ABSTRACT

Background

A strong primary health care system is the keystone of health care and helps patients manage their health conditions in the community, whilst also providing disease prevention services. Primary care is a continuously evolving specialty, with recent exciting innovations, aiming to improve all aspects of care and to meet people's needs and expectations.

Method

A search for articles focusing on the specific aspects of recent advances in primary health care was done using internet search engines. Articles were selected from primary and secondary literature sources, which included original research articles, review articles and other epidemiological studies.

Results

Recent advances in information technology, services and access, dealing with multimorbidity, academic family medicine, equity and outcome measures have all made an impact on the primary health care system and on meeting the ever-increasing challenges of modern society.

Conclusion

Primary health care is of extreme importance in having an efficient and effective health care system. As primary health care improves with recent advances, a positive effect is seen on the population's health, cost savings and health care disparities.

INTRODUCTION

The WHO Declaration of Alma-Ata represents a major step in the worldwide attention for primary care. This declaration highlighted the importance of developing, implementing and maintaining primary health care throughout the world, particularly in developing countries (World Health Organization, 1978).

The world has been changing since the Alma-Ata Declaration of 1978. By contrast with the financial optimism of developing nations in the 1970s, the days of straightforward concerns and priorities have vanished. The pattern of disease, care and treatment options are changing (World Health Organization, 2007). Infectious diseases (such as, for example, tuberculosis or malaria) are no longer the only problems affecting only the poor (Frenk, 2009; Brandtland, 2005) during 1995-2000, the overall tuberculosis rate in Malta increased mainly due to the large influx of migrants from high-prevalence countries and to the increasing ratio of migrant to Maltese TB cases (Pace-Asciak, Mamo and Calleja, 2012).

At a time of financial and economic turmoil, health care needs and demand for public services will increase, colliding with austerity measures and privatisation policies (Kondilis et al., 2013). There are no easy solutions to create health care sustainability across and beyond Europe (Mamo, 2012). In view of these emerging public health challenges, decision makers are looking for solutions to achieve more cost-effective and better-coordinated care. One possible solution is implementing and maintaining high-quality primary care (QUALICOPE Consortium, 2012; Schäfer, 2013).

METHOD

A search for articles focusing on the specific aspects of recent advances in primary health care was done using the internet search engines PubMed, Medline Plus and Google Scholar. The keywords used while searching were 'recent advances', 'primary care', 'information technology', 'services and access', 'dealing with multimorbidity', 'academic family medicine', 'equity' and 'outcome measures'. Articles were selected from primary and secondary literature sources, which included original research articles, review articles and other epidemiological studies.

Recent Advances in Neurotraumatology Norio Nakamura, Takuo Hashimoto, Masaharu Yasue, 2012-12-06 The dawn of neurosurgery can be traced back to the first description preserved in the Edwin Smith papyrus 3000 BC which dealt with head and spinal injury In the course of 5000 years since the first record in Egypt advances in lifestyle and technology have brought about our modern civilized society However as a result of civilization currently the total number of severe head injuries worldwide is believed to exceed 10000000 and the number of severe spinal injuries is believed to be more than 75 000 each year This means that central nervous system injury is not only the oldest topic in neurosurgery but that it is also of critical importance in modern life Taking these problems into consideration the International Neurotraumatology Committee was organized in 1965 as an affiliated Committee of the World Federation of Neurosurgical Societies The first scientific meeting was convened by the Committee in Marseilles in 1970 Nine further meetings were subsequently held in Europe Africa and South America The meeting was first named International Conference on Recent Advances in Neurotraumatology ICRAN by Professor Phillip Harris when the scientific meeting was held in Edinburgh in 1982 The tenth meeting ICRAN 1992 the first one in Asia was held at Karuizawa Japan from September 23rd to 26th 1992
