The Berlin Raids Martin Middlebrook, 2010-07-12 A meticulously documented account that covers the RAF s controversial attempt to end World War II by the aerial bombing of Berlin Kirkus Reviews The Battle of Berlin was the longest and most sustained bombing offensive against one target in the Second World War Bomber Command Commander in Chief Sir Arthur Harris hoped to wreak Berlin from end to end and produce a state of devastation in which German surrender was inevitable He dispatched nineteen major raids between August 1943 and March 1944 more than ten thousand aircraft sorties dropped over thirty thousand tons of bombs on Berlin It was the RAF s supreme effort to end the war by aerial bombing But Berlin was not destroyed and the RAF lost more than six hundred aircraft and their crews The controversy over whether the Battle of Berlin was a success or failure has continued ever since Martin Middlebrook brings to this subject considerable experience as a military historian In preparing his material he collected documents from both sides many of the German ones never before used he has also interviewed and corresponded with over four hundred of the people involved in the battle and has made trips to Germany to interview the people of Berlin and Luftwaffe aircrews He has achieved the difficult task of bringing together both sides of the Battle of Berlin the bombing force and the people on the ground to tell a coherent single story His straightforward narrative covers the 19 major raids with a detailed description of three in particular and includes recollections by British and German airmen as well as German civilians who weathered the storm Publishers Weekly     'Gardening by Moonlight' Peter Káák, David Gunby, 2016-12-20 205 Group RAF mining operations over the River Danube in 1944 The product of research in British Australian South African German Hungarian and Slovak archives Gardening by Moonlight is about one of the least known and most effective of the Royal Air Force s bombing campaigns of the Second World War Operating from a group of bases around Foggia in Central Italy the RAF s 205 Group mined the River Danube intensively between April and October 1944 radically curtailing the movement of Axis river shipping and at times halting it altogether The Wellington and Liberator crews had to sow their mines hence the slang term gardening at low level on moonlit nights running the gauntlet of night fighters flak and balloon barrages Their courage skill and sacrifice are celebrated in what is an important account of a virtually unknown aspect of the war in the air     The Ruhr 1943 Richard Worrall, 2021-10-28 This illustrated study explores in detail the RAF s first concentrated air campaign of World War II against one of the hardest and most important targets in Germany the industrial heartland of the Ruhr that kept Hitler s war machine running Between March and July 1943 RAF Bomber Command undertook its first concentrated bombing campaign the Battle of the Ruhr whose aim was nothing less than the complete destruction of the industry that powered the German war machine Often overshadowed by the famous Dambusters single raid attack on the Ruhr dams the Battle of the Ruhr proved much larger and much more complex The mighty industrial Ruhr region contained not only some of the most famous and important arms makers such as the gunmakers Krupp of Essen but also many other industries that the German war economy relied on from steelmakers to synthetic oil plants Being such a valuable target the Ruhr was one of the most heavily defended regions in Europe This book examines how the brutal Ruhr campaign was conceived and fought and how Bomber Command s relentless pursuit of its objective drew it into raids on targets well beyond the Ruhr from the nearby city of Cologne to the Skoda works in Czechoslovakia Drawing on a wide range of primary and secondary sources this is the story of the first titanic struggle in the skies over Germany between RAF Bomber Command and the Luftwaffe     Index to Records of the United States Strategic Bombing Survey United States Strategic Bombing Survey, 1947
