Goodhue,2013-09 This historic book may have numerous typos and missing text Purchasers can usually download a free scanned copy of the original book without typos from the publisher Not indexed Not illustrated 1892 edition Excerpt CHAPTER THE FOURTH CONCERNING POLITICS AND THE PEOPLE In our northern houses the general requirement is gorgeousness not to say giddiness of exterior with plenty of big plate glass windows and no wall spaces whatever together with a certain parvenu degree of comfort within which unfortunately does not as yet seem compatible with true beauty but the Mexican scorns all this and his first requisite seems to be not gorgeousness so much as an effect of picturesqueness without this is certainly very kind of him as it appeals much more to the wayfarer than to the S dweller within Nearly all the poorer class habitations are in reality little more than one or two rectangular boxes of varying size placed one against another Not so very picturesque a description you say Well in a measure you are right and yet the peons for they never employ an architect for such buildings as these of course seem to have just that innate sense of what goes to make true beauty that never errs while one trained in such matters might waste days or weeks in straining after effects which they arrive at almost unconsciously Why the meanest one of them will throw his zarape or shawllike blanket over his shoulder at just such an angle and proportion of length and with such regard for color combination as to render him irresistible to the artist Mr F Hopkinson Smith has portrayed him so cleverly that it seems daring indeed to add one line and yet I cannot resist introducing a sketch of one of my friends here Perhaps he isn t handsome according to the canons which obtain with us and yet this may be the fault of the drawing added to the untranslatability of some of his most glowing characteristics the humorous sparkle of his black

Lost Architecture of the Rio Grande Borderlands W. Eugene George, 2008-06-24 Mexican settlers first came to the valley of the Rio Grande to establish their ranchos in the 1750s Two centuries later the Great River dammed in an international effort by the U S and Mexican governments to provide flood control and a more dependable water supply inundated twelve settlements that had been built there Under the waters of the new Falc n Reservoir lay homes businesses churches and cemeteries abandoned by residents on both sides of the river when the floods of 1953 filled the 115 000 acre area two years ahead of schedule The Smithsonian Institution the National Park Service and the University of Texas at Austin conducted an initial survey of the communities lost to the Falc n Reservoir but these studies were never completed or fully reported When architect W Eugene George came to the area in the 1960s he found a way of life waiting to be preserved in words photographs and drawings Two subsequent recessions of the reservoir in 1983 86 and again in 1996 98 gave George new access to one of the settlements Guerrero Viejo in Mexico Unfortunately the receding lake waters also made the village accessible to looters George s work then was crucial in documenting the indigenous architecture of these villages both as it existed prior to the flooding and as it remained before it was despoiled by vandals hands Lost Architecture of the Rio Grande Borderlands combines George s original 1975 Texas Historical Commission report with the information he gleaned during the two low water periods This handsome extended photographic essay casts new light on the architecture and lives of the people of the Texas Mexico borderlands Women of the Upper Rio Grande Laura McClenny, 2011-01-01
