Recent History:

Doing Recent History Claire Bond Potter, Renee C. Romano, 2012-04-25 Recent history the very phrase seems like an oxymoron Yet historians have been writing accounts of the recent past since printed history acquired a modern audience and in the last several years interest in recent topics has grown exponentially With subjects as diverse as Walmart and disco and personalities as disparate as Chavez and Schlafly books about the history of our own time have become arguably the most exciting and talked about part of the discipline Despite this rich tradition and growing popularity historians have engaged in little discussion about the specific methodological political and ethical issues related to writing about the recent past The twelve essays in this collection explore the challenges of writing histories of recent events where visibility is inherently imperfect hindsight and perspective are lacking and historiography is underdeveloped Those who write about events that have taken place since 1970 encounter exciting challenges that are both familiar and foreign to scholars of a more distant past including suspicions that their research is not historical enough negotiation with living witnesses who have a very strong stake in their own representation and the task of working with new electronic sources Contributors to this collection consider a wide range of these challenges They question how sources like television and video games can be better utilized in historical research explore the role and regulation of doing oral histories consider the ethics of writing about living subjects discuss how historians can best navigate questions of privacy and copyright law and imagine the possibilities that new technologies offer for creating transnational and translingual research opportunities Doing Recent History offers guidance and insight to any researcher considering tackling the not so distant past

Discursive Processes of Intergenerational Transmission of Recent History M. Achugar, 2016-04-12 Debates about how to remember politically contested or painful pasts exist throughout the world As with the case of the Holocaust in Europe and Apartheid in South Africa South American countries are struggling with the legacy of state terrorism left by the 1970s dictatorships Coming to terms with the past entails understanding the role different social actors played in those events as well as what those event mean for us today Young people in these situations have to learn about painful historical events over which there is no national consensus This book explores discursive processes of intergenerational transmission of recent history through the case of the Uruguayan dictatorship The main themes of the book are the discursive construction of social memory and intergenerational transmission of contested pasts through recontextualization resemiotization and intertextuality

The Orators and Their Treatment of the Recent Past Aggelos Kapellos, 2022-12-05 This volume focuses on the representation of the recent past in classical Athenian oratory and investigates the ability of the orators to interpret it according to their interests the inability of the Athenians to make an objective assessment of it and the unwillingness of the citizens to hear the truth make self criticism and take responsibility for bad results Twenty eight scholars have written chapters to this end dealing with a wide range of themes in terms both of contents and of chronology from the fifth to the fourth century B C Each contributor has written a chapter that analyzes one or more historical events mentioned or alluded in the corpus of the Attic orators and covers the three species of Attic oratory Chapters that treat other issues collectively are also included The common feature of each contribution is an outline of the recent events that took place and influenced the citizens and or the city of Athens and its juxtaposition with their rhetorical treatment by the orators either by comparing the rhetorical texts with the historical sources and or by examining the rhetorical means through which the speakers model the recent past This book aims at advanced students and professional scholars This volume focuses on the representation of the recent past in classical Athenian oratory and investigates the ability of the orators to interpret it according to their interests the inability of the Athenians to make an objective assessment of persons and events of the recent past and their unwillingness to hear the truth make self criticism and take responsibility for bad results

Applied History and Contemporary Policymaking Robert Crowcroft,2022-10-06 Robert Crowcroft has assembled a world class international cast of outstanding scholars and international figures to produce a stimulating collection of essays on applied history and policy making With contributors such as Philip Bobbitt Margaret MacMillan and Jeremy Black this collection of essays addresses some of the most important geopolitical challenges confronting the world today From reconstructing collapsed political regimes to security competition in the China Seas and the evolution of Salafi Jihadi ideology it explores a range of statecraft policy and strategy The essays span a number of policy areas and historical problems tackling important questions about what historians do and should do and considering the nature and limits of historical judgement With some examining how applied history can be used to rethink contemporary challenges others explore how it has been used and abused in the past Making a splash in intellectual debate by making a definitive case for Applied History this book demonstrates that a knowledge of the past and the insight it provides is imperative to effective statecraft

The Cyclopedic Review of Current History ,1903 The Oxford Handbook of the History of Medicine Mark Jackson,2011-08-25 In three sections the Oxford Handbook of the History of Medicine celebrates the richness and variety of medical history around the world It explore medical developments and trends in writing history according to period place and theme

A Guide to the Study and Use of Military History John E. Jessup,Robert W. Coakley,1979 This Guide to the Study and Use of Military History is designed to foster an appreciation of the value of military history and explain its uses and the resources available for its study It is not a work to be read and lightly tossed aside but one the career soldier should read again or use as a reference at those times during his career when necessity or leisure turns him to the contemplation of the military past

