Fundamentals of Developmental Psychology Peter Mitchell,Fenja Ziegler,2013 Fundamentals of Development The Psychology of Childhood outlines the main areas of developmental psychology following a thematic approach and offering a broad overview of contemporary interest in the subject Straightforward language and ample illustrations introduce the reader to the key areas in child development The material is carefully organized to be as student friendly as possible Each chapter addresses a topic such as perception verbal communication and theory of mind Therefore chapters are self contained and comprehensive in their coverage of each aspect of development This replacement for the highly successful Psychology of Childhood has been thoroughly revised with additional material based on articles appearing in the best academic journals and covers the major studies which have stood the test of time The book makes an excellent companion for courses introducing developmental psychology and serves as an accessible yet comprehensive introduction for students and professionals who may have no background knowledge of the subject This textbook is accompanied by a CD ROM of instructor resources which is free of charge to university departments that adopt this book as their text It includes chapter by chapter lecture slides an interactive chapter by chapter multiple choice question test bank and multiple choice questions in paper and pen format

The Experimental Psychology of Beauty C.W. Valentine,2015-06-05 Originally published in 1962 the experimental study of aesthetics was a field particularly associated with the name of C W Valentine who in this book provided a critical review of research carried out since the end of the nineteenth century principally by British and American psychologists The investigations described many of them conducted by the author are concerned with individual responses to what is commonly regarded as beautiful in painting music and poetry an important distinction being made between the perception of objects as beautiful as opposed to pleasing The reactions of children and adults and of people having different ethnic and social backgrounds are explored in a variety of experiments dealing with specific elements including colour form and balance in painting musical intervals discord harmony melody and tempo and rhythm metre imagery and associations in classical and romantic poetry Other experiments seek to disclose the temperamental and attitudinal factors underlying individual differences in the judgement and appreciation of specific works of art Of particular interest are the studies of responses to modern paintings poems and musical compositions The findings throw light on the development of discrimination and taste and suggest the possibility of some common factor in the appreciation of these three arts It was felt that critics as well as psychologists and aestheticians would find much to encourage reflection and to stimulate further research
