Across the Lines, 2022-05-16 This third volume of ASNEL Papers covers a wide range of theoretical and thematic approaches to the subject of intertextuality Intertextual relations between oral and written versions of literature text and performance as well as problems emerging from media transitions regionally instructed forms of intertextuality and the works of individual authors are equally dealt with Intertextuality as both a creative and a critical practice frequently exposes the essential arbitrariness of literary and cultural manifestations that have become canonized The transformation and transfer of meanings which accompanies any crossing between texts rests not least on the nature of the artistic corpus embodied in the general framework of historically and socially determined cultural traditions Traditions however result from selective forms of perception they are as much inventions as they are based on exclusion Intertextuality leads to a constant reinforcement of tradition while at the same time intertextual relations between the new literatures and other English language literatures are all too obvious Despite the inevitable impact of tradition the new literatures tend to employ a dynamic reading of culture which fosters social process and transition thus promoting transcultural rather than intercultural modes of communication Writing and reading across borders becomes a dialogue which reveals both differences and similarities More than a decolonizing form of deconstruction intertextuality is a strategy for communicating meaning across cultural boundaries

The Theater of Heiner Müller Jonathan Kalb, 2001 The revised and enlarged edition of the first comprehensive English language study of the work of Heiner Muller widely regarded as Bertolt Brecht's spiritual heir and as one of the most important German playwrights of the twentieth century Kalb's quest to try and penetrate some of the surfaces of what he calls this glacially infuriating writer is engrossing and he negotiates his own ambivalences and reservations about Muller as theatre maker and man with both honesty and adroitness As a piece of scholarship this is a breathtaking tour de force Mary Luckhurst New Theatre Quarterly

Mudrooroo Maureen Clark, 2007 Mudrooroo A Likely Story reads the fiction of one of Australia's most controversial and enigmatic literary figures against the backdrop of the likelihood that he assumed an Aboriginal identity to which he was not entitled As he is neither black nor white Colin Johnson aka a Mudrooroo writes on issues of identity and belonging from the position of an outsider The book argues that the experimental nature of Johnson's creative body of work coupled with the complexities of his in between status mean that both the man and his writing evade neat categorisation within mainstream literary criticism Also examined here is how the denial of his white mother impacts upon the gender politics of Johnson's fiction in a way that opens up exciting new possibilities for critical comment and textual analysis Back cover