Science, Optics, and Music in Medieval and Early Modern Thought Alistair Cameron Crombie,1990-01-01 A C Crombie is one of the best known writers on the history of Science Science Optics and Music in Medieval and Early Modern Thought brings together a coherent body of essays that complement his books and are of independent value A C Crombie traces general themes in the development of Science the Aristotelian inheritance and the importance of the search for logical explanation in the middle ages the ambitions and limitations of experiment and quantification changing attitudes to scientific progress the relations between Science and the Arts and between Mathematics Music and Medical Science and the study of the senses In particular he shows how the mechanistic hypothesis stimulated the experimental and philosophical study of vision A Global History of Modern Historiography Georg G Iggers,Q. Edward Wang,Supriya Mukherjee,2016-09-01 The first book on historiography to adopt a global and comparative perspective on the topic A Global History of Modern Historiography looks not just at developments in the West but also at the other great historiographical traditions in Asia the Middle East and elsewhere around the world over the course of the past two and a half centuries This second edition contains fully updated sections on Latin American and African historiography discussion of the development of global history environmental history and feminist and gender history in recent years and new coverage of Russian historical practices Beginning in the mid eighteenth century the authors analyse historical currents in a changing political social and cultural context examining both the adaptation and modification of the Western influence on historiography and how societies outside Europe and America found their own ways in the face of modernization and globalization Supported by online resources including a selection of excerpts from key historiographical texts this book offers an up to date account of the status of historical writing in the global era and is essential reading for all students of modern historiography Handbook of Current and Novel Protocols for the Treatment of Infertility Michael H.

Hungary Tamás Turán,Carsten Wilke,2016-11-21 The Habsburg Empire was one of the first regions where the academic study of Judaism took institutional shape in the nineteenth century In Hungary scholars such as Leopold and Immanuel L w

David Kaufmann Ignaz Goldziher Wilhelm Bacher and Samuel Krauss had a lasting impact on the Wissenschaft des Judentums Science of Judaism Their contributions to Biblical rabbinic and Semitic studies Jewish history ethnography and other fields were always part of a trans national Jewish scholarly network and the academic universe Yet Hungarian Jewish scholarship assumed a regional tinge as it emerged at an intersection between unquelled Ashkenazi yeshiva traditions Jewish modernization movements and Magyar politics that boosted academic Orientalism in the context of patriotic historiography For the first time this volume presents an overview of a century of Hungarian Jewish scholarly achievements examining their historical context and assessing their ongoing relevance The Making of Modern America Gary A. Donaldson, 2012-10-18

The Making of Modern America introduces students to the cultural social and political paths the United States has traveled from the end of WWII to the present day While deftly cataloguing the sweeping changes and major events in America from Dewey Defeats Truman through the election of our first black President this newly updated edition never loses touch with that American history taking place at the level of the people This edition details not just the United States rich cultural history but elegantly repositions it as integral to our understanding of any portion of this country s past Donaldson provides a factual foundation for students and then pushes them to interpret those facts framing the discussions essential to any complete study of American history The Making of Modern America Second Edition is updated to include A new chapter titled The Second Bush and Obama From the War on Terrorism to the Audacity of Hope updating readers on the calamitous end to President George W Bush s second term the Obama administration s first term challenges and the Great Recession Newly revised readings each profiling an historical event speech or figure Lee Harvey Oswald to Bill Gates to Condoleezza Rice at the conclusion of each chapter A Concise History of Modern Korea Michael J. Seth, 2010 This comprehensive and balanced history of modern Korea explores the social economic and political issues it has faced since being catapulted into the wider world at the end of the nineteenth century Placing this formerly insular society in a global context Michael J Seth describes how this ancient culturally and ethnically homogeneous society first fell victim to Japanese imperialist expansionism and then was arbitrarily divided in half after World War II Seth traces the postwar paths of the two Koreas with different political and social systems and different geopolitical orientations as they evolved into sharply contrasting societies South Korea after an unpromising start became one of the few postcolonial developing states to enter the ranks of the first world with a globally competitive economy a democratic political system and a cosmopolitan and dynamic culture By contrast North Korea became one of the world s most totalitarian and isolated societies a nuclear power with an impoverished and famine stricken population Considering the radically different and historically unprecedented trajectories of the two Koreas Seth assesses the insights they offer for understanding not only modern Korea but the broader perspective of world history

