How to Correct the Sacra Scriptura? Textual Criticism of the Bible between the Twelfth and Fifteenth Century

Cornelia Linde, 2015-03 This study deals with Latin texts from the twelfth to the fifteenth century that discuss the emendation of the Latin Bible After consideration of the medieval terminology for different versions of the Bible it offers an overview of the transmission of the Latin Bible in the Middle Ages and its medieval editions A survey of the cult of Jerome precedes an investigation of statements by textual critics about the status of the Vulgate and other versions of the Bible The main body of the work is dedicated to the authors views of the textual tradition by examining their statements on the status of Hebrew Greek and Latin manuscripts for the emendation of the Latin Bible Finally this study explores the struggle between consuetudo and veritas and the role of grammar in the emendation of the Latin Bible In the Footsteps of the Ancients Ronald Witt, 2021-10-01 This monograph demonstrates why humanism began in Italy in the mid thirteenth century It considers Petrarch a third generation humanist who christianized a secular movement The analysis traces the beginning of humanism in poetry and its gradual penetration of other Latin literary genres and through stylistic analyses of texts the extent to which imitation of the ancients produced changes in cognition and visual perception The volume traces the link between vernacular translations and the emergence of Florence as the leader of Latin humanism by 1400 and why limited to an elite in the fourteenth century humanism became a major educational movement in the first decades of the fifteenth It revises our conception of the relationship of Italian humanism to French twelfth century humanism and of the character of early Italian humanism itself This publication has also been published in hardback please click here for details Identity and Locality in Early European Music, 1028-1740 Jason Stoessel, 2017-07-05 This collection presents numerous discoveries and fresh insights into music and musical practices that shaped distinctly localized individual and collective identities in pre modern and early modern Europe Contributions by leading and emerging European music experts fall into three areas plainchant traditions in Aquitania and the Iberian peninsula during the first 700 years of the second millennium late medieval musical aesthetics traditions and practices in Paris Padua Prague and more generally England Germany and Spain and local traditions in Renaissance Augsburg and Baroque Naples and Dresden In addition to in depth readings of anonymous musical traditions contributors provide new details concerning the lives and music of well known composers such as Ad r de Chabannes Bartolino da Padova Ciconia Josquin Senfl Alessandro Scarlatti Heinichen and Zelenka This book will appeal to a broad range of readers including chant scholars medievalists music historians and anyone interested in music s place in pre modern and early modern European culture

Chronicling History Sharon Dale, 2007-01-01 Literally thousands of annals chronicles and histories were produced in Italy during the Middle Ages ranging from fragments to polished humanist treatises This book is composed of a set of case studies exploring the kinds of historical writing most characteristic of the period We might expect a typical medieval chronicler to be a monk or cleric but the chroniclers of communal and Renaissance Italy were overwhelmingly secular Many were jurists or notaries whose professions granted them access to political institutions and public debate The mix of the anecdotal and the cosmic of portents and politics makes these writers engaging to read While chroniclers may have had different reasons to write and often very different points of view they shared the belief that knowing the past might explain the present Moreover their audiences usually shared the worldview and civic identity of the historians so these texts are glimpses into deeper cultural and intellectual contexts Seen more broadly chronicles are far more entertaining and informative than narratives They become part of the very history they are describing Conciliarism and Church Law in the Fifteenth Century Thomas E. Morrissey, 2024-10-28 Crises are never the best of times and the era of the Great Western Schism 1378 1417 easily qualifies as one of the worst of times As a professor of canon law at the University of Padua and later cardinal and as a major theorist in the conciliarist movement Franciscus Zabarella 1360 1417 tried to do what a good legal mind does find and explicate a viable and legal solution to the crises of his time a solution that would stand up in his own era and for the generations that followed In this volume Thomas Morrissey looks at what he said wrote and did and places him and his thought in the context of the late medieval and early modern era how he reflected that world and how he influenced it Particular studies elucidate what he wrote on the authority and on the duty of the people in power what they could do and should do as well as what they should not do They also show how he explored the area of early constitution law and human rights in civil and religious society and that his work leads down the road to our modern constitutional democratic societies The volume includes two previously unpublished studies on the situation in Padua c 1400 and on a sermon from 1407 together with an introduction contextualizing the articles

