winning author of Ironweed Bootlegger of the Soul Suzanne Lance, Paul Grondahl, 2019-02-06 The award winning novelist William Kennedy is perhaps best known for his Albany Cycle a series of novels that put Albany on the world's literary map alongside James Joyce's Dublin Gabriel Garcia Marquez's Macondo and William Faulkner's Yoknapatawpha County Bootlegger of the Soul offers a fresh and authoritative overview of Kennedy's long literary career and his astonishing trajectory from journalist to struggling novelist to Pulitzer Prize winner Included here are reviews interviews and scholarly essays on Kennedy's work as well as essays speeches a play and a short story by the author himself together with more than fifty historical and personal photographs Lively readable and brimming with the infectious wit and lyrical prose that animates Kennedy's novels Bootlegger of the Soul is a celebration of a writer still working hard at his craft at age ninety Legs William Kennedy, 2011-12-22 Legs inaugurated William Kennedy's brilliant cycle of novels including Billy Phelan's Greatest Game and Ironweed set in Albany New York True to both life and myth Legs brilliantly evokes the flamboyant career of the legendary gangster Jack Legs Diamond who was finally murdered in Albany Through the equivocal eyes of Diamond's attorney Marcus Gorman who scraps a promising political career for the more elemental excitement of the criminal underworld we watch as Legs and his showgirl mistress Kiki Roberts blaze their gaudy trail across the tabloid pages of the 1920s and 1930s Diamond and his gangster entourage emerge as emblematic figures from an era of American innocence and corruption Very Old Bones William Kennedy, 2017-01-03 From a Pulitzer Prize winning author An immensely gratifying novel of an Irish American clan whose exploits changed Albany forever The Boston Globe When it was built the Phelan mansion was the only home on the block In the decades since countless tragedies have swept through its rambling halls but no matter how many times its foundations have been rocked the old house still stands Now in 1958 its sole occupants are the eccentric old painter Peter Phelan and his illegitimate son Orson who sees all but says nothing When Peter invites his remaining family to hear him read his will aloud it forces the Phelan clan to reckon with the most powerful force in Albany their own tortured history Unveiling a series of portraits inspired by family tragedy Peter takes the Phelans back into the past as far as 1887 forcing them to come face to face with the origins of the family curse As the raucous narrative unfolds Orson does his best to grapple with his roots and the knowledge that the sins of the past can never truly be washed away William Kennedy's eight book Albany Cycle is one of the most ambitious projects in modern historical fiction a kaleidoscopic portrait of a city whose heroes are its corrupt politicians conmen and thieves The Phelans are one of the roughest families in American literature and also one of the greatest who can claim a place beside O'Neill's Tyrones and Steinbeck's Joads Library Journal The Encyclopedia of Contemporary American Fiction, 2 Volumes Patrick O'Donnell, Stephen J. Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century David Pierce, 2000 Arranged chronologically by decade from the 1890s to the 1990s each decade is divided into two different types of writing critical documentary and imaginative writing and is accompanied by a headnote which situates it thematically and chronologically The Reader is also structured for thematic study by listing all the pieces included under a series of topic headings The wide range of material encompasses writings of well known figures in the Irish canon and neglected writers alike This will appeal to the general reader but also makes Irish Writing in the Twentieth Century ideal as a core text providing a unique focus for detailed study in a single volume

BOOK JACKET A Mirror in the Roadway Morris Dickstein, 2021-08-10 In a famous passage in The Red and the Black the French writer Stendhal described the novel as a mirror being carried along a roadway In the twentieth century this was derided as a naive notion of realism Instead modern writers experimented with creative forms of invention and dislocation Deconstructive theorists went even further questioning whether literature had any real reference to a world outside its own language while traditional historians challenged whether novels gave a trustworthy representation of history and society In this book Morris Dickstein reinterprets Stendhal's metaphor and tracks the different worlds of a wide array of twentieth century writers from realists like Theodore Dreiser Sinclair Lewis Edith Wharton and Willa Cather through modernists like Franz Kafka and Samuel Beckett to wildly inventive postwar writers like Saul Bellow Günter Grass Mary McCarthy George Orwell Philip Roth and Gabriel García Márquez Dickstein argues that fiction will always yield rich insight into its subject and that literature can also be a form of historical understanding Writers refract the world through their forms and sensibilities He shows how the work of these writers recaptures yet also transforms the life around them the world inside them and the universe of language and feeling they share with their readers Through lively and incisive essays directed to general readers as well as students of literature Dickstein redefines the literary landscape a landscape in which reading has for decades been devalued by society and distorted by theory Having begun with a reconsideration of realism the book concludes with several essays probing the strengths and limitations of a historical approach to literature and criticism
