The Reception of Ossian in Europe Howard Gaskill, 2004-12-01 James Macpherson's Poems of Ossian said to be translations from the Gaelic of a third century bard caused a sensation on their first appearance in the early 1760s. Contrary to the impression often conveyed in literary histories enthusiasm for the poetry of the Homer of the North cannot be dismissed as a short lived fad for its appeal lasted a century or more both at home and abroad. There is hardly a major Romantic poet on whom it failed to make a significant impact. In the words of Sir Walter Scott it succeeded in giving a new tone to poetry throughout all Europe and its influence was ubiquitous from Poland to Portugal from Paris to Prague. The essays brought together here consider the reception of Ossian in England Scotland Wales and Ireland as well as in a wide range of European countries. In some the focus is on individual writers for instance Goethe Schiller Chateaubriand Espronceda in others there is a broader sweep and a survey of reception in a national literary culture is offered for instance Hungary Russia Sweden. One of the two essays on Ossian in Italy at last gives Macpherson's influential epigone John Smith his due. Consideration is also given to Ossian's significance for the rise of historicism and to non literary forms of reception in music and art. Folklore and Nationalism in Europe During the Long Nineteenth Century, 2012-07-25 The growth of nations national ideologies and the accompanying quest for the authentic among the people has been a subject of enquiry for many disciplines. Building upon wide ranging scholarship this interdisciplinary study seeks to analyse the place of folklore in the long nineteenth century throughout Europe as an important symbol in the growth and development of nations and nationalism and in particular to see how combining perspectives from History Literary Studies Music and Architecture can help provide enhanced and refreshing perspectives on the complex process of nation building. With a range of detailed case studies drawing upon archival literary visual and musical sources as well as material culture it raises questions about individual countries but also about links and similarities across Europe

The Czech Manuscripts David L. Cooper, 2023-10-15 The Czech Manuscripts is dedicated to one of the most important literary forgeries on the model of Macpherson's Ossianic poetry The Queen's Court and Green Mountain Manuscripts discovered in 1817 and 1818 went on to play an outsized role in the Czech National Revival functioning as founding texts of the national mythology and serving as sacred works in the long period when they were considered genuine A successful literary forgery tells a lot about what a culture wants and needs at a particular moment One fascinating aspect of this story is how a successful fake was able to function in an integral way as part of the Czech cultural revival of the nineteenth century both because it played to expectations and nationalist values and because it met real cultural needs in many ways better than genuine historical literary works and artefacts Also fascinating is the vainglorious Vclav Hanka a prolific and dedicated forger who was likely the center of the conspiratorial ring that created the manuscripts and who went on as the librarian of the Czech National Museum to alter a number of others David Cooper analyzes what made the Manuscripts a convincing imitation of their Serbian and Russian models He looks at how translation shaped their composition and at the benefit of examining them as pseudotranslations and investigates the quasi religious rituals and commemorative practices that developed around them The Czech Manuscripts brings the Czech experience into the broader developments of European history

The Riddle of the Rosetta Jed Z. Buchwald, Diane Greco Josefowicz, 2022-05-24 A major new history of the race between two geniuses to decipher ancient Egyptian hieroglyphs set against the backdrop of nineteenth century Europe In 1799 a French Army officer was rebuilding the defenses of a fort on the banks of the Nile when he discovered an ancient stele fragment bearing a decree inscribed in three different scripts So begins one of the most familiar tales in Egyptology that of the Rosetta Stone and the decipherment of Egyptian hieroglyphs This book draws on fresh archival evidence to provide a major new account of how the English polymath Thomas Young and the French philologist Jean François Champollion vied to be the first to solve the riddle of the Rosetta Jed Buchwald and Diane Greco Josefowicz bring to life a bygone age of intellectual adventure Much more than a decoding exercise centered on a single artifact the race to decipher the Rosetta Stone reflected broader disputes about language historical evidence biblical truth and the value of classical learning Buchwald and Josefowicz paint compelling portraits of Young and Champollion two gifted intellects with altogether different motivations Young disdained Egyptian culture and saw Egyptian writing as a means to greater knowledge about Greco Roman antiquity Champollion swept up in the political chaos of Restoration France and fiercely opposed to the scholars aligned with throne and altar admired ancient Egypt and was prepared to upend conventional wisdom to solve the mystery of the hieroglyphs Taking readers from the hushed lecture rooms of the Institut de France to the windswept monuments of the Valley of the Kings The Riddle of the Rosetta reveals the untold story behind one of the nineteenth century's most thrilling discoveries

