Loofa Love

Showers are both a place and an activity. They are where people wake themselves up to begin the day anew or where they wash the sweat and grime of a rough day off their bodies. Showers are an essential part of basic health and hygiene. With that comes a countless array of tools for proper cleanliness, but none come quite as close as the loofa to pure perfection. Based on cleaning ability, personal comfort, and usability, the loofa is the most effective and efficient body cleaning implement in any shower caddy.

Personal comfort is an admittedly subjective quality for anyone. However, the audience has a general understanding of a comfort range. Where scrubby cloths are harsh and even painful to more sensitive skin, other washing implements feel as though they are only pushing grime around the epidermis. The loofa succeeds in its ability to create a rich lather for a smooth, satisfying feeling while still maintaining an effective cleaning ability, ensuring that a bather feels good both during and after usage.

While humble in its roots, the loofa is an ideal cleaning tool that epitomizes cleaning ability, comfort, and ease of use into one amazing package. As bathing has only grown in importance in relation to hygiene and health, technology has maintained steady in the tools involved with the process. While the loofa may see some evolution in form at some point in the future, the tool's current iteration suggests a superior form that requires no true improvement.

Responses And Evaluations Essays On Canada:

Responses and Evaluations E. K. Brown, 1977 Encyclopedia of the Essay Tracy Chevalier, 2012-10-12 This groundbreaking new source of international scope defines the essay as nonfictional prose texts of between one and 50 pages in length. The more than 500 entries by 275 contributors include entries on nationalities, various categories of essays such as generic such as sermons, aphorisms, individual major works, notable writers, and periodicals that created a market for essays and particularly famous or significant essays. The preface details the historical development of the essay and the alphabetically arranged entries usually include biographical sketch, nationality, era, selected writings, list of additional readings, and anthologies.

The Cambridge Companion to Canadian Literature Eva-Marie Kröller, 2017-05-27 This fully revised second edition of The Cambridge Companion to Canadian Literature offers a comprehensive introduction to major writers, genres, and topics. For this edition, several chapters have been completely rewritten to reflect major developments in Canadian literature since 2004. Surveys of fiction, drama, and poetry are complemented by chapters on Aboriginal writing, autobiography, literary criticism, writing by women, and the emergence of urban writing. Areas of research that have expanded since the first edition include environmental concerns and questions of sexuality, which are freshly explored across several different chapters. A substantial chapter on francophone writing is included. Authors such as Margaret Atwood, noted for her experiments in multiple literary genres, are given full consideration, as is the work of authors who have achieved major recognition such as Alice Munro, recipient of the Nobel Prize for literature.

The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature Cynthia Conchita Sugars, 2016 The Oxford Handbook of Canadian Literature provides a broad-ranging introduction to some of the key critical fields, genres, and periods in Canadian literary studies. The essays in this volume, written by prominent theorists in the field, reflect the plurality of critical perspectives, regional and historical specializations, and theoretical positions that constitute the field of Canadian literary criticism across a range of genres and historical periods. The volume provides a dynamic introduction to current areas of critical interest, including:

1. attention to the links between the literary and the public sphere, encompassing such topics as neoliberalism, trauma, and memory;
2. citizenship, material culture, literary prizes, disability studies, literature and history;
3. digital cultures, globalization studies, and environmentalism or ecocriticism;
4. interest in Indigenous literatures and settler-Indigenous relations;
5. attention to multiple diasporic and postcolonial contexts within Canada;
6. interest in the institutionalization of Canadian literature as a discipline;
7. a turn towards book history and literary history, with a renewed interest in early Canadian literature;
8. a growing interest in articulating the affective character of the literary, including an interest in affect theory, mourning, melancholy, haunting, memory, and autobiography.

The book represents a diverse array of interests, from the revival of early Canadian writing to the continued interest in Indigenous, regional, and diasporic traditions, to more recent discussions of globalization, market forces, and neoliberalism. It includes a distinct section dedicated to Indigenous literatures and traditions, as well as a section that reflects on the discipline of Canadian literature as a whole The Duncan Campbell Scott Symposium K. P. Stich,1980-01-01 Margaret Atwood and the Female Bildungsroman Ellen McWilliams,2017-03-02 Examining Margaret Atwood's work in the context of the complex history of the Bildungsroman Ellen McWilliams explores how the genre has been appropriated by women writers in the second half of the twentieth century She demonstrates that Atwood's early work her own coming of age fiction including unpublished works as well as The Edible Woman Surfacing and Lady Oracle both engages with and works against the paradigms of identity which are traditionally associated with the genre Making extensive use of unpublished manuscripts in the Atwood Collection at the University of Toronto McWilliams uncovers influences that shaped Atwood's fashioning of identity in her early novels paying particular attention to Atwood's preoccupation with survival as a key symbol of Canadian literature culture and identity She also considers the genre's afterlife on display in Cat's Eye The Robber Bride Alias Grace The Blind Assassin and Moral Disorder in which the formulations of selfhood and identity in Atwood's early fiction are revisited and developed Atwood emerges as a writer who self consciously invokes and then undercuts the traditions of the Bildungsroman a turn that may be read as a means of at once interrogating and perpetuating the form McWilliams's book furthers our understanding of subjectivity in Atwood's fiction and contributes to ongoing conversations about the role gender and cultural contexts play in reframing generic boundaries Shifting the Ground of Canadian Literary Studies Smaro Kamboureli,Robert Zacharias,2013-02-26 Shifting the Ground of Canadian Literary Studies is a collection of interdisciplinary essays that examine the various contexts political social and cultural that have shaped the study of Canadian literature and the role it plays in our understanding of the Canadian nation state The essays are tied together as instances of critical practices that reveal the relations and exchanges that take place between the categories of the literary and the nation as well as between the disciplinary sites of critical discourses and the porous boundaries of their methods They are concerned with the material effects of the imperial and colonial logics that have fashioned Canada as well as with the paradoxes ironies and contortions that abound in the general perception that Canada has progressed beyond its colonial construction Smaro Kamboureli's introduction demonstrates that these essays engage with the larger realm of human and social practices throne speeches book clubs policies of accommodation of cultural and religious differences Indigenous thought about justice and ethics to show that literary and critical work is inextricably related to the Canadian polity in light of transnational and global forces RESPONSES AND EVALUATIONS;ESSAYS ON CANADA.
