China's 40 Years of Fiscal and Tax Reform Peiyong Gao,2018 The present paper describes the trajectory of China s fiscal and tax reform in the past 40 years which can be summarized in five phases The reform commenced with decentralizing power and transferring benefits Then under great fiscal pressure institutional reform was instigated which aimed to establish a new fiscal and tax system To regulate the government revenue and expenditure beyond the fiscal and tax system reforms were put in place to build an institutional framework for public finance As the fiscal and tax reform had gradually entered the more sophisticated phases China took a series of measures to further improve the public finance system Since 2012 based on the overall plan of comprehensively deepening reform China has embarked on establishing a modern public finance system The present paper characterizes China's fiscal and tax reform as gradually moving toward a system that aligns with the overall reform and complements the goal of marketization and modernization of state governance

China's Fiscal System Richard M. Bird, 2008 We argue in this paper that unless China begins to tackle more systematically the serious problems that have emerged in the finances of its various levels of sub national government the problems to which the present unsatisfactory system give rise will over time increasingly distort resource allocation increase distributional tensions and slow down the impressive recent growth of the Chinese economy The evidence available is generally consistent with this pessimistic reading China's fiscal future thus rests to some extent on reforms to key aspects of its fiscal system especially its intergovernmental finances Given the scale and scope of China's underlying public finance problems the reactive gradualism evidenced in recent ad hoc reforms to this or that piece of the fiscal system has we suggest run its course
