Hermann Hesse's Fictions of the Self Eugene L. Stelzig, 2014-07-14 This masterful synthesis of criticism and biography surveys all of Hermann Hesse's major works and many of his minor ones in relation to the intricate psychological design of his entire life history Eugene Stelzig examines what it means to be an autobiographical writer by considering Hesse's fictions of the self as an exemplary instance of the relationship between life and art and between biography and autobiography In a graceful and inviting style he frees this major confessional writer from the confines of German culture and the status of cult figure of the 1960s and situates him in the tradition of world literature and in a variety of literary psychological philosophical and religious contexts Three introductory chapters on autobiography and Hesse set the stage for a chronological study Then follows a penetrating analysis of the balance between biographical fact and confessional fantasy in Hesse's long career from the failed autobiography of his first literary success Beneath the Wheel through the protracted midlife crisis of the grotesque

Steppenwolf period to the visionary autobiography of his magisterial fictional finale The Glass Bead Game Originally published in 1988 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905 O. Ireland, Patrice J. Proulx, 2004-04-30 Immigration to Quebec has led to the decline of the idea of the homogenous national identity within French language literary production and the creation of a new literature of multiple Quebecois identities according to editors Ireland and Proulx Concepts of diversity and hybridity run throughout the 16 essays contained here which seek to collectively explore the way immigrant writers position themselves in relation to Quebecois literature and society A few essays explore the general contours of Quebecois cinema and theater in relation to these questions but the majority are devoted to more focused examinations of particular writers of novels short stories and poems

Autobiography in Black and Brown Michael Nieto Garcia, 2014-11-15 Richard Wright was the grandson of slaves Richard Rodriguez the son of immigrants One black the other brown each author prominently displays his race in the title of his autobiography Black Boy and Brown Wright was a radical left winger while Rodriguez is widely viewed as a reactionary Despite their differences Michael Nieto Garcia points out the two share a preoccupation with issues of agency class struggle ethnic identity the search for community and the quest for social justice Garcia's study the first to compare these two widely read writers argues that ethnic autobiography reflects the complexity of ethnic identity revealing a narrative self that is bound to a visible ethnicity yet is also protean and free These autobiographies according to Garcia exemplify the tensions and contradictions inherent in identity In their presentation of the self we see the rejection not only of essentialized notions of ethnic authenticity but also of any conception of an ethnic self that is not also communally derived The image reflected in the mirror of autobiography also reminds us that consciousness itself is altered by our reading and that the construction of modern ethnicity is shaped to a considerable extent by print culture

"Lincoln's Humor" and Other Essays

Benjamin P. Thomas, 2024-04-22 This volume gathers the best previously unpublished and uncollected writings on Abraham Lincoln and Lincoln scholarship by one of his great biographers Benjamin P Thomas A skilled historian and a masterful storyteller himself Thomas was widely regarded as the greatest Lincoln historian of his generation With these essays he combines historical depth with narrative grace in delineating Lincoln's qualities as a humorist lawyer and politician From colorful tall tales to clever barbs aimed at political opponents Lincoln clothed a shrewd wit in a homespun backwoods vernacular He used humor to defuse tension illuminate a point put others at ease and sometimes for sheer fun From an early reliance on broad humor and ridicule in speeches and on the stump Lincoln's style shifted in 1854 to a more serious vein in which humor came primarily to elucidate an argument If I did not laugh occasionally I should die he is said to have told his cabinet and you need this medicine as much as I do Thomas brings his deep knowledge of Lincoln to essays on the great man's tumultuous career in Congress his work as a lawyer his experiences in the Courts and his opinions of the South A gracious survey of Lincoln's early biographers particularly Ida Tarbell stands alongside an appreciation of Harry Edward Pratt a key figure in the early days of the Abraham Lincoln Association Thomas also assesses Lincoln's use of language and the ongoing significance of the Gettysburg Address This diverse collection is enhanced by an introduction by Michael Burlingame himself a leading biographer of Lincoln Burlingame provides a balanced portrait of Thomas and his circuitous path toward writing history

Muffled Voices Lakshmi Subramanyam, 2002 Contributed articles The Encyclopedia Americana: Egypt-falsetto, 2000 Second Arrivals Sarah Phillips Casteel, 2007 Diaspora studies have tended to privilege urban landscapes over rural ones wanting to avoid the racial homogeneity conservatism and xenophobia usually associated with the latter This book examines the work of various writers to show how it expresses the appeal that rural and wilderness spaces can hold for the diasporic imagination

Hemingway, Fitzgerald and the Muse of Romantic Music Nicole J. Camastra, 2023-12-11 Both Ernest Hemingway and F Scott Fitzgerald grew up in the Midwest and were strongly influenced by Romantic music anchored by the aesthetic tastes of the German immigrants who settled across that region Hemingway's ear for form and Fitzgerald's penchant for lyricism stem from early and frequent exposure to such masters as Johannes Brahms and Franz Schubert Nostalgia is typically associated with romanticism and the acoustic longing found in Hemingway and Fitzgerald's fiction resonates with it characterized in the narrative voices in Hemingway's Winner Take Nothing Fitzgerald's Tender Is the Night and other of their fiction from the early thirties Understanding that each writer has his own kind of musical biography charts new ways to read material we already think we know Reading their work within a musico-historical context means acknowledging it as an extension of the 19th century it means reading them as Romantic Modernists This work reads each author's prose musically considering how Romantic music inspired their craft and distinguished their work through the pivotal juncture of the early to mid 1930s when each man faced an artistic crisis of conscience Initial chapters provide background information in music history Following chapters focus on how the life of each author was shaped by music and how they worked with specific influences that grew out of steady interactions with it evidence of which is found in archival documents and collections

Other I Robert Lecker, 1988 This is the first full length study of the short stories and novels by Clark Blaise It follows his development as a deeply self-conscious writer who becomes involved in the dualities of the world around him dualities that are reflected in the structure of his fiction and in the narrative strategies he employs to convey an image of himself Lecker frames his discussion with an opening chapter that provides a detailed discussion of Blaise's aesthetic stance Subsequent chapters focus on Blaise's first two short story collections and on readings of Blaise's two novels The study includes an original chronology by Clark Blaise which provides a creative rendering of the important dates and turning points in his life and literary career

Critical Mindfulness Sayyed Mohsen Fatemi, 2016-08-02 Expanding on the trailblazing ideas of Ellen Langer this provocative volume explores the implications of critical mindfulness for making psychology more responsive and its practice more meaningful. Powerful critiques take the discipline to task for positioning therapists as experts over their clients and focusing on outcomes to the detriment of therapeutic process. Contributors use the principles of Langerian mindfulness to inform self understanding and relationships areas such as athletic performance and consumer decision making and basic and complex forms of cognitive engagement. The mindfulness demonstrated here is not only critical but also creative inclusive and humane with the potential to transform the consciousness of psychology and other mind based fields. Included in the coverage: Critical mindfulness of psychology's mindlessness. The construct of mindfulness amidst and along conceptions of rationality. Understanding confidence its roots and role in performance. Mindfulness in action the emergence of distinctive thought and behavior. Langerian mindfulness and optimal sport performance. Health and the psychology of possibility. Critical Mindfulness is bracing and insightful reading for undergraduate and graduate students psychologists psychiatrists physicians clinicians neurologists and educators within and outside positive psychology. These pages challenge the wider community of professionals to rethink their perspectives on practice as well as their long held tenets of living.
