Funky! Earthy!

The blues is an incredibly powerful form of music that creates an environment within which you, the soloist, can improvise easily and expressively. The violin is capable of bending, sliding, moaning, whispering, and more: it is one of the closest instruments to the human voice that we have. This one-of-a-kind book — with its supportive practice CD — will provide you with technical, musical, and stylistic tips designed to activate your imagination, fine-tune your right- and left- hand touch, and help you develop a uniquely individual sound.

Julie Lynn Lieberman is an improvising violinist, singer, composer, educator, recording artist, author and producer. Formerly on faculty at Juilliard and New York University, she is now a professor in The New School's Jazz Program.

Ms. Lieberman has performed her original music throughout the U.S. in concert halls, colleges, and clubs, as well as in Canada, Guatemala, and France (including numerous radio appearances throughout). She has produced four Jazz String Summits, and is the author of five books as well as three instructional videos and seven National Public Radio programs. She has five recordings of original music to her credit and has composed for Off-Broadway, music festivals, and numerous dance companies.
