Working with Dual Diagnosis Darren Hill, William J. Penson, Divine Charura, 2017-09-15 In the UK it is estimated that a third of patients in mental health services have a substance abuse problem and that half of patients in drug and alcohol services have a mental health problem Part of Palgrave's Foundations of Mental Health series this book explores the intertwined issues of substance use and mental health as a social phenomenon and offers a critical informative guide to understanding dual diagnosis. Written by authors with extensive experience within mental health and drug treatment services, Working with Dual Diagnosis explores areas that are key to understanding the relationship between the two, including models for understanding substance use, mental health, and the correlation of complex social and psychological factors. Treatment processes for working with individuals, groups, and families, and within a community setting, the historical, social, political, economic, and legislative context of mental health and substance use, practice implications for dual diagnosis, including how practitioners can work with and promote better treatment after care and support for those experiencing dual diagnosis issues. Enriched with reflective exercises, case studies, and key points, this book will inform all work related to dual diagnosis populations within health, social, and criminal justice service and is an essential text for social work, nursing, occupational therapy, and probation students.

Older People Rhonda Nay, Sally Garratt, 2009. Now in its fourth edition, this trusted textbook Older People: Issues and Innovations in Care provides a unique collection of conversations and commentaries by leading international and local experts on a range of contemporary issues around the care of older people. Featuring six new chapters, current research, and policy changes, the esteemed author team continues to highlight the importance of interdisciplinary healthcare in providing a comprehensive person-centred approach to care. This edition encourages readers to explore care issues, innovations, and change and to utilise evidence-based practice to improve the care of older people and their families. Editors' comments precede each chapter, providing a snapshot of the issues addressed. Dementia care has an increased focus. New chapters include caring for older people, issues for consumers, younger people in residential aged care facilities, health and care of older Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander peoples, Alzheimer's dementia, neuropsychology, early diagnosis and intervention, self-esteem, dignity, and finding meaning in dementia. My journey of heartbreak: my parents and Alzheimer's disease. Vignettes highlight innovative approaches to care that result in improved health outcomes for older people. Key points are woven through the text to reiterate vital information relevant to nurses and aged care workers. Reflective questions encourage critical thinking as an instrument for improving practice. In-text references are made to video interviews available on the Evolve site. This text reflects new thinking in care, includes the ideas and experiences of policy analysts, nurses, doctors, allied health professionals, and the consumer experience, mainly from Australia but with international contributions, and is based on contemporary research. It will also point readers to the evidence where it exists and include vignettes of practice and video clips where appropriate.

EBOOK: Family Interventions in Mental Health Neil Withnell, Neil Murphy, 2012-08-16. It is rare that people live in the absence of family, friends, or other social support networks, so working with families and staging effective family interventions is an important and logical aspect of promoting recovery in mental health nursing. This book is a comprehensive and accessible guide that will help you to incorporate families more fully into the care of individuals with mental health needs. The authors carefully introduce the concept of family interventions before going on to demonstrate its practical application offering examples from practice and also potential barriers to implementation Key features of this book include Case studies of real family work Examples and practical tools to use in practice Aims and learning outcomes for each chapter Questions at the end of each chapter to enhance self assessment and reflection Family Interventions in Mental Health will be an invaluable tool for both mental health students and qualified practitioners It will also be relevant to social workers and occupational therapists working in mental health settings or the community The Michigan Alumnus, 1994 In volumes 1-8 the final number consists of the Commencement annual

Decentralizing The Civil Service Rhodes, R.A. W., Carmichael, P., McMillan, J., 2003-02-01 The authors also explore two controversial propositions First they ask whether Britain is moving from the unitary strong executive of the Westminster model to a differentiated polity characterized by institutional fragmentation Second they consider whether an unintended consequence of recent changes is a hollowing out of the state Is the British executive losing functions downwards to devolved governments and special purpose bodies and outwards to regional offices and agencies with a resulting loss of central capacity Substantial empirical data both quantitative and qualitative has been amassed here in order to give answers to these questions Housing: The Essential Foundations Dr Paul Balchin, Paul Balchin, Maureen Rhoden, 2002-11-01 Housing The Essential Foundations provides a comprehensive introduction to housing studies This topical text is essential reading for students embarking on degree and diploma courses in housing surveying town planning and other related subjects Professionals within these fields will also find the book valuable as a source of up to date information and data Uniquely multi disciplinary and including a wealth of illustrations and examples this book focuses on key topics which include equal opportunities and housing organisations town planning and housing development housing management design and development economics of housing management and organisation environmental health and housing property housing law policy making and politics housing policy and finance prior to and post Thatcherism future policy issues under the Labour government post 1997 Throughout the authors stress the importance of housing market activity that accords with good planning practice legislation democratic decision making economy and efficiency In introducing the many diverse aspects of housing within a single volume this book provides the essential foundations for the study of this multi disciplinary subject Paul Balchin Gregory Bull Pauline Forrester David Isaac R Shean McConnell John O Leary Maureen Rhoden Jane Weldon all at University of Greenwich UK and Mark Pawlowski University

Feminist Perspectives on Disability Barbara Fawcett, 2018-10-08 Feminist Perspectives on Disability provides a unique introduction to the key debates in relation to both feminism and disability The author considers contemporary similarities differences and contentious areas and how concepts drawn from postmodern feminism can be usefully applied to the disability arena The book explores many important aspects of the field including biological debates issues of power knowledge equality difference subjectivity and the body interface of public and private care and community medical and social barriers politics citizenship and identity Feminist
