Writing about Archaeology Graham Connah,2010-03-08 In this book Graham Connah offers an overview of archaeological authorship its diversity its challenges and its methodology Based on his own experiences he presents his personal views about the task of writing about archaeology The book is not intended to be a technical manual Instead Connah aims to encourage archaeologists who write about their subject to think about the process of writing He writes with the beginning author in mind but the book will be of interest to all archaeologists who plan to publish their work Connah s overall premise is that those who write about archaeology need to be less concerned with content and more concerned with how they present it It is not enough to be a good archaeologist One must also become a good writer and be able to communicate effectively Archaeology he argues is above all a literary discipline Grahame Clark Brian Fagan,2018-07-03

The British archaeologist Grahame Clark was a seminal figure in European and world archaeology for more than half of the twentieth century but at the same time one whose reputation has been outshone by other more visible luminaries His works were never aimed at a wide general public nor did he become a television or radio personality Clark was above all a scholar whose contributions to world archaeology were enormous He was also convinced that the study of prehistory was important for all humanity and spent his career saying so For this he was awarded the prestigious Erasmus Prize in 1990 an award only rarely given to archaeologists This intellectual biography describes Clark s remarkable career and assesses his seminal contributions to archaeology Clark became interested in archaeology while at school studied the subject at Cambridge University and completed a groundbreaking doctorate on the Mesolithic cultures of Britain in 1931 He followed this study with a magisterial survey The Mesolithic Settlement of Northern Europe 1936 which established him as an international authority on the period At the same time he became interested in the interplay between changing ancient environment and ancient human societies In a series of excavations and important papers he developed environmental archaeology and the notion of ecological systems as a foundation of scientific multidisciplinary archaeology culminating in his world famous excavations at Starr Carr England in 1949 and his Prehistoric Europe The Economic Basis 1952 Clark became Disney Professor of Public Archaeology at Cambridge in 1952 and influenced an entire generation of undergraduates to become archaeologists in all parts of the world He was also the author of the first book on a global human prehistory World Prehistory 1961 People of the Earth ,1977 People of the Earth Brian M. Fagan,Nadia Durrani,2015-08-26

Understand major developments of human prehistory People of the Earth An Introduction to World Prehistory 14 e provides an exciting journey though the 7 million year old panorama of humankind s past This internationally renowned text provides the only truly global account of human prehistory from the earliest times through the earliest civilizations Written in an accessible way for beginning students People of the Earth shows how today s diverse humanity developed biologically and culturally over millions of years against a background of constant climatic change Cultural Anthropology John H. Bodley,2011-04-16 This introductory text introduces basic concepts in cultural anthropology by comparing cultures of increasing scale and focusing on specific universal issues throughout human history Cultural materials are presented in integrated ethnographic case studies organized by cultural and geographic areas to show how ideological social organization and material features fit together in specific sociocultural systems John H Bodley explicitly seeks a balance between ecological materialist and cultural ideological explanations of sociocultural systems while stressing the importance of individual power seeking and human agency Part One examines domestic scale autonomous tribal cultures Part Two presents politically organized class based civilizations and ancient empires in the imperial world Part Three surveys global industrial market based civilizations in the contemporary commercial world Cultural Anthropology uniquely challenges students to consider the big questions about the nature of cultural systems , Wildlife and People Gary G. Gray,1995 Wildlife and People focuses on the human aspect of the animal habitat human triad providing an introduction to virtually every discipline from anthropology and history to socioeconomics included in the human dimensions of wildlife ecology Gary Gray maintains that the most fruitful approach to wildlife ecology grants coequality to wild animal population biology the ecology and management of wildlife habitats and the disciplines that consider wildlife in relation to human culture He concentrates on socioeconomic aspects of habitat animal human interactions in a broad time space species perspective examining topics ranging from aboriginal human wildlife relationships to consumptive uses of wildlife and wildlife law policy and administration Encyclopedia of European Peoples Carl Waldman,Catherine Mason,2006 Presents an alphabetical listing of information on the origins prehistory history culture languages relationships to other cultures and more regarding European peoples Maps of Time David Christian,2011-09 Introducing a novel perspective on the study of history David Christian views the interaction of the natural world with the more recent arrivals in flora fauna including human beings
