Rational Ancestors Scientific Rationality And African Indigenous Religions:

Rational Ancestors James Leland Cox, 1998 This text explores the ways in which science as a confession of faith interacts with the faith of indigenous Africans to produce a horizon of understanding Part One contains the author's own analyses and application of theories relevant to the study of African indigenous religions Parts Two and Three are comprised of edited versions of the oral literature and ritual descriptions obtained by phenomenology students in the University of Zimbabwe in 1991 and 1992

Critical Reflections on Indigenous Religions James L. Cox, 2016-04-22 The study of indigenous religions has become an important academic field particularly since the religious practices of indigenous peoples are being transformed by forces of globalization and transcontinental migration This book will further our understanding of indigenous religions by first considering key methodological issues related to defining and contextualizing the religious practices of indigenous societies both historically and in socio cultural situations Two further sections of the book analyse cases derived from European contexts which are often overlooked in discussion of indigenous religions and in two traditional areas of study South America and Africa

A Phenomenology of Indigenous Religions James L. Cox, 2022-02-24 This book compiles James L Cox's most important writings on a phenomenology of Indigenous Religions into one volume with a new introduction and conclusion by the author Cox has consistently exemplified phenomenological methods by applying them to his own field studies among Indigenous Religions principally in Zimbabwe and Alaska but also in Australia and New Zealand Included in this collection are his articles in which he defines what he means by the category religion and how this informs his precise meaning of the classification Indigenous Religions These theoretical considerations are always illustrated clearly and concisely by specific studies of Indigenous Religions and their dynamic interaction with contemporary political and social circumstances This collection demonstrates the continued relevance of the phenomenological method in the study of religions by presenting the method as dynamic and adaptable to contemporary social contexts and as responsive to intellectual critiques of the method

Karanga Indigenous Religion in Zimbabwe Tabona Shoko, 2016-04-22 Tabona Shoko contends that religion and healing are intricately intertwined in African religions This book on the religion of the Karanga people of Zimbabwe sheds light on important methodological issues relevant to research in the study of African religions Analysing the traditional Karanga views of the causes of illness and disease mechanisms of diagnosis at their disposal and the methods they use to restore health Shoko discusses the views of a specific African Independent Church of the Apostolic tradition The conclusion Shoko reaches about the central religious concerns of the Karanga people is derived from detailed field research consisting of interviews and participant observation This book testifies that the centrality of health and well being is not only confined to traditional religion but reflects its adaptive potential in new religious systems manifest in the phenomenon of Independent Churches Rather than succumbing to the folly of static generalizations Tabona Shoko offers important insights into a particular society upon which theories can be reassessed adding new dimensions to modern features of the religious scene in Africa

African Pilgrimage Retief Müller, 2016-04-01 Years after the end of Apartheid South Africa remains racially polarized and socially divided In this context pilgrimage and travelling rituals serve to help those who often find themselves at the bottom end of the social ladder to make sense of their world This book describes a South Africa that is made up of a number of different fragmented worlds The focus is on the Zion Christian Church one of the largest religious movements in southern Africa and a good example of indigenized African Christianity Pilgrimage plays an important role in reintegrating some of those fragmented worlds into something approaching wholeness This book tells the story of how the enduring ritual of pilgrimage is transforming African religion along with the lives of ordinary South Africans

The Politics of the Dead in Zimbabwe, 2000-2020 Joost Fontein, 2022 Innovative and challenging study that provides fresh insights on the anthropology of death and postcolonial politics In 1898 just before she was hanged for rebelling against colonial rule Charwe Nyakasikana spirit medium of the legendary ancestor Ambuya Nehanda famously prophesised that my bones will rise again A century later bones bodies and human remains have come to occupy an increasingly complex place in Zimbabwe s postcolonial milieu From ancestral bones rising again in the struggle for independence and later land to resurfacing bones of unsettled wardead and from the troubling decaying remains of post independence gukurahundi massacres to the leaky tortured bodies of recent election violence human materials are intertwined in postcolonial politics in ways that go far beyond yet necessarily implicate contests over memory commemoration and the representation of the past In this book Joost Fontein examines the complexities of human remains in Zimbabwe s politics of the dead Challenging and innovative he takes us beyond current scholarship on memory commemoration and the changing significance of traditional death practices to examine the political implications of human remains as material substances as duplicitous rumours and as returning spirits Linking the indeterminacy of human substances to the productive but precarious uncertainties of rumours and spirits the book points to how the incompleteness of death is politically productive and ultimately derives from the problematic entangled excessivities of human material and immaterial existence and is deeply intertwined with the stylistics of postcolonial power and politics Joost Fontein is Professor of Anthropology University of Johannesburg He was previously Director of the British Institute in Eastern Africa and Lecturer in Social Anthropology at the University of Edinburgh His books include Remaking Mutirikwi Landscape Water and Belonging James Currey 2015 shortlisted for the African Studies Association 2016 Herskovits Prize Southern Africa South Africa Namibia Lesotho Swaziland and Botswana University of Johannesburg Press Alternative Voices Oliver Freiburger, Magnus Echter, Afe Adogame, 2013-07-17 When scholarship presents the histories belief systems and ritual patterns of specific religious groups it often privileges victorious and lite fractions of those communities to the detriment and neglect of alternative dissonant and resurgent voices The contributions in this volume which include case studies on various religious and academic contexts illustrate the importance of listening to those alternative voices for the study of religion

Shamanism Graham Harvey, 2003 This is an essential tribute to the vitality and breadth of shamanic tradition both amongst the most distant tribes of America and Asia and within seemingly ordinary aspects of modern western culture