Interpretations of Renaissance Humanism Angelo Mazzocco, 2006-07-01 Authored by some of the most preeminent Renaissance scholars active today the essays of this volume give fresh and illuminating analyses of important aspects of Renaissance humanism such as the time and causes of its origin its connection to the papal court and medieval traditions its classical learning its religious and literary dimensions and its dramatis personae Their interpretations are varied to the point of being contradictory The essays bear the imprint of the work of the eminent scholars of the second half of the twentieth century especially Kristeller s and demonstrate an awareness of the various modes of critical inquiry that have prevailed in recent years As such they are an important exemplar of current scholarship on Renaissance humanism and are therefore indispensable to the scholar who wishes to explore this pivotal cultural movement Contributors include Robert Black Alison Brown Riccardo Fubini Paul F Grendler James Hankins Eckhard Kessler Arthur F Kinney Angelo Mazzocco Giuseppe Mazzotta Massimo Miglio John Monfasani Charles G Nauert and Ronald G Witt Humanism and Empire Alexander Lee, 2018-02-02 For more than a century scholars have believed that Italian humanism was predominantly civic in outlook Often serving in communal government fourteenth century humanists like Albertino Mussato and Coluccio Salutati are said to have derived from their reading of the Latin classics a rhetoric of republican liberty that was opposed to the tyranny of neighbouring signori and of the German emperors In this ground breaking study Alexander Lee challenges this long held belief From the death of Frederick II in 1250 to the failure of Rupert of the Palatinate s ill fated expedition in 1402 Lee argues the humanists nurtured a consistent and powerful affection for the Holy Roman Empire Though this was articulated in a variety of different ways it was nevertheless driven more by political conviction than by cultural concerns Surrounded by endless conflict both within and between city states the humanists eagerly embraced the Empire as the surest guarantee of peace and liberty and lost no opportunity to invoke its protection Indeed as Lee shows the most ardent appeals to imperial authority were made not by signorial humanists but by humanists in the service of communal regimes The first comprehensive synoptic study of humanistic ideas of Empire in the period c 1250 1402 this volume offers a radically new interpretation of fourteenth century political thought and raises wide ranging questions about the foundations of modern constitutional ideas As such it is essential reading not just for students of Renaissance Italy and the history of political thought but for all those interested in understanding the origins of liberty Conciliar Diplomacy at the Council of Constance (1414-1418) Phillip Stump, 2024-05-21 This book re tells the story of how the Council of Constance ended the greatest Schism in Western Christendom Using a nuanced and critical analysis of the primary sources it reframes this drama with the Council itself as the principal actor The Council performed its own legitimacy and its unity through a process of consensual decision making and by conducting its own previously little noticed diplomacy It succeeded where previous attempts to end the Schism had failed through its collective non violent resistance Making Worlds Angela Vanhaelen, Bronwen Wilson, 2022-11-01 Taking into account the destructive powers of globalization Making Worlds considers the interconnectedness of the world in the early modern period This collection examines the interdisciplinary phenomenon of making worlds with essays from scholars of history literary studies theatre and performance art history and anthropology The volume advances questions about the history of globalization by focusing on how the expansion of global transit offered possibilities for interactions that included the testing of local identities through inventive experimentation with new and various forms of culture Case studies show how the imposition of European economic religious political and military models on other parts of the world unleashed unprecedented forces of invention as institutionalized powers came up against the creativity of peoples cultural practices materials and techniques of making In doing so Making Worlds offers an important rethinking of how early globalization inconsistently generated ongoing dynamics of making unmaking and remaking worlds

Justifications of Authority and Power Joseph Canning, 2021-07 Explores how power and authority were justified in late medieval Europe addressing arguments that people at the time found convincing Reforming Saints David J.

Collins, 2008-01-29 Reforming Saints is an investigation of how and why early German humanists were attracted to composing saints lives in the half century preceding the Reformation The book focuses on 36 Latin lives written between 1470 and 1520 Europe (c.1400-1458) Pope Pius II, 2013-11 This popular text circulated widely in manuscript form and was printed in several editions between the late 15th and the early 18th centuries in Latin German and Italian The present volume represents the first time this work has been translated into English bringing its colorful narrative to the attention of a wider audience This edition also provides extensive footnotes an appendix of rulers and a lengthy introduction to Aeneas s life and the context and relevance of this work Biography, Historiography, and Modes of Philosophizing Patrick

Baker, 2017-03-06 By way of essays and a selection of primary sources in parallel text Biography Historiography and Modes of Philosophizing provides an introduction to a vast significant but neglected corpus of early modern literature collective biography It focuses especially on the various related strands of political philosophical and intellectual and cultural biography as well as on the intersection between biography historiography and philosophy Individual texts from the fifteenth to the eighteenth century are presented as examples of how the ancient collective biographical tradition as represented above all by Plutarch Suetonius Diogenes Laertius and Jerome was received and transformed in the Renaissance and beyond in accordance with the needs of humanism religious controversy politics and the development of modern philosophy and science Humanist Educational Treatises, 2008 This volume provides new translations commissioned for the I Tatti
