Cohen, 2017-07-05 In Maimonides and the Merchants Mark R Cohen reveals the extent of pragmatic revisions to the halakha or body of Jewish law introduced by Moses Maimonides in his Mishneh Torah the comprehensive legal code he compiled in the late twelfth century

Oral-Scribal Dimensions of Scripture, Piety, and Practice Werner H. Kelber, Paula A. Sanders, 2016-09-30 In April 2008 a conference was convened at Rice University that brought together experts in the three monotheistic religions of Judaism Christianity and Islam The papers discussed at the conference are presented here revised and updated The thirteen contributions comprise the keynote address by John Miles Foley three essays on Judaism and the Hebrew Bible three on the New Testament three on the Qur'an and two summarizing pieces by the Africanist Ruth Finnegan and the Islamicist William Graham respectively The central thesis of the book states that sacred Scripture was experienced by the three faiths less as a text contained between two covers and a literary genre and far more as an oral phenomenon In developing the performative recitative aspects of the three religions the authors directly or by implication challenge their distinctly textual identities Instead of viewing the three faiths as quintessential religions of the book these writers argue that the religions have been and continue to be appropriated not only as written but also very much as oral authorities with the two media interpenetrating and mutually influencing each other in myriad ways Jewish Biblical Exegesis from Islamic Lands Meira Polliack, Athalya Brenner-Idan, 2019-11-20

Medieval Jewish Philosophy and Its Literary Forms Aaron W. Hughes, James T. Robinson, 2019-07-11 This well written accessible essay collection demonstrates a maturation in Jewish studies and medieval philosophy Choice Too often the study of philosophical texts is carried out in ways that do not pay significant attention to how the ideas contained within them are presented articulated and developed This was not always the case The contributors to this collected work consider Jewish philosophy in the medieval period when new genres and forms of written expression were flourishing in the wake of renewed interest in ancient philosophy Many medieval Jewish philosophers were highly accomplished poets for example and made conscious efforts to write in a poetic style This volume turns attention to the connections that medieval Jewish thinkers made between the literary the exegetical the philosophical and the mystical to shed light on the creativity and diversity of medieval thought As they broaden the scope of what counts as medieval Jewish philosophy the essays collected here consider questions about how an argument is formed how text is put into the service of philosophy and the social and intellectual environment in which philosophical texts were produced

The Fate of the Jews in the Early Islamic Near East Phillip Lieberman, 2022-06-23 In this book Phillip Lieberman revisits one of the foundational narratives of medieval Jewish history that the rise of Islam led the Jews of Babylonia the largest Jewish community prior to the rise of Islam to abandon a livelihood based on agriculture and move into urban crafts and long distance trade Here he presents an alternative account that reveals the complexity of interfaith relations in early Islam Using Jewish and Islamic chronicles legal materials and the rich documentary evidence of the Cairo Geniza Lieberman demonstrates that Jews initially remained on the rural periphery after the Islamic conquest of Iraq Gradually they assimilated to an emerging Islamic identity as the new religion took shape sapping towns and villages of their strength Simultaneously a small elite group of merchants and communal leaders migrated westward Lieberman here explores their formative influence on the Jewish communities of the southern Mediterranean that flourished under Islamic conquest

Knowledge of God and the Development of Early Kabbalah Jonathan Dauber, 2012-08-01 In Knowledge of God and the Development of Early Kabbalah Jonathan Dauber offers a fresh consideration of the emergence and early development of Kabbalah against the backdrop of a re evaluation of the relationship between early Kabbalistic and philosophic discourse He argues that the first Kabbalists adopted a philosophic ethos that was foreign to traditional Rabbinic Judaism but had taken root in Languedoc and Catalonia under the influence of newly available philosophical materials In this ethos the act of investigating God was accorded great religious significance and it was its adoption by the first Kabbalists that helped spur them to engage in their investigations of God and in so doing develop Kabbalah

Judah Halevi's Fideistic Scepticism in the Kuzari Ehud Krinis, 2020-07-06 As scepticism has rarely been studied in the context of the Arabic culture and its Judeo Arabic sub culture it is small wonder that sceptical motifs of Judah Halevi's classic theological The Kuzari written ca 1140 received very little scholarly attention so far Thus the present study seeks to shed light on Halevi's wrestling with the dogmatic rationalistic trends of his period from an angle of this much less studied perspective As a by product this study is a contribution to the mainly uncultivated field of traces of scepticism in the Arabic culture

Ageing in Medieval Jewish Culture Elisha Russ-Fishbane, 2022-07-01 This is a seminal study of cultural attitudes to old age among Jews of the medieval Mediterranean and Near Eastern regions Rigorously researched and accessibly written it will appeal to scholars across a range of disciplines as well as to the broader public While the focus is on Jewish society and culture critical context regarding the social history of ageing is provided by comparative perspectives from the Muslim world as well as from Spain and Provence and other areas of Christian Europe that were in the Arabic

