Resurrecting Old Fashioned Foundationalism:

Resurrecting Old-fashioned Foundationalism Michael Raymond DePaul, 2001 The contributions in this volume make an important effort to resurrect a rather old fashioned form of foundationalism They defend the position that there are some beliefs that are justified and are not themselves justified by any further beliefs This Epistemic foundationalism has been the subject of rigorous attack by a wide range of theorists in recent years leading to the impression that foundationalism is a thing of the past DePaul argues that it is precisely the volume and virulence of the assaults which points directly to the strength and coherence of the position

Restoring the Foundations of Epistemic Justification Steven Porter, 2006-11-06 Foundationalism as a theory of justification and knowledge is often associated with Enlightenment rationality the Cartesian thirst for certainty and the modern assumption of the objectivity and universality of reason Because of these associations scholars in various fields have disdained foundationalism in favor of some sort of non foundationalist post modern approach to knowledge and justification This present book is one piece of a much wider conversation that hopes to motivate a renewed look at foundationalism Of course the foundationalism on offer has settled down quite a bit from its surly forbears This more mild mannered foundationalism suggests that our beliefs about reality can be held with confidence and yet these beliefs remain open to criticism and revision It is this type of epistemology that provides a constructive basis for investigation and research while nevertheless encouraging a cognitive humility about our claims to possess truth

A Companion to Epistemology Jonathan Dancy, Ernest Sosa, Matthias Steup, 2010-02-15 With nearly 300 entries on key concepts review essays on central issues and self profiles by leading scholars this companion is the most comprehensive and up to date single volume reference guide to epistemology Epistemology from A Z is comprised of 296 articles on important epistemological concepts that have been extensively revised to bring the volume up to date with many new and re written entries reflecting developments in the field Includes 20 new self profiles by leading epistemologists Contains 10 new review essays on central issues of epistemology Reason and Explanation T. Poston, 2014-08-03 In this new explanationist account of epistemic justification Poston argues that the explanatory virtues provide all the materials necessary for a plausible account of justified belief There are no purely autonomous reasons Rather reasons occur only within an explanatory coherent set of beliefs

The Epistemology of Non-Visual Perception Dimitria Electra Gatzia, Berit Brogaard, 2020-01-03 The present volume is the first to instead focus on the epistemology of non visual perception hearing touch taste and cross sensory experiences Drawing on recent empirical studies of emotion perception and decision making it breaks new ground on discussions of whether or not perceptual experience can yield justified beliefs or knowledge and how to characterize those beliefs

Epistemology and the Regress Problem Scott Aikin, 2010-11-23 In the last decade the familiar problem of the regress of reasons has returned to prominent consideration in epistemology And with the return of the problem evaluation of the options available for its solution is begun anew Reason's regress problem roughly put is that if one has good reasons to believe something one must have good reason to hold those reasons are good And for those reasons one must have further reasons to hold they are good and so a regress of reasons looms In this new study Aikin presents a full case for infinitism as a response to the problem of the regress of reasons Infinitism is the view that one must have a non terminating chain of reasons in order to be justified The most defensible form of infinitism he argues is that of a mixed theory that is epistemic infinitism must be consistent with and integrate other solutions to the regress problem Knowledge and Skepticism Joseph Keim Campbell, Michael O'Rourke, Harry S. Silverstein, 2010-05-21 New essays by leading philosophers explore topics in epistemology offering both contemporary philosophical analysis and historical perspectives There are two main questions in epistemology What is knowledge And Do we have any of it The first question asks after the nature of a concept the second involves grappling with the skeptic who believes that no one knows anything This collection of original essays addresses the themes of knowledge and skepticism offering both contemporary epistemological analysis and historical perspectives from leading philosophers and rising scholars Contributors first consider knowledge the intrinsic nature of knowledge in particular aspects of what distinguishes knowledge from true belief the extrinsic examination of knowledge focusing on contextualist accounts and types of knowledge specifically perceptual introspective and rational knowledge The final chapters offer various perspectives on skepticism Knowledge and Skepticism provides an eclectic yet coherent set of essays by distinguished scholars and important new voices The cutting edge nature of its contributions and its interdisciplinary character make it a valuable resource for a wide audience for philosophers of language as well as for epistemologists and for psychologists decision theorists historians and students at both the advanced undergraduate and graduate levels Contributors Kent Bach Joseph Keim Campbell Joseph Cruz Fred Dretske Catherine Z Elgin Peter S Fosl Peter J Graham David Hemp Michael O'Rourke George Pappas John L Pollock Duncan Pritchard Joseph Salerno Robert J Stainton Harry S Silverstein Joseph Thomas

Tolliver Leora Weitzman Intellectual Assurance Brett Coppenger, Michael Bergmann, 2016 Twelve essays by prominent contemporary epistemologists provide a careful examination and critical evaluation of traditional epistemic internalism They probe many objections to traditional internalism and focus on three key topics non inferentially justified belief inferentially justified belief and the best response to skepticism
