Steane,2014 Science and religious faith are two of the most important and influential forces in human life yet there is widespread confusion about how or indeed whether they link together This book describes this combination from the perspective of one who finds that they link together productively and creatively The situation is not one of conflict or uneasy tension or even a respectful dialogue Rather a lively and well founded faith in God embraces and includes science and scientific ways of thinking in their proper role Science is an activity right in the bloodstream of a reasonable faith The book interprets theism broadly and engages carefully with atheism while coming from a Christian perspective The aim is to show what science is and what it is not and at the same time give some pointers to what theism is or can be Philosophy evolution and the nature of science and human life are discussed in the first part of the book questions of origins in the second It is the very mind set of scientific thinking that is widely supposed to be antagonistic to religious faith But such suspicions are too sweeping They misunderstand both faith and science Faith can be creative and intellectually courageous science is not the all embracing story that it is sometimes made out to be It is not that science fails to explain some things but rather it does not explain anything at all on its own It is part of a larger explanation And even explanation has to take a humble place it is not the purpose of life How to Relate Science and Religion Mikael Stenmark,2004-10-19 Stenmark philosophy of religion Uppsala University Sweden replaces the paradigm of science and religion as opposing perspectives with a conciliatory model He lays out the central issues of the debate between these two powerful cultural forces and shows what is at stake for the advancement of human knowledge then demonstrates how science and religion interface

Science, Religion and Reality Joseph Needham, 1925 Is God a Scientist? R. Crawford, 2004-10-01

The scriptures of the Faiths use models to depict what God is like namely Father Mother Husband Judge Lover Friend shepherd and so on Science also uses models to advance its knowledge and in a scientific age a model of God as the Cosmic Scientist interacting with the traditional could communicate well It would imply that the world is a laboratory created by God in order to test whether humanity will obey his laws and live up to the values which he embraces Using material drawn from science and six world faiths the book shows the difference and similarity between divine and human experiments and argues that God will bring the experiment to a successful conclusion

Science, Religion, and the Meaning of Life M. Vernon, 2006-11-07 Have evolution science and the trappings of the modern world killed off God irrevocably And what do we lose if we choose not to believe in him From Newton and Descartes to Darwin and the discovery of the genome religion has been pushed back further and further while science has gained ground But what fills the void that religion leaves behind This book is an attempt to look at these questions and to suggest a third way between the easy consolations of religion and the persuasive force of science that the everyday modern reader can engage with
