Power and Ideology in Education Jerome Karabel, A.H. Halsey, 1977 Knowledge, Power, and Education Michael W. Apple, 2013 For more than three decades Michael Apple has sought to uncover and articulate the connections among knowledge teaching and power in education In this collection Michael brings together 13 of his key writings in one place providing an overview not just of his own career but the larger development of the field Power and Moral Education in China Wangbei Ye, 2014-04-15 Chinese moral education reform in the last three decades represents the most significant decentralization of decision making power since the foundation of People's Republic of China in 1949 On one hand it shows how de politicized China's moral education curriculum has become following the introduction of China's Open door policy and economic reforms and the resultant social transformations On the other hand it reveals persistent problems in moral education caused by political stresses and tight state control To explain these tensions Power and Moral Education in China analyzes the characteristics of power relationships in school moral education curriculum goal setting content and pedagogy selection and implementation The ultimate purpose is to identify not only what factors impact Chinese moral education curriculum decision making at the school level but also how and why Through a multiple case study conducted during 2008 in three schools in Shenzhen City and based on four major data collection instruments observation interview questionnaire and document review Wangbei Ye analyzes how power relationships have evolved in school moral education and how and why school power affects school moral education Contrary to the common belief that Chinese schools are passively impacted by external forces in moral education curriculum development this book suggests that school power is a semi emancipatory relationship that acts as a major force shaping moral education This means that although both the Chinese Communist Party and the state are positioned to control schools and moral education schools nonetheless have the power to either negotiate for more influence or partly emancipate themselves by collaborating with other external forces responding to grass root needs empowering school teachers and adjusting internal school management style This helps to explain the influence of Chinese schools in moral education and suggests a broader theory of power relationships in curriculum Revolution and
