

Emu

The emu is a large, flightless bird that is native to Australia. It is the second largest bird in the world, after the ostrich. Emus are found in a variety of habitats, including coastal areas, inland forests, and open grasslands. They are omnivorous, eating a wide range of plants and animals. Emus are known for their incredible endurance and speed, and they are also very intelligent. They are often used in Australia for meat and leather.
