Performance Cultures as Epistemic Cultures, Volume II Torsten Jost,Erika Fischer-Lichte,Milos Kotic,Astrid Schenka,2023-04-07 This volume investigates performance cultures as rich and dynamic environments of knowledge practice through which distinctive epistemologies are continuously re generated cultivated and celebrated Epistemologies are dynamic formations of rules tools and procedures not only for understanding but also for doing knowledges This volume deals in particular with epistemological challenges posed by practices and processes of interweaving performance cultures These challenges arise in artistic and academic contexts because of hierarchies between epistemologies European colonialism worked determinedly violently and often with devastating effects on instituting and sustaining a hegemony of modern Euro American rules of knowing in many parts of the world Therefore Interweaving Epistemologies critically interrogates the im possibilities of interweaving epistemologies in artistic and academic contexts today Writing from diverse geographical locations and knowledge cultures the book s contributors philosophers and political scientists as well as practitioners and scholars of theater performance and dance investigate prevailing forms of epistemic ignorance and violence

They introduce key concepts and theories that enable critique of unequal power relations between epistemologies Moreover contributions explore historical cases of interweaving epistemologies and examine innovative present day methods of working across and through epistemological divides in nonhegemonic sustainable creative and critical ways Ideal for practitioners students and researchers of theater performance and dance Interweaving Epistemologies emphasizes the urgent need to acknowledge study and promote epistemological plurality and diversity in practices of performance making as well as in scholarship on theater and performance around the globe today

Sanskrit Poetics in the Postcolonial Space Sreenath V.S.,2023-12-30 The book positions Sanskrit poetics in a postcolonial context to understand its contemporary relevance and proposes a productive future direction for this system of knowledge The fundamental argument against Sanskrit poetics in modern literary circles is that it is a system of knowledge that does not have any contemporary relevance since the idea of literature conceptualised by Sanskrit poetics is incompatible with the modern notion of literature The general argument is that Sanskrit poetics has only the archaic value of a museum piece This book which resists such an extremist approach to Sanskrit poetics aims to provide a new direction for Sanskrit poetics to generate new knowledge about this epistemology The new approach that the author proposes is explicated through three major theoretical positions in Sanskrit poetics namely dhvani aucitya and vakrokti

Ancient Greek and Contemporary Performance Professor Graham Ley,2015-03-26 This collection of published and unpublished essays connects antiquity with the present by debating the current prohibiting conceptions of performance theory and the insistence on a limited version of the contemporary The theatre is attractive for its history and also for its lively present These essays explore aspects of historical performance in ancient Greece and link thoughts on its significance to wider reflections on cultural theory from around the world and performance in the contemporary postmodern era concluding with ideas on the new theatre of the diaspora Each section of the book includes a short introduction the essays and shorter interventions take various forms but all are concerned with theatre with practical aspects of theatre and theoretical dimensions of its study The subjects range from ancient Greece to the present day and include speculations on the origin of ancient tragic acting the kinds of festival performance in ancient Athens how performance is reflected in the tragic scripts the significance of the presence of the chorus technology and the ancient theatre comparative thinking on Greek Indian and Japanese theory a critique of the rhetoric of performance theory and of postmodernism reflections on modernism and theatre and on the importance of adaptation to theatre studies of the theatre and diaspora in Britain
