Post-Rapture Radio Russell Rathbun, 2007-04-10 When the town of Monksford revives the tradition of medieval religious plays reporter Jemma Durham takes a role to cover the experience for the Monksford Gazette But the real story unfolds behind the scenes a forbidden kiss bribery and tragedy Jemma holds the power to destroy lives and advance her career but at what cost

Post-Rapture Radio Russell Rathbun, 2008-03-14 In Post Rapture Radio our faithful narrator finds a mysterious box containing the sermons and journal entries of a genuine unvarnished American character the Reverend Richard Lamblove The little known Lamblove tried and failed to revolutionize contemporary Christian culture As his journal entries cereal box scribbles and random notes written on paper scraps reveal Lamblove sees contemporary culture as shallow overly individualistic and consumed with the kind of status measured by money power and celebrity And American Evangelicalism which has been integrated into the culture as a whole has similar failings Reverend Lamblove vanished without a trace but Russell Rathbun has compiled his papers into a compelling critique of contemporary faith an antidote to faith as usual and a wakeup call for Christians to genuinely respond to the gospel

In Kierkegaard's Garden with the Poppy Blooms Chris Boesel, 2021-07-27 Chris Boesel invites readers into a Kierkegaardian style literary conceit creating two pseudonymous voices one philosophical and deconstructive one theological and confessional in order to stage an encounter between two commentaries on Kierkegaard's Fear and Trembling On one level the contest between the two commentaries demonstrates the extent to which an encounter between deconstruction and Kierkegaard has not taken place in the one place everyone thinks it has in Derrida's reading of Fear and Trembling in The Gift of Death On a deeper level Boesel argues that Derrida's misreading of Fear and Trembling is both source and symptom of a wider problem an apophatic blind spot in deconstructive engagements with Christian theology in philosophy of religion and postmodern theology This blind spot erases the theological and ethical possibilities of what Boesel calls a Kierkegaardian confessional faith possibilities rooted in a deconstructive deconstructibility that produces its own deconstructive like effects As a corrective to this blind spot the encounter between deconstruction and Kierkegaard staged here shows how these effects do the very things heralded by self proclaimed apophatic remedies of confessional faith disrupt human mastery over God and neighbor while calling for concrete commitments to justice for the widow orphan and stranger

Preaching in the Inventive Age Doug Pagitt, 2014-08-19 What kind of communities are we forming What story are we telling How can we tell it more effectively Pagitt takes on these questions and investigates the goals and roles of preaching in the Inventive Age From the book I find myself wanting to live with the people of my community where I can preach but not allow that to become an act of speech making Instead I want it to be a living interaction of the story of God and the story of our community being connected by our truth telling our vulnerability and our open minds ears and eyes all brought together by the active work of the Spirit of God

Preaching Re-Imagined Doug Pagitt, 2009-05-18 Imagine for a moment that you can forget almost everything you've ever read ever heard ever been taught about preaching Somehow everything is new nothing is impossible Imagine if with the Holy Spirit s working missional communities could be formed vibrant stories would be told and retold for generations in new and ever vivid manners of communication emergentYS author and pastor Doug Pagitt offers an invitation to the kind of preaching that creates followers of God who serve the world well and live the invitation to the rhythm of God He introduces you to an approach to engaging with the Bible with a focus on three questions What kind of communities are we forming Sociology What story are we telling Theology How can we tell it more effectively Communication These questions are engaged through the introduction of Progressional Implicatory Preaching This insightful combination of both theory and practical advice will open the floodgates of your imagination to once again dream big dreams for your church Envision Preaching beyond speechmaking as an agent in the creation of Christian communities and take a hopeful look toward new approaches to encouraging the spiritual formation of your church body Includes study discussion questions Faith
