Expanding Disciplinary Space: On the Potential of Critical Marketing Douglas Brownlie,Paul Hewer,Mark Tadajewski,2014-10-14 Expanding disciplinary Space On the Potential of Critical Marketing provides an introduction to the major perspectives in critical marketing studies

It contains theoretical reflections on critical marketing whilst building on the key concepts and ideas which are vital to the subject through detailed empirical studies. An international collection of marketing experts discuss the eclectic character and potential of the critical turn within marketing theory and practice. Chapters explore topics such as marketing academia, consumer research, political marketing, marketing ethics, postcolonial epistemic ideology in marketing, marketing theory and marketing for community development. The text is essential reading for all those interested in contemporary developments in marketing theory and practice irrespective of the discipline from which they originate. This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Marketing Management.

The Routledge Companion to Ethics, Politics and Organizations Alison Pullen, Carl Rhodes, 2015-06-05. The Routledge Companion to Ethics, Politics and Organizations synthesizes and extends existing research on ethics in organizations by explicitly focusing on ethico-politics where ethics informs political action. It draws connections between ethics and politics in and around organizations and the workplace, examines cutting edge areas and sets the scene for future research. Through a wealth of international and multidisciplinary contributions, this volume considers the broad range of ways in which ethics and politics can be conceived and understood. The chapters look at various ethical traditions as well as the discursive deployment of ethical terminology in organizational settings and they also examine large scale political structures and processes and how they relate to different forms of politics which affect behaviour in organizations. These many possibilities are united by a focus on how ethics can be used to inform and justify the exercise of power in organizations. This collection will be a valuable reference source for students and researchers across the disciplines of organizational studies, ethics and politics.

Marketing Technologies Elena Simakova, 2013-05-07. Global corporations initiate, join and maintain socio-technological change and hence alter the ways in which we organize our lives. Demanding significant investment of resources and time, the development and implementation of new technologies on different levels must take into consideration these subtle processes. As such, it is particularly important that we have a greater insight into the practices of hi-tech corporations in view of the often inflated promises of and concerns about the destiny of technological breakthroughs, especially those promising sizeable economic outcomes and societal transformation. Elena Simakova undertook a lengthy ethnographic study working alongside marketing managers in a global IT corporation in their Europe, Middle East and Africa (EMEA) headquarters in the UK. Using the experience gained through a close participation in their everyday corporate rituals and routines, her account challenges common perceptions of how corporations make the world think and act with regard to technologies in particular ways. The book contains an interesting case study on the launch of a radio frequency identification (RFID) based solution. Unravelling the construction of expectations, inclusions and exclusions around emerging technologies, this reflexive account also tackles uneasy practical and methodological questions pertinent to corporate ethnography. This book is an essential read for scholars in science and technology studies, economic sociology, anthropology, as well as management and organizational studies and research policy.

Organising Music Nic Beech, Charlotte Gilmore, 2015-02-05 Organisational theorists have become increasingly interested in the creative industries where practices that are commonplace are of particular interest to organisations in other sectors as they look for new ways to enhance performance Focusing on the music industry this book sets up a unique dialogue between leading organisational theorists and music professionals Part I explores links between organisation theory and the creative industries literature concentrating on practices of organising and knowledge mobilisation followed by an in depth discussion of key theoretical concepts by subject experts Part II provides a diverse range of tales from the field including examples from classical orchestras folk indie and punk The concluding chapter examines the shared dialogue to reveal what practice in the musical field can learn from organisational theory and vice versa This innovative book will interest graduate students and researchers in the fields of organisation studies music management and the creative industries

