Santa Barbara Architecture From Spanish Colonial To Modern:

Santa Barbara Architecture, from Spanish Colonial to Modern Herb Andree, Noel Young, Patricia Halloran, 1995

This documentation of the architecture of Santa Barbara California has grown since the first edition was published in 1970 the second 1980 saw an expanded format and some 150 new photographs and the third includes still more pages and photographs The architectural examples presented here selected from thousands taken on a block by block survey were chosen for purity of style historical significance and uniqueness Each clear and beautiful black and white photograph includes date of construction name of architect designer or builder address and alterations or additions to the building 11x10 Annotation c by Book News Inc Portland Or Spanish-Colonial Architecture in the United States Rexford Newcomb, 2012-12-31 Classic study by noted authority traces Spanish architectural influence in Florida the Gulf Coast Texas New Mexico Arizona and California 195 photographs and 50 measured drawings Material Dreams Kevin Starr, 1990-04-12 Kevin Starr is the foremost chronicler of the California dream and indeed one of the finest narrative historians writing today on any subject The first two installments of his monumental cultural history Americans and the California Dream have been hailed as mature well proportioned and marvelously diverse and diverting The New York Times Book Review and rich in details and alive with interesting and sometimes incredible people Los Angeles Times Now in Material Dreams Starr turns to one of the most vibrant decades in the Golden State's history the 1920s when some two million Americans migrated to California the vast majority settling in or around Los Angeles In a lively and eminently readable narrative Starr reveals how Los Angeles arose almost defiantly on a site lacking many of the advantages required for urban development creating itself out of sheer will the Great Gatsby of American cities He describes how William Ellsworth Smyth the Peter the Hermit of the Irrigation Crusade the self educated Irish engineer William Mulholland who built the main aqueducts to Los Angeles and George Chaffey who diverted the Colorado River transforming desert into the lush Imperial Valley brought life supporting water to the arid South He examines the discovery of oil the boosters and land developers the evangelists such as Bob Shuler the Methodist Savanarola of Los Angeles and Aimee Semple McPherson and countless other colorful figures of the period There are also fascinating sections on the city's architecture the impact of the automobile on city planning the Hollywood film community the L A literati and much more By the end of the decade Los Angeles had tripled in population and become the fifth largest city in the nation In Material Dreams Starr captures this explosive growth in a narrative tour de force that combines wide ranging scholarship with captivating prose The Country Houses of John F. Staub Stephen Fox, 2007 This ambitious study of Staub's work by architectural historian Stephen Fox goes beyond a description of Staub's houses Fox analyzes the roles of space structure and decoration in creating defining and maintaining social class structures and expectations and shows how Staub was able to incorporate these elements and understandings into the elegant buildings he designed for his clients In the process he contributes greatly to a fuller understanding of Houston's emergence as a premier American city

A. Simpson, 2004 Between 1880 and 1940 California cities were in the vanguard in creating comprehensive city plans and zoning ordinances that came to characterize modern American city growth This book reveals the means by which property owning middle class women achieved entry into the male dominated sphere of urban planning It suggests that women in California were not excluded from public life. Instead they embraced the middle class ideology of propertied self interest and participated to the fullest extent possible in the urban struggle for regional dominance that shaped this period of western history. Likewise as urban historians have presented this story as essentially male this work suggests that although California's urban elite often maintained a division of labor along traditional gender lines they clearly worked in a cross gender alliance to shape a regional identity based on a commitment to urban growth. How Architecture Works Witold

Rybczynski, 2013-10-08 An essential toolkit for understanding architecture as both art form and the setting for our everyday lives. We spend most of our days and nights in buildings living and working and sometimes playing. Buildings often overawe us with their beauty. Architecture is both setting for our everyday lives and public art form but it remains mysterious to most of us. In How Architecture Works Witold Rybczynski one of our best most stylish critics and winner of the Vincent Scully Prize for his architectural writing answers our most fundamental questions about how good and not so good buildings are designed and constructed. Introducing the reader to the rich and varied world of modern architecture he takes us behind the scenes revealing how architects as different as Frank Gehry, Renzo Piano and Robert A M Stern envision and create their designs. He teaches us how to read plans how buildings respond to their settings and how the smallest detail of a stair balustrade for instance can convey an architect's vision. Ranging widely from a war memorial in London to an opera house in St Petersburg from the National Museum of African American History and Culture in Washington D C to a famous architect's private retreat in downtown Princeton How Architecture Works explains the central elements that make up good building design. It is an enlightening humanist's toolkit for thinking about the built environment and seeing it afresh. Architecture if it is any good speaks to all of us. Rybczynski writes. This revelatory book is his grand tour of architecture today. Catalog of the Avery

Mediterranean Marc Appleton, 2007 In the early 20th century architects designing houses for the balmy climate of Southern California were influenced by the style of the villas and palaces that dominated the architecture of Italy, France, Spain, Greece and Morocco and a few other North African locales. The resulting style noted for its pleasing combination of simplicity and dignity for its often asymmetrical undecorated facades reflected romantic European forms and yet distinguished itself by adding American ingenuity. Prime examples of this include Villa Narcissa widely celebrated for its unimposing grandeur and Casa Leon with its stunning hillside location and ocean views. Included here are residences by noted architects such as Julia Morgan, Bertram Goodhue, Addison Mizner, George Washington Smith, Wallace Neff and others. While some of the houses are lavishly decorated villas with lush landscaping others are more spare creations. What all these interpretations of the California Mediterranean style have in common is an indoor outdoor approach to living. Captivating California Charm:
