Acquisitions Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 1986      Italian Renaissance and Baroque Bronzes in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Denise Allen, Linda Borsch, James David Draper, Jeffrey Fraiman, Richard E. he revival of the bronze statuette popular in classical antiquity stands out as an enduring achievement of the Italian Renaissance. These small sculptures attest to early modern artists' technical prowess, ingenuity, and desire to emulate or even surpass the ancients. From the studioli or private studies of humanist scholars in fifteenth-century Padua to the Fifth Avenue apartments of Gilded Age collectors, viewers have delighted in the mysteries of these objects: how they were made, what they depicted, who made them, and when. This catalogue is the first systematic study of The Metropolitan Museum of Art's European Sculpture and Decorative Arts collection of Italian bronzes. The collection includes statuettes of single mythological or religious figures, complex figural groups, portrait busts, reliefs, utilitarian objects like lamps and inkwells, and more. Stunning new photography of celebrated masterpieces by leading artists such as Antico Riccio and Giambologna, enigmatic bronzes that continue to perplex, quotidian objects, later casts, replicas, and even forgeries show the importance of each work in this complex field. International scholars provide in-depth discussions of 200 objects included in this volume, revealing new attributions and dating for many bronzes. An Appendix presents some 100 more, complete with provenance and references. An essay by Jeffrey Fraiman provides further insight into Italian bronze statuettes in America, with a focus on the history of The Met's collection, and Richard E. Stone, who pioneered the technical study of bronzes, contributes an indispensable text on how artists created these works and what their process conveys about the object's maker. A personal reminiscence by James David Draper, who oversaw the Italian sculpture collection for decades, rounds out this landmark catalogue that synthesizes decades of research on these beloved and complex works of art.

The Art of Vase-Painting in Classical Athens Martin Robertson, 1992. In his new book, Professor Martin Robertson, author of A History of Greek Art (CUP 1975) and A Shorter History of Greek Art (CUP 1981), draws together the results of a lifetime's study of Greek vase painting, tracing the history of figure drawing on Athenian pottery from the invention of the red-figure technique in the later archaic period to the abandonment of figured vase decoration two hundred years later. The book covers red-figure and also work produced over the same period in the same workshops in black-figure and other techniques, especially that of drawing in outline on a white ground. The book is intended as a companion volume to Sir John Beazley's The Development of Attic Black-figure, originally published in 1951 by California University Press, and as an examination and defence of Beazley's methods and achievements. This book is a major contribution to the history of Greek vase painting, and anyone seriously interested in the subject, whether scholar, student, curator, collector, or amateur, will find it essential reading.