The Antiquarians of the Nation Francesca Zantedeschi, 2019-01-03 In the nineteenth century the search for the artistic architectural and written monuments promoted by the French State with the aim to build a unified nation transcending regional specificities also fostered the development of local or regional identity consciousness In Roussillon this distinctive consciousness relied on a basically cultural concept of nation epitomised mainly by the Catalan language Roussillon being composed of Catalan counties annexed to France in 1659 In The Antiquarians of the Nation Francesca Zantedeschi explores how the works of Roussillon's archaeologists and philologists who retrieved and enhanced the Catalan specificities of the region contributed to the early stages of a national Catalan cultural revival and galvanised the implicit debate between French national history and incipient regional studies

Texts in Multiple Versions Luigi Giuliani, Herman Brinkman, Geert Lernout, Marita Mathijssen, 2006 Texts in multiple versions constitute the core problem of textual scholarship For texts from antiquity and the medieval period the many versions may be the result of manuscript transmission requiring editors and readers to discriminate between levels of authority in variant readings produced along the chain of copying For texts of all periods and particularly for more modern authors there may also be multiple authorial versions These are of particular importance for genetic criticism as they offer a window on the author's thinking through the developing work The different contexts in which multiple versions may occur different languages different genres different cultures ranging in this collection from ancient Greek texts to novels by Cervantes and Aub dramatic texts from Portugal and Germany poetry from The Netherlands and Lithuania scientific texts from the 19th century provide further layers of complexity The histories of countries are reflected in the histories of editing In Europe this can be seen particularly in the great period of nation building of the 19th century Essays in this volume survey editorial activity in The Netherlands Belgium and Germany in the nineteenth century concluding that nation building and scholarly editing are twinned As a nation searches for its own identity textual scholarship is pressed into service to find and edit the texts on which to establish that identity The two strands of this volume multiple versions of texts editions and national histories testify to the centrality of textual editing to many fields of research There is material here for literary scholars historians and for readers interested in texts from Ancient Greece to modernist classics

Barlow, 2023 Modern Irish and Scottish Literature Connections Contrasts Celticisms explores the ways Irish and Scottish literatures have influenced each other from the 1760s onwards. Although an early form of Celticism disappeared with the demise of the Celtic Revivals of Ireland and Scotland, the Celtic world and the Celtic temperament remained key themes in central texts of Irish and Scottish literature well into the twentieth century. Richard Barlow examines the emergence, development, and transformation of Celticism within Irish and Scottish writing and identifies key connections between modern Irish and Scottish authors and texts. By reading works from figures such as James Macpherson, Walter Scott, Sydney Owenson, Augusta Gregory, W. B. Yeats, Fiona Macleod, James Joyce, Samuel Beckett, Hugh MacDiarmid, Sorley MacLean, and Seamus Heaney in their political and cultural contexts, Barlow provides a new account of the characteristics and phases of literary Celticism within Romanticism, Modernism, and beyond.

Counterfactual Romanticism Damian Walford

Davies, 2019-09-18 Innovatively extending counterfactual thought experiments from history and the social sciences to literary historiography: criticism and theory. Counterfactual Romanticism reveals the ways in which the shapes of Romanticism are conditioned by that which did not come to pass. Exploring various modalities of counterfactual speculation and inquiry across a range of Romantic period authors, genres, and concerns, this collection offers a radical new purchase on literary history on the relationship between history and fiction and on our historicist methods to date and thus on the Romanticisms we think we have inherited. Counterfactual Romanticism provides a ground-breaking method of re-reading literary pasts and our own reading presents in the process. Literary production, texts, and reading practices are unfossilised and defamiliarised.

Feminine Enlightenment DeLucia, JoEllen DeLucia, 2015-02-11. Revises established understandings of British women writers' contributions to Enlightenment narratives of social and historical progress. Drawing on original archival research, A Feminine Enlightenment argues that women writers shaped Enlightenment conversations regarding the role of sentiment and gender in the civilizing process. By reading women's literature alongside history and philosophy and moving between the eighteenth century and Romantic era, JoEllen DeLucia challenges conventional historical and generic boundaries. Beginning with Adam Smith's Theory of Moral Sentiments (1759), she tracks discussions of the women's progress from the rarified atmosphere of mid-eighteenth-century Bluestocking salons and the masculine domain of the Scottish university system to the popular Minerva Press novels of the early nineteenth century. Ultimately, this study positions feminine genres such as the Gothic romance and Bluestocking poetry usually seen as outliers in a masculine Age of Reason as essential to understanding emotion's role in Enlightenment narratives of progress. The effect of this study is twofold: to show how developments in women's literature reflected and engaged with Enlightenment discussions of emotion, sentiment, and commercial and imperial expansion; and to provide new literary and historical contexts for contemporary conversations that continue to use the women's progress to assign cultures and societies around the globe a place in universalizing schemas of development. Key Features: Establishes the centrality of gender to Enlightenment discussions of social and historical development. Uncovers evidence of women writers participation in the Scottish Enlightenment's theorization of sentiment and historical progress Provides literary and historical background for ongoing discussions of the history of emotion and the study of affect
