

The background of the book cover is a collage. On the left, there is a blue and white striped garment, possibly a pair of pants or a skirt, with some small black numbers (14, 8, 8, 8, 7) visible on it. The rest of the cover is covered with a dense layer of brown, orange, and yellow autumn leaves and twigs, creating a textured, naturalistic feel.

Response To Death The Literary Work Of Mourning:

Response to Death Christian Riegel, 2005-02-15 Response to Death presents a literary historical perspective on mourning tracing examples of mourning in literary works from the medieval world to the present day Contributors offer a chronological examination of the concept of the work of mourning in specific literary and historical contexts beginning with an exploration of the medieval York Cycle of plays and sixteenth century French women's lyric and continuing through the Renaissance with considerations of Shakespeare the nineteenth century and into the twentieth century Foreword by Jonathan Hart Wild Words Donna Coates, George Melnyk, 2009 As the first collection of literary criticism focusing on Alberta writers Wild Words establishes a basis for identifying Alberta fiction poetry drama and nonfiction as valid subjects of study in their own right The idea for this collection began with 100 years of literary tradition for Alberta's centenary However Alberta's literary roots go back much farther than that to the oration of First Nation's peoples and the colonizing exploration and travel literature of the 18th and 19th centuries Navigating Loss in Women's Contemporary Memoir A. Prodromou, 2015-06-29 Navigating Loss in Women's Contemporary Memoir traces the grief process through the lives of contemporary women writers to show how its complex multi layered nature can encourage us towards new understandings of loss Grief and Women Writers in the English Renaissance Elizabeth Hodgson, 2015 This book examines the way in which early modern women writers conceived of grief and the relationship between the dead and the living Grief and Genre in American Literature, 1790-1870 Desirée Henderson, 2016-04-15 Focusing on the role of genre in the formation of dominant conceptions of death and dying Desirée Henderson examines literary texts and social spaces devoted to death and mourning in eighteenth and nineteenth century America Henderson shows how William Hill Brown Susanna Rowson and Hannah Webster borrowed from and challenged funeral sermon conventions in their novelistic portrayals of the deaths of fallen women contrasts the eulogies for George Washington with William Apess's Eulogy for King Philip to expose conflicts between national ideology and indigenous history examines Frederick Douglass's use of the slave cemetery to represent the costs of slavery for African American families suggests that the ideas about democracy materialized in Civil War cemeteries and monuments influenced Walt Whitman's war elegies and offers new contexts for analyzing Elizabeth Stuart Phelps's The Gates Ajar and Emily Dickinson's poetry as works that explore the consequences of female writers claiming authority over the mourning process Informed by extensive archival research Henderson's study eloquently speaks to the ways in which authors adopted revised or rejected the conventions of memorial literature choices that disclose their location within decisive debates about appropriate gender roles and sexual practices national identity and citizenship the consequences of slavery the nature of democratic representation and structures of authorship and literary authority Romanticism, Memory, and Mourning Mark Sandy, 2016-04-08 The subject of Romanticism Memory and Mourning could not be timelier with Žižek's recent proclamation that we are living in the end times and in an era which is preoccupied with the process and consequences of ageing We mourn both for our pasts and futures as we now recognise that history is a continuation and record of loss Mark Sandy explores the treatment of grief loss and death across a variety of Romantic poetic forms including the ballad sonnet epic elegy fragment romance and ode in the works of poets as diverse as Smith Hemans Blake Wordsworth Coleridge Byron Shelley Keats and Clare Romantic meditations on grief however varied in form and content are self consciously aware of the complexity and strength of feelings surrounding the consolation or disconsolation that their structures of poetic memory afford those who survive the imaginary and actual dead Romantic mourning Sandy shows finds expression in disparate poetic forms and how it manifests itself both as the spirit of its age rooted in precise historical conditions and as a proleptic power of lasting transhistorical significance Romantic meditations on grief and loss speak to our contemporary anxieties about the inevitable but unthinkable event of death itself

Canadian Graphic Candida Rifkind,Linda Warley,2016-05-20 Canadian Graphic Picturing Life Narratives presents critical essays on contemporary Canadian cartoonists working in graphic life narrative from confession to memoir to biography The contributors draw on literary theory visual studies and cultural history to show how Canadian cartoonists have become so prominent in the international market for comic books based on real life experiences The essays explore the visual styles and storytelling techniques of Canadian cartoonists as well as their shared concern with the spectacular vulnerability of the self Canadian Graphic also considers the role of graphic life narratives in reimagining the national past including Indigenous settler relations both world wars and Quebec s Quiet Revolution Contributors use a range of approaches to analyze the political aesthetic and narrative tensions in these works between self and other memory and history individual and collective An original contribution to the study of auto biography alternative comics and Canadian print culture Canadian Graphic proposes new ways of reading the intersection of comics and auto biography both within and across national boundaries