Marketing the Arts Finola Kerrigan, 2010-04-27 In recent years there have been significant shifts in arts marketing both as a practice and an academic discipline The relationship between art and the market is increasingly complex and dynamic requiring a transformation in the way the arts are marketed Marketing the Arts argues that arts marketing is not about the simple application of mainstream managerial marketing to the arts With contributions from international scholars of marketing and consumer studies this book engages directly with a range of contemporary themes including The importance of arts consumption and its social dimensions The importance of the aesthetic experience itself and how to research it Arts policy development The art versus commerce debate The role of the arts marketer as market maker The artist as brand or entrepreneur This exciting new book covers topics as diverse as Damien Hirst's For the Love of God Liverpool's brand makeover Manga scanlation Gob Squad Surrealism Bluegrass music Miles Davis and Andy Warhol and is sure to enthuse students and enlighten practitioners The SAGE Handbook of Social Marketing Gerard Hastings, Kathryn Angus, Carol Bryant, 2011-11-15 For the first time this benchmark handbook brings together a systematic framework and state of the art thinking to provide complete coverage of the social marketing discipline It presents a major retrospective and prospective overview of social marketing helping to define and shape its current and future developments by examining the defining elements of social marketing their intellectual origins evolution current status and direction of travel discussing how these have been used in practice emphasising emerging areas and recent innovations and setting the agenda for future research and development in the discipline For academics this book will fill the gap in comprehensive social marketing literature while being of interest to policymakers and post graduate marketing and health studies students alike as it explores the idea that tools used to market fast moving consumer goods and financial services can also be applied to pressing social problems Marketing - The Retro Revolution Stephen Brown, 2001-06-07 the finest writer in our field today Journal of Marketing the great heretic Retrospectives in Marketing the most devastating critic of the academic discipline of marketing ever likely to be encountered Service Industries Journal a jewel in the crown of the academic marketing establishment Marketing Intelligence and Planning remarkably entertaining Public Library Journal dazzling erudition European Journal of Marketing instant classic Journal of Marketing Management Has marketing moved from new and improved to as good as always Is old the new new Retro marketing is all around us whether it be retro products like the neo Beetle retro scapes such as Niketown or retro advertising campaigns which make the most of the advertiser's glorious heritage The rise of retro has led many to conclude that it represents the end of marketing that it is indicative of inertia ossification and the waning of creativity Marketing The Retro Revolution explains why the opposite is the case demonstrating that retro orientation is a harbinger of change and a revolution in marketing thinking In his engaging and lively style Stephen Brown shows that the implications of today's retro revolution are much more profound than the existing literature suggests He argues that just as retro marketing practitioners are looking to the past for inspiration so students consultants and academics should seek to do likewise History reveals that new ideas often come wrapped in old packaging Marketing the Retro Revolution unwraps this retro package and in doing so offers radically new ideas for the future of the field Online Brand Communities: Value Creating Capabilities of Brand Communities on Facebook Bastian Bakeberg, 2016-05 This study examines how online brand communities create value through social practices Building on the work of Schau et al 2009 this study utilizes a netnographic approach and qualitatively investigates how Facebook brand Fan Pages are employed as brand community resources to alleviate ties between members in the community and to establish consumer brand relationships Following four value creating practices are discovered exchanging brand narratives celebrating brand love support and information resource and pressure valve for discontent It is found that interaction among community members and engagement with the brand itself develop practices creating value on Fan Pages Postmodern consumers want to be able to influence brands and also long for connections with other consumers besides relationships are shaped by dialogue and interaction Facebook Fan Pages offer means to achieve this and allow brands to become part of consumers lives This study extends research on brand communities and the findings enhance understanding why how consumers engage online with brands and other members

Navigating the Shifting Landscape of Consumer Behavior Sahin, Fatih, Soylemez, Cevat, 2024-02-07 The marketing world is transforming in this era of unprecedented technological advancement changing consumer tastes and evolving social norms As information flows freely and brand loyalty becomes a coveted prize understanding what motivates consumers to choose one brand over another is paramount Navigating the Shifting Landscape of Consumer Behavior is an authoritative exploration of the dynamic interplay between consumers brands and the evolving digital environment This book dives into the contemporary consumer behavior The narrative reveals the phenomenon of brand activism as a significant force reshaping the marketing battlefield No longer content to remain apolitical brands are increasingly taking stances on pressing social and environmental issues The book critically examines the dynamics of successful brand activism and explores customer reactions to companies championing social causes The book incorporates real world examples and practical tactics making it an invaluable resource for marketing scholars researchers professionals educators and graduate students
