Moving Pictures The Uneasy Relationship Between American Art And Early Film:

Northern Getaway Dominique Brégent-Heald, 2022-10-15 For more than a century posters advertisements and brochures have characterized Canada as a desirable tourist destination offering spectacular scenery wild animals outdoor recreation and state of the art accommodations However these explicitly commercial displays are not the only marketing tools at the country's disposal beginning in the 1890s film also played a role in selling Canada In Northern Getaway Dominique Brégent-Heald investigates the connections between film and tourism during the first half of the twentieth century exploring the economic pedagogical geopolitical and socio cultural contexts and aspirations of tourism films From the first moving images of the 1890s through the end of the 1950s a complex web of public and private stakeholders in Canadian tourism experimented sometimes in collaboration with Hollywood with a variety of film forms 16 mm or 35 mm feature or short films fiction or nonfiction professional or amateur filmmakers to promote Canada Spectators particularly Americans saw Canada as a tourist destination on screens in motion picture theatres schools and fairgrounds Rooted in settler colonial representations that celebrate the nation's unspoiled but welcoming wilderness landscapes these films also characterize Canada as a technologically and industrially advanced settler country Using evidence from a wide range of archival sources and drawing from current scholarship in film history and tourism studies Northern Getaway demonstrates how Canada was an innovator in using film to shape and project a recognizable destination brand

New York Times Traveler's Guide to International Art Museum Exhibitions 2005 Alan Riding, Susan Mermelstein, Roberta Smith, 2004-11 Offers national and international coverage of major art exhibitions at more than 400 museums in the US and abroad using the resources of The New York Times It also features essential information on permanent collections hours museum websites and amenities Art and Advertising in Buffalo Bill's Wild West

Michelle Delaney, 2019-10-24 William F Buffalo Bill Cody star of the American West began his journey to fame at age twenty three when he met writer Ned Buntline The pulp novels Buntline later penned were loosely based on Cody's scouting and bison hunting adventures and sparked a national sensation Other writers picked up the living legend of Buffalo Bill for their own pulp novels and in 1872 Buntline produced a theatrical show starring Cody himself In 1883 Cody opened his own show Buffalo Bill's Wild West which ultimately became the foundation for the world's image of the American frontier After the Civil War new transcontinental railroads aided rapid westward expansion fostering Americans long held fascination with their western frontier The railroads enabled traveling shows to move farther and faster and improved printing technologies allowed those shows to print in large sizes and quantities lively color posters and advertisements Cody's show team partnered with printers lithographers photographers and iconic western American artists such as Frederic Remington and Charles Schreyvogel to create posters and advertisements for Buffalo Bill's Wild West Circuses and other shows used similar techniques but Cody's team perfected them creating unique posters that branded Buffalo Bill's Wild West as the true Wild West experience. They helped attract patrons from across the nation and ultimately from around the world at every stop the traveling show made. In Art and Advertising in Buffalo Bill's Wild West Michelle Delaney showcases these numerous posters in full color many of which have never before been reproduced pairing them with new research into previously inaccessible manuscript and photograph collections. Her study also includes Cody's correspondence with his staff revealing the showman's friendships with notable American and European artists and his show's complex modern publicity model. Beautifully designed Art and Advertising in Buffalo Bill's Wild West presents a new perspective on the art innovation and advertising acumen that created the international frontier experience of Buffalo Bill's Wild West.

The Image in Early Cinema Scott Curtis, Philippe Gauthier, Tom Gunning, Joshua Yumibe, 2018-03-22 In The Image in Early Cinema the contributors examine intersections between early cinematic form technology theory practice and broader modes of visual culture. They argue that early cinema emerged within a visual culture composed of a variety of traditions in art science education and image making. Even as methods of motion picture production and distribution materialized they drew from and challenged practices and conventions in other mediums. This rich visual culture produced a complicated overlapping network of image making traditions innovations and borrowing among painting tableaux vivants photography and other pictorial and projection practices. Using a variety of concepts and theories the contributors explore these crisscrossing traditions and work against an essentialist notion of media to conceptualize the dynamic interrelationship between images and their context.

Lynd Ward's Wordless Novels, 1929-1937 Grant F. Scott, 2022-05-30 This book offers the first multidisciplinary analysis of the wordless novels of American woodcut artist and illustrator Lynd Ward 1905-1985 who has been enormously influential in the development of the contemporary graphic novel. The study examines his six pictorial novels each part of an evolving experiment in a new form of visual narrative that offers a keen intervention in the cultural and sexual politics of the 1930s. The novels form a discrete group much like Beethoven's piano sonatas or Keats's great odes in which Ward evolves a unique modernist style cinematic expressionist futurist realist documentary and grapples with significant cultural and political ideas in a moment when the American experiment and capitalism itself hung in the balance. In testing the limits of a new narrative form Ward's novels require a versatile critical framework as sensitive to German Expressionism and Weimar cinema as to labor politics and the new energies of proletarian homosexuality.

A History of Early Film V1 Stephen Herbert, 2023-07-28 Volume 1 of A History of Early Film begins with the period of technical invention.
