Sean P. Murray, Lee's Summit. Fire Department,1991 Over the years the fire service has attempted to research and develop ways to reduce loss of life and property due to residential fires One of the most common and well publicized is the installation of smoke detectors in the residence While other ideas and methods to reduce loss of life and property have been introduced to the general public the most unfamiliar and possibly the most effective way to achieve this goal is residential fire sprinklers The author through article research was able to provide accurate information that should be helpful in educating the general public as well as members in the fire service on exactly what is a residential sprinkler system Public Opinion Concerning Residential Sprinkler Systems for 1- and 2-family Homes Shannon Frattaroli,2015 BACKGROUND Residential sprinkler systems RSS are one intervention to prevent fire injury and death yet there is no literature documenting why RSS homeowners opt to purchase a sprinkler equipped home This manuscript describes homeowners decisions to purchase homes with residential sprinkler systems RSS and their experiences with the technology It also compares how RSS homeowners and owners of homes without RSS value sprinklers and their levels of support for policies to mandate RSS in new homes METHODS We used a national online web panel to sample owners of 1 and 2 family homes and descriptive methods to analyze the resulting data RESULTS Our final sample included 1 357 homeowners of 1 and 2 family homes without RSS and 976 homeowners with RSS RSS homeowners were more likely than owners of non RSS homes to indicate they would buy an RSS home in the future 75 % vs 30 % and more often indicated a willingness to pay for sprinklers 70 % vs 40 % RSS homeowners also expressed higher levels of support for policies to mandate RSS in all new 1 and 2 family homes 48 % vs 19 % CONCLUSIONS The findings offer insight into educational and policy strategies to promote RSS in all new homes and provide a foundation for future research in this area