Memory and Representation in Contemporary Europe Dr Siobhan Kattago, 2013-01-28 Why do certain places and not others symbolically capture the past and freeze time Likewise why does the process of memory as a fluid and changing activity seem to prevent its own solidification Memory and Representation in Contemporary Europe reflects not only on the persistence of the past as a theme linked to modernity media and time but also discusses the politics of memory within a changing Europe Drawing on the theoretical work of Hannah Arendt Isaiah Berlin and Zygmunt Bauman Siobhan Kattago uses examples from both Germany and Estonia in order to address the multiple layers of Europe's totalitarian past Through reflecting on the legacy of totalitarianism and the revolutions of 1989 it becomes clear that the issue is less of whether one should remember but rather how to internalize the various lessons of the past for the future of Europe Memory and Representation in Contemporary Europe thus offers the reader occasions upon which to take stock of different but overlapping contours of past and present in contemporary Europe

Contemporary history on trial Harriet Jones, Kjell Ostberg, Nico Randeraad, 2024-07-30 Is it right for historians to serve as expert witnesses to past events Since the end of the Cold War a series of heated and politicised debates across Europe have questioned the truth about painful episodes in the twentieth century From the Holocaust to Srebrenica inquiries and fact finding commissions have become a common device employed by governments to deal with the pressure of public opinion State sponsored programmes of education and research attempt to encourage a common moral understanding of the lessons we learn from these painful memories Contemporary historians have increasingly been drawn into these efforts since 1989 in the courtroom in the media on commissions as advisers In a series of thoughtful essays written by leading historians from across Europe this volume considers the ethics and responsibilities that this new role entails For anyone concerned with the role of the historian in contemporary society and how we arrive at a public understanding of history this book is essential reading

Writing Architecture in Modern Italy Daria Ricchi, 2020-10-01 Writing Architecture in Modern Italy tells the history of an intellectual group connected to the small but influential Italian Einaudi publishing house between the 1930s and the 1950s It concentrates on a diverse group of individuals including Bruno Zevi an architectural historian and politician Giulio Carlo Argan an art historian Italo Calvino a fiction writer Giulio Einaudi a publisher and Elio Vittorini and Cesare Pavese both writers and translators Linking architectural history and historiography within a broader history of ideas this book proposes four different methods of writing history defining historiographical genres modes and tones of writing that can be applied to history writing to analyze political and social moments in time It identifies four writing genres myths chronicles history and fiction which became accepted as forms of multiple postmodern historical stories after 1957 An important contribution to the architectural debate Writing Architecture in Modern Italy will appeal to those interested in the history of architecture history of ideas and architectural education

Modern Europe, 1789-Present Asa Briggs, Patricia Clavin, 2014-06-06 Now covering the whole of Europe from the French Revolution to the present day this major new edition has been completely revised and brought up to date The approach embraces the whole continent from both national and regional perspectives and combines political survey with grass roots people history Bringing this history vividly to life the authors use a very broad range of sources including memoirs archives letters songs and newspapers In particular there is new treatment of the following themes Religion and the modern Papacy Immigration in Europe and relationships between minority and majority groups UNESCO The European Bill of Rights The seeds of conflict in Bosnia and Croatia Europe's relations with the wider world with particular attention to the Middle East and Japan Modern Grammars of Case John M. Anderson, 2006-06-22 This book addresses fundamental issues in linguistic theory including the relation between formal and cognitive approaches the autonomy of syntax the content of universal grammar and the value of generative and functional approaches to grammar It focuses on the grammar of case relations signalled by morphological case prepositions and word order Part I offers a critical history of modern grammars of case focussing on the last four decades and setting this in the context of earlier including ancient developments The subjects considered include the evolution of ideas concerning deep structure and semantic and grammatical relations and arguments for the maintenance of the traditional central position of case in the grammar In parts II and III Professor Anderson examines the category of case and central unresolved issues in the grammar of case The latter include questions relating to the idea of an ontologically based grammar particularly the degree to which syntactic categories and relationships are grounded in meaning and the notion of linguistic creativity This involves a consideration of the way in which cases may be identified and whether their distribution is determined through semantics The book sheds new light on the interactions between meaning and grammar and on the structure and development of lexical and grammatical systems The argument and its far reaching consequences will be of wide interest to linguists philosophers and others seeking to understand the workings of language

A Modern Guide to Citizen's Basic Income Malcolm Torry, 2020-06-26 Debate on the desirability feasibility and implementation of a Citizen's Basic Income an unconditional nonwithdrawable and regular income for every individual is increasingly widespread among academics policymakers and the general public There are now numerous introductory books on the subject and others on particular aspects of it This book provides something new It studies the Citizen's Basic Income proposal from a variety of different disciplinary perspectives the economics of Citizen's Basic Income the sociology of Citizen's Basic Income the politics of Citizen's Basic Income and so on Each chapter discusses the academic discipline and relevant aspects of the debate and asks how the discipline enhances our understanding and how the Citizen's Basic Income debate might contribute to the academic discipline
