspondence this book enables academic libraries to be able to start and advance their own development programs     The Field Guide to Fundraising for Nonprofits Sarah B.
