Philosophy, Literature, and Fine Arts Seyyed Hossein Nasr, 1982 Philosophies of Islamic Education Mujaddad Zaman, Nadeem A. Memon, 2016-03-31 The study of Islamic education has hitherto remained a tangential inquiry in the broader focus of Islamic Studies In the wake of this neglect a renaissance of sorts has occurred in recent years reconfiguring the importance of Islam's attitudes to knowledge learning and education as paramount in the study and appreciation of Islamic civilization Philosophies of Islamic Education stands in tandem to this call and takes a pioneering step in establishing the importance of its study for the educationalist academic and student alike Broken into four sections it deals with theological pedagogic institutional and contemporary issues reflecting the diverse and often competing notions and practices of Islamic education As a unique international collaboration bringing into conversation theologians historians philosophers teachers and sociologists of education Philosophies of Islamic Education intends to provide fresh means for conversing with contemporary debates in ethics secularization theory child psychology multiculturalism interfaith dialogue and moral education In doing so it hopes to offer an important and timely contribution to educational studies as well as give new insight for academia in terms of conceiving learning and education Religious Pluralism in Christian and Islamic Philosophy Adnan Aslan, 2013-01-11 The philosophy of religion and theology are related to the culture in which they have developed These disciplines provide a source of values and vision to the cultures of which they are part while at the same time they are delimited and defined by their cultures This book compares the ideas of two contemporary philosophers John Hick and Seyyed Hossein Nasr on the issues of religion religions the concept of the ultimate reality and the notion of sacred knowledge On a broader level it compares two world views the one formed by Western Christian culture which is religious in intention but secular in essence the other Islamic formed through the assimilation of traditional wisdom which is turned against the norms of secular culture and is thus religious both in intention and essence The Muslims of America Yvonne Yazbeck Haddad, 1991 Papers presented at a conference held on the Amherst campus of the University of Massachusetts April 1989 and sponsored by the Dept of History the Near East Area Studies Program and the Arabic Club of the university The Essential Titus Burckhardt Titus Burckhardt, 2003-09-06 An introduction to the thought of one of the greatest perennialist authors of the twentieth century Muslims as Actors Jacques Waardenburg, 2012-02-13 This book deals with Islamic studies and with the question how the scholarly study of religion can contribute to the study of Islam The author advocates studying Islamic phenomena as signs and symbols interpreted and applied in diverse ways in existing traditions He stresses the role of Muslims as actors in the ongoing debate about the articulation of Islamic ways of life and construction of Islam as a religion A careful study of this debate should steer clear of political religious and ideological interests Research in this area by Muslims and non Muslim scholars alike should address the question of what Muslims have made of their Islam in specific circumstances Current political contexts have created an unhealthy climate for pursuing an open approach to Islam based on reading observing listening and reflecting Yet precisely nowadays we need to look anew at ways of Muslim thinking and acting that refer to Islam and to avoid certain schemes of interpreting Muslim realities that are no longer adequate for present day Muslim life situations Muslim recourse to Islam can be studied as human constructions of value and meaning and relations between Muslims and others can be seen in terms of human interaction without blame always falling on Islam as such

Exploring Islamic Social Work Hansjörg Schmid, Amir Sheikhzadegan, 2022-05-20 This open access book addresses for the first time Islamic social work as an emerging concept at the interface of Islamic thought and social sciences Applying a multidisciplinary approach it explores on the one hand the discourse that provides religious legitimisation to social work activities and on the other hand case studies of practical fields of Islamic social work including educational programmes family counselling and resettlement of prisoners Although in many cases these activities are oriented towards Muslim clients more often than not they go beyond the boundaries of Muslim communities to benefit society as a whole Muslim actors are also starting to professionalise their services and to negotiate the ways in which they can become fully recognised service providers within the welfare state At a more general level the volume also shows that in contrast to the widespread processes of secularisation of social work and its separation from religious communities new types of activities are now emerging which bring back to the public arena both an increased sensitivity to the religious identities of the beneficiaries and the religious motivations of the benefactors The edited volume will be of interest to researchers in Islamic Studies Social and Political Sciences Social Work and Religious Studies This is an open access book

Border Crossings Fred Dallmayr, 1999-08-25 Comparative political theory is at best an embryonic and marginalized endeavor As practiced in most Western universities the study of political theory generally involves a rehearsal of the canon of Western political thought from Plato to Marx Only rarely are practitioners of political thought willing and professionally encouraged to transgress the canon and thereby the cultural boundaries of North America and Europe in the direction of genuine comparative investigation Border Crossings presents an effort to remedy this situation fully launching a new era in political theory Thirteen scholars from around the world examine the various political traditions of West South and East Asia and engage in a reflective cross cultural discussion that belies the assumptions of an Asian essence and of an unbridgeable gulf between West and non West The denial of essential differences does not however amount to an endorsement of essential sameness As viewed and as practiced by contributors to this ground breaking volume comparative political theorizing must steer a course between uniformity and radical separation this is the path of border crossings
