Lancaster, 2024-12-12 A house of secrets an impossible attraction On a personal quest Constance Silver who runs Mayfair's most exclusive brothel has lied her way into Greenforth Manor home of respectable and charismatic provincial banker Walter Winsom She feels quite safe from recognition until Solomon Grey joins the party Aloof and strangely exciting Solomon is one of the wealthiest men in London so what does he want with any of the small players gathered at Greenforth More immediately will he give Constance away He saved her life once with most disturbing effects on her and she is still magnetically drawn to him But he is one of the few men she cannot read or influence When they discover their host's murdered body together they have to overcome distrust of each other to investigate Everyone in the house seems to have had both motive and opportunity to kill him so Constance and Solomon must uncover many secrets and set a dangerous trap in order to reach the truth But is the murderer one step ahead of them And if they both survive will they part forever

Physics and the Modernist Avant-Garde Rachel Fountain Eames, 2023-02-09 Developing a reading of modernist poetics centred on the three-way relationship between literature modern physics and avant-garde art movements this book focuses on four key poets William Carlos Williams Mina Loy the Baroness Elsa von Freytag Loringhoven and Wallace Stevens whose lives crossed paths in 20th-century New York This book explores how modernist art movements have shaped these writers thinking about physics in relation to their work demonstrating how science's new ideas about measurement and how to visualize material reality provoked innovative poetic forms and images From Einstein's visit to New York City in 1921 to the impact of the atomic bomb the author traces the flow of ideas about physics through culture linking the new physics with modern approaches to art found in Cubism Futurism Dada and Surrealism The Last Word Justin Gautreau, 2021 The Last Word argues that the Hollywood novel opened up space for cultural critique of the film industry at a time when the industry lacked the capacity to critique itself While the young studio system worked tirelessly to burnish its public image in the wake of celebrity scandal several industry insiders wrote fiction to fill in what newspapers and fan magazines left out Throughout the 1920s and 1930s these novels aimed to expose the invisible machinery of classical Hollywood cinema including not only the evolving artifice of the screen but also the promotional discourse that complemented it As likeminded filmmakers in the 1940s and 1950s gradually brought the dark side of the industry to the screen however the Hollywood novel found itself struggling to live up to its original promise of delivering the unfilmable By the 1960s desperate to remain relevant the genre had devolved into little more than erotic fantasy of movie stars behind closed doors perhaps the only thing the public couldn't already find elsewhere Still given their unique ability to speak beyond the institutional restraints of their time these earlier works offer a window into the industry's dynamic creation and re-creation of itself in the public imagination Reruns on File Donald G. Godfrey, 2013-09-13 For more than half a century broadcast recordings have reflected an important aspect of our culture and history An increasing number of archivists and private collectors have restored and exchanged radio and television materials However despite the awareness of these primary resource materials there is still some reluctance to utilize this aural and visual history resource A part of this reluctance is due to the fact that little is known about the existence of many collections throughout the nation This volume provides a comprehensive directory of electronic media archives in the United States and Canada It describes each collection focusing on its speciality providing the serious researcher with ready access information to these electronic media program resources Focusing on both private and institutional collections it is organized by state and city with indexes to provide the scholar with subject and location of specific topics of interest
