Sherlock Holmes In Orbit:

Sherlock Holmes in Orbit Michael D. Resnick, Martin Harry Greenberg, 1995 Authorized by Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's estate this brand new collection of 26 Sherlock Holmes stories takes place in Holmes' own era in our present time and in the future. All the tales contain some science fiction or fantasy element and all remain true to the spirit and personality of Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's most famous and enduring creation.

Literary Afterlife Bernard A. Drew, 2010-03-08 This is an encyclopedic work arranged by broad categories and then by original authors of literary pastiches in which fictional characters have reappeared in new works after the deaths of the authors that created them. It includes book series that have continued under a deceased writer's real or pen name, undisguised offshoots issued under the new writer's name, posthumous collaborations in which a deceased author's unfinished manuscript is completed by another writer, unauthorized pastiches and biographies of literary characters. The authors and works are entered under the following categories: Action and Adventure, Classics, 18th Century and Earlier, Classics, 19th Century, Classics, 20th Century, Crime and Mystery, Espionage, Fantasy and Horror, Humor, Juveniles, 19th Century, Juveniles, 20th Century, Poets, Pulps, Romances, Science Fiction and Westerns. Each original author entry includes a short biography, a list of original works, and information on the pastiches based on the author's characters.

The Year's Best Science Fiction: Thirteenth Annual Collection Gardner Dozois, 1996-05-15 Annual collection of outstanding science fiction stories showcasing the highest levels of creativity and craft in the genre.

Vampire Stories Arthur Conan Doyle, 2009-10 From the creator of the most famous literary detective of all time comes this collection of vampire stories.

The Fictional 100 Lucy Pollard-Gott, PhD, 2010-01-13 Some of the most influential and interesting people in the world are fictional: Sherlock Holmes, Huck Finn, Pinocchio, Anna Karenina, Genji, and Superman, to name a few, may not have walked the Earth or flown in Superman's case, but they certainly stride through our lives. They influence us personally as childhood friends, catalysts to our dreams, or even fantasy lovers. Peruvian author and presidential candidate Mario Vargas Llosa, for one, confessed to a lifelong passion for Flaubert's Madame Bovary. Characters can change the world. Witness the impact of Solzhenitsyn's Ivan Denisovich in exposing the conditions of the Soviet Gulag, or Harriet Beecher Stowe's Uncle Tom in arousing anti-slavery feeling in America. Words such as quixotic, oedipal, and herculean show how fictional characters permeate our language. This list of the Fictional 100 ranks the most influential fictional persons in world literature and legend from all time periods and from all over the world, ranging from Shakespeare's Hamlet 1 to Toni Morrison's Beloved 100. By tracing characters' varied incarnations in literature, art, music, and film, we gain a sense of their shape-shifting potential in the culture at large. Although not of flesh and blood, fictional characters have a life and history of their own. Meet these diverse and fascinating people. From the brash Hercules to the troubled Holden Caulfield, from the menacing plots of Medea to the misguided schemes of Don Quixote, The Fictional 100 runs the gamut of heroes and villains, young and old, saints and sinners. Ponder them, fall in love with them, learn from their stories, the varieties of human.

Davis, 2005-07-14 Nondescriptive Meaning and Reference extends Wayne Davis's groundbreaking work on the foundations of semantics Davis revives the classical doctrine that meaning consists in the expression of ideas and advances the expression theory by showing how it can account for standard proper names and the distinctive way their meaning determines their reference He also shows how the theory can handle interjections syncategorematic terms conventional implicatures and other cases long seen as difficult for both ideational and referential theories The expression theory is founded on the fact that thoughts are event types with a constituent structure and that thinking is a fundamental propositional attitude distinct from belief and desire Thought parts ideas or concepts are distinguished from both sensory images and conceptions Word meaning is defined recursively sentences and other complex expressions mean what they do in virtue of what thought parts their component words express and what thought structure the linguistic structure expresses and unstructured words mean what they do in living languages in virtue of evolving conventions to use them to express ideas The difficulties of descriptivism show that the ideas expressed by names are atomic or basic The reference of a name is the extension of the idea it expresses which is determined not by causal relations but by its identity or content together with the nature of objects in the world Hence a name's reference is dependent on but not identical to its meaning A name is directly and rigidly referential because the extension of the idea it expresses is not determined by the extensions of component ideas The expression theory thus has the strength of Fregeanism without its descriptivist bias and of Millianism without its referentialist or causalist shortcomings The referential properties of ideas can be set out recursively by providing a generative theory of ideas assigning extensions to atomic ideas and formulating rules whereby the semantic value of a complex idea is determined by the semantic values of its components Davis also shows how referential properties can be treated using situation semantics and possible worlds semantics The key is to drop the assumption that the values of intension functions are the referents of the words whose meaning they represent and to abandon the necessity of identity for logical modalities Many other pillars of contemporary philosophical semantics such as the twin earth arguments are shown to be unfounded The Sherlock Holmes Journal, 2010 Sherlock Holmes:
