Real Questions For Parents Real Questions:

Toddler and Parent Interaction Anna Filipi, 2009-12-17 This book provides a microanalysis of the interactions between four children and their parents starting when the children were aged 9 to 13 months and ending when they were 18 months old. It tracks development as an issue for and of interaction. In so doing it uncovers the details of the organisation of the sequence structure of the interactions and exposes the workings of language and social development as they unfold in everyday activities. The study begins with a description of pre verbal children's sequences of action and then tracks those sequences as linguistic ability increases. The analysis reveals a developing richness and complexity of the sequence structure and exposes a gap in Child Language studies that focus on the children's and their carers' actions in isolation from their sequential environment. By focusing on the initiating actions of both child and parent and the response to those actions and by capturing the details of how both verbal and nonverbal actions are organised in the larger sequences of talk a more complete picture emerges of how adept the young child is at co creating meaning in highly organised ways well before words start to surface. The study also uncovers pursuit of a response and orientation to insufficiency and adequacy of response as defining characteristics of these early interactions.

Methods for the Ethnography of Communication Judith Kaplan-Weinger, 2024-12-06 Methods for the Ethnography of Communication is a guide to conducting ethnographic research in classroom and community settings that introduces students to the field of ethnography of communication and takes them through the recursive and nonlinear cycle of ethnographic research. This brand new edition includes the most up to date research with the authors introducing the innovative CULTURES framework to provide a helpful structure for moving through the complex process of collecting and analyzing ethnographic data and address the larger how to questions that students struggle with during ethnographic research. Exercises and activities help students make the connection between communicative events, acts and situations and ways of studying them ethnographically. Integrating a primary focus on language in use within an ethnographic framework makes this book an invaluable core text for courses on ethnography of communication and related areas in a variety of disciplines.

20 Things Adoptive Parents Need to Succeed Sherrie Eldridge, 2009-10-27 Do I have what it takes to be a successful adoptive parent? Does my child consider me a successful parent? Will I ever hear my rebellious teen say I love you? What tools do I need to succeed? In her groundbreaking first book Twenty Things Adopted Kids Wish Their Adoptive Parents Knew Sherrie Eldridge gave voice to the very real concerns of adopted children whose unique perspectives offered unprecedented insight. In this all new companion volume Eldridge goes beyond those insights and shifts her focus to parents offering them much needed encouragement and hope. Speaking from her own experience as an adoptee and an expert in the field of adoption Eldridge shares proven strategies and the moving narratives of nearly one hundred adoptive families helping parents gain a deeper understanding of what is normal both for their children and themselves.
