theological teleology of history by the early modern emergence of a secular conception of history and the modern legitimation of historical time In response to the Enlightenment refashioning of secular historical time and its growing emphasis on human agency Edwards strove to re establish God s preeminence within the order of time Against the de Christianization of history and removal of divine power from the historical process he sought to re enthrone God as the author and lord of history and thus to re enchant the historical world Placing Edwards s historical thought in its broadest context this book will be welcomed by those who study early modern history American history or religious culture and experience in America growth and reciprically the authentic religious development facilitates development towards the goals of authentic human growth This study attempts to investigate the validity of this reciprical relationship as it applies to human and religious growth A dialogue is constructed between the views of four Christian thinkers Kierkegaard Barth Bultmann and Tillich on the dynamics of the Christian faith experience and four psychological theorists Alsler Fromm Allport and Frankl on the dynamics of human growth
