Mt Fuji A Changing Landscape:

Mt. Fuji, 1986 A breathtaking photographic tour of Japan Mountain Landscapes in Transition Udo Schickhoff, R.B. Singh, Suraj Mal, 2021-11-02 This book compiles available knowledge of the response of mountain ecosystems to recent climate and land use change and intends to bridge the gap between science policy and the community concerned. The chapters present key concepts, major drivers and key processes of mountain response providing transdisciplinary orientation to mountain studies incorporating experiences of academics, community leaders and policy makers from developed and less developed countries. The book chapters are arranged in two sections. The first section concerns the response processes of mountain environments to climate change. This section addresses climate change itself, past, current and future changes of temperature and precipitation and its impacts on the cryosphere, hydrosphere, biosphere and human environment systems. The second section focuses on the response processes of mountain environments to land use, land cover change. The case studies address effects of changing agriculture and pastoralism, forest water resources management and urbanization processes, landscape management and biodiversity conservation. The book is designed as an interdisciplinary publication which critically evaluates developments in mountains of the world with contributions from both social and natural sciences.

The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies Peter Howard, Ian Thompson, Emma Waterton, Mick Atha, 2018-09-03 This new edition of The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies contains an updated and expanded selection of original chapters which explore research directions in an array of disciplines sharing a concern for landscape, a term which has many uses and meanings. It features 33 revised and/or updated chapters and 14 entirely new chapters on topics such as the Anthropocene, Indigenous landscapes, challenging landscape Eurocentrism, photography and green infrastructure planning. The volume is divided into four parts: Experiencing landscape, Landscape heritage and culture, Landscape society and justice, and Design and planning for landscape. Collectively, the book provides a critical review of the various fields related to the study of landscapes, including the future development of conceptual and theoretical approaches as well as current empirical knowledge and understanding. It encourages dialogue across disciplinary barriers and between academics and practitioners and reflects upon the implications of research findings for local, national and international policy in relation to landscape. The Companion provides a comprehensive and up-to-date guide to current thinking about landscapes and serves as an invaluable point of reference for scholars, researchers and graduate students alike.

Sacred Landscapes in Antiquity Ralph Haussler,Gian Franco Chiaia,2020-07-31 From generation to generation people experience their landscapes differently Humans depend on their natural environment it shapes their behavior while it is often felt that deities responsible for both natural benefits and natural calamities such as droughts famines floods and landslides need to be appeased We presume that in many societies lakes rivers rocks mountains caves and groves were considered sacred Individual sites and entire landscapes are often associated with divine actions mythical heroes and etiological myths Throughout human history people have also felt the need to monumentalize their sacred landscape But this is where the similarities end as different societies had very different understandings beliefs and practices The aim of this new thematic appraisal is to scrutinize carefully our evidence and rethink our methodologies in a multi disciplinary approach More than 30 papers investigate diverse sacred landscapes from the Iberian peninsula and Britain in the west to China in the east They discuss how to interpret the intricate web of ciphers and symbols in the landscape and how people might have experienced it We see the role of performance ritual orality textuality and memory in people s sacred landscapes A diachronic view allows us to study how landscapes were rewritten adapted and redefined in the course of time to suit new cultural political and religious understandings not to mention the impact of urbanism on people s understandings A key question is how was the landscape manipulated transformed and monumentalized especially the colossal investments in monumental architecture we see in certain socio historic contexts or the creation of an alternative humanmade seemingly non natural landscape with perfectly astronomically aligned buildings that define a cosmological order Sacred Landscapes therefore aims to analyze the complex links between landscape religiosity and society developing a dialectic framework that explores sacred landscapes across the ancient world in a dynamic holistic contextual and historical perspective