Andalusian cultural orbit The study draws on many literary genres and scholarly disciplines philosophy and theology ethics and law biblical commentary Hebrew poetry medical literature and a host of marriage contracts personal letters and family and communal records from the Cairo Genizah The result is a nuanced portrait of ageing as both a lived reality and a cultural paradigm in medieval Jewish society      Exegetical Crossroads Georges Tamer, Regina Grundmann, Assaad Elias Kattan, Karl Pinggéra, 2017-12-18 The art of interpreting Holy Scriptures flourished throughout the culturally heterogeneous pre modern Orient among Jews Christians and Muslims Different ways of interpretation developed within each religion not without considering the others How were the interactions and how productive were they for the further development of these traditions Have there been blurred spaces of scholarly activity that transcended sectarian borders What was the role played by mutual influences in profiling the own tradition against the others These and other related questions are critically treated in the present volume      Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia A.C.S. Peacock, Bruno De Nicola, 2016-03-09 Islam and Christianity in Medieval Anatolia offers a comparative approach to understanding the spread of Islam and Muslim culture in medieval Anatolia It aims to reassess work in the field since the 1971 classic by Speros Vryonis The Decline of Hellenism in Asia Minor and the Process of Islamization which treats the process of transformation from a Byzantinist perspective Since then research has offered insights into individual aspects of Christian Muslim relations but no overview has appeared Moreover very few scholars of Islamic studies have examined the problem meaning evidence in Arabic Persian and Turkish has been somewhat neglected at the expense of Christian sources and too little attention has been given to material culture The essays in this volume examine the interaction between Christianity and Islam in medieval Anatolia through three distinct angles opening with a substantial introduction by the editors to explain both the research background and the historical problem making the work accessible to scholars from other fields The first group of essays examines the Christian experience of living under Muslim rule comparing their experiences in several of the major Islamic states of Anatolia between the eleventh and fifteenth centuries especially the Seljuks and the Ottomans The second set of essays examines encounters between Christianity and Islam in art and intellectual life They highlight the ways in which some traditions were shared across confessional divides suggesting the existence of a common artistic and hence cultural vocabulary The final section focusses on the process of Islamisation above all as seen from the Arabic Persian and Turkish textual evidence with special attention to the role of Sufism      Characterization in Midrash and Medieval Jewish Bible Commentaries Sivan Nir, 2024-12-13 Sivan Nir meticulously examines the reimaginings of the biblical figures Balaam Jeremiah and Esther in a wide range of Jewish texts from second century rabbinic sources to medieval Jewish biblical commentaries Nir s unique approach analyzes the continuity or lack thereof that emerges when characterization is viewed in relation to and in contrast with its cross cultural context including the contemporary conventions found in Hellenistic rhetoric and novels Byzantine Christian literature Islamic adab and Mu tazila literature and more Such an approach reveals a transition from typological depictions to richer more lifelike portrayals a transformation shaped by rival notions of literature and history Nir translates the sources into accessible English for students and scholars of not only Jewish exegesis but also those in Christian theology Islamic studies and world literature     The Cambridge Companion to Medieval Jewish Philosophy Daniel H. Frank, Oliver Leaman, 2003-09-11 From the ninth to the fifteenth centuries Jewish thinkers living in Islamic and Christian lands philosophized about Judaism Influenced first by Islamic theological speculation and the great philosophers of classical antiquity and then in the late medieval period by Christian Scholasticism Jewish philosophers and scientists reflected on the nature of language about God the scope and limits of human understanding the eternity or createdness of the world prophecy and divine providence the possibility of human freedom and the relationship between divine and human law Though many viewed philosophy as a dangerous threat others incorporated it into their understanding of what it is to be a Jew This Companion presents all the major Jewish thinkers of the period the philosophical and non philosophical contexts of their thought and the interactions between Jewish and non Jewish philosophers It is a comprehensive introduction to a vital period of Jewish intellectual history     Interpreting Scriptures in Judaism, Christianity and Islam Mordechai Z. Cohen, Adele Berlin, 2016-06-06 This comparative study traces Jewish Christian and Muslim scriptural interpretation from antiquity to modernity with special emphasis on the pivotal medieval period It focuses on three areas responses in the different faith traditions to tensions created by the need to transplant scriptures into new cultural and linguistic contexts changing conceptions of the literal sense and its importance vis vis non literal senses such as the figurative spiritual and midrashic and ways in which classical rhetoric and poetics informed or were resisted in interpretation Concentrating on points of intersection the authors bring to light previously hidden aspects of methods and approaches in Judaism Christianity and Islam This volume opens new avenues for interdisciplinary analysis and will benefit scholars and students of biblical studies religious studies medieval studies Islamic studies Jewish studies comparative religions and theory of interpretation     The Majlis Hava Lazarus-Yafeh, 1999 This book deals with a well known and widespread phenomenon in medieval Islam which has not been studied in detail The Majlis pl Majalis is a forum devoted to interreligious polemics as well as to the discussion of a variety of other topics The concept and practise of the Majlis are examined from different angles by ten scholars approach H Kuhne     The Early Karaite Tradition of Hebrew Grammatical Thought Geoffrey Khan, 2017-07-03 One of the earliest Karaite grammatical texts that have come down to us from the Middle Ages is the Diquduq by Ab Ya q b Y suf ibn N of Jerusalem It is a grammatical commentary on the Hebrew Bible This volume presents a critical edition of a large section of that Hebrew grammatical text together with an annotated English translation and a detailed analysis of its contents The analysis concerns the tradition of Hebrew grammatical thought that was developed in the Middle Ages by grammarians belonging to the Karaite movement of Judaism The work is an important contribution to the study of the history of Hebrew grammar and to the study of medieval Jewish thought in general It brings to light for the first time one of the major Hebrew grammatical texts from the tenth century which predates most of the works of the Spanish school of Hebrew grammar
