Operating and Other Social Acts Roland Leander Williams,2022-07-01 Through a cultural study of writings about slavery in the United States Smooth Operating and Other Social Acts uncovers a mode of behavior adopted by African Americans for relief from the brutality of black bondage Roland Leander Williams grants that African Americans have been beaten but he guarantees that they have not been broken While he acknowledges that they have been demeaned he assures that they have not been diminished Williams confesses that African Americans have been done harm but he confirms that they have not become disheartened Close readings of classic slave narratives along with some neo slave narratives including The Conjure Woman 1899 Kindred 1979 Dessa Rose 1986 and The Good Lord Bird 2013 furnish proof that African Americans have preserved their dignity and elevated their status through ingenious applications of improvisation Smooth Operating and Other Social Acts establishes as well that a dim view of African Americans propagated by black bondage bears a resemblance to sexual discrimination which prompts female targets of its gaze to practice dissembling Teaching with Aesop's Fables

An African Worldview Ian D. Dicks, 2012 In this book Ian Dicks informs the reader about the ways in which the Yao of Malawi view the world. The Yao are predominantly Muslim yet many maintain strong links with their traditional religion. They are a largely oral society teaching and reinforcing their beliefs and practices using oral literature which includes myths, proverbs, proverbial stories, songs of advice and prayers at various stages of the life cycle, particularly during initiation events. Ian Dicks describes in detail the Yao's material world, customs, beliefs and rituals and juxtaposes these with Yao oral literature. He then examines them under six worldview categories, the result being a rich description of the way in which the Yao see the world. This book is not an armchair study but has the feel of being written by an eyewitness by someone who has had first hand experience of the subject and who seeks to describe this in a manner which is sensitive to the Yao and their culture.
