provides rare insight into their lives demonstrating the contributions Metis women made to the building of the Prairie West This is a compelling tale of two women s acts of quiet resistance in the final days of the British Empire Biography of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal James William Pedley,1915 J. F. Boshier,2010-04 During the century 1850 1950 Vancouver Island attracted Imperial officers and other Imperials from India the British Isles and elsewhere in the Empire Victoria was the main British port on the north west Pacific Coast for forty years before the city of Vancouver was founded in 1886 to be the coastal terminus of the Canadian Pacific Railway These two coastal cities were historically and geographically different The Island joined Canada in 1871 and thirty five years later the Royal Navy withdrew from Esquimalt but Island communities did not lose their Imperial character until the 1950s P 4 of cover A Knight in Politics Carman Miller,2010-07-01 Derided as a buffoon and an ignorant civilian by military critics Borden became the public s lightning rod and Prime Minster Wilfrid Laurier s point man for negotiating Canada s sensitive military agenda during an era of high imperialism Carman Miller presents a balanced assessment that seamlessly blends history and social and cultural analysis to highlight Borden s relationships within the contemporary web of nepotism patronage business and family A detailed account of the leading role Borden played in the development of modern Canada A Knight in Politics showcases the transition to corporate capitalism and changes in public morality and social and political relationships during the Age of Camelot Dominion Stephen Bown,2024-10-22 NATIONAL BESTSELLER Named Best Book of the Year by the Globe and Mail History Today and The Hill Times A gripping and eye opening account of the building of the engineering triumph that created a nation the Canadian Pacific Railway The sharp decline of the demand for fur in the late nineteenth century could have spelled economic disaster for the venerable Hudson s Bay Company but an idea emerged in political and business circles in Ottawa and Montreal to connect the disparate British colonies With over 3 000 kilometres of track much of it driven through wildly inhospitable terrain the Canadian Pacific Railway would be the longest railway in the world and the most difficult to build Its construction was the defining event of its era and a catalyst for powerful global forces The times were marked by greed hubris blatant empire building oppression corruption and theft They were good for some hard for most disastrous for others The CPR enabled a new country but it came at a terrible price In Dominion Stephen R Bown widens our view of the past to include the adventures and hardships of explorers and surveyors the resistance of Indigenous peoples and the terrific and horrific work of many thousands of labourers His portrayal of the powerful forces that were moulding the world during this time provides a revelatory new picture of modern Canada s creation as an independent state The Court of Queen's Bench of Manitoba, 1870-1950 Dale Brawn,Osgoode Society for Canadian Legal History,2006-01-01 This study of the Manitoba judiciary is not only the first biographical history to examine an entire provincial bench it is also one of the first studies to offer an internal view of the political nature of the judicial appointment process Dale Brawn has penned the biographies of the first thirty three men appointed to Manitoba s Court of Queen s Bench The relative youth of Manitoba as a province and the small size of its legal profession makes possible an exceptionally detailed investigation of the background of those appointed to the province's highest trial court. The biographical data that Brawn has collected for this book highlights the extent to which judicial candidates underwent a socialization process designed to produce a legal elite whose members shared remarkably similar views and ways of thinking. In addition, these biographies suggest that until at least 1950, seats on provincial benches were rewards for political services rendered. Many lawyers became judges not because of their legal ability but because they had made themselves known in the communities in which they practiced. This fascinating study offers an intimate look at personalities ranging from prime ministers to members of the bench and both senior levels of government. Quest

MacLaren, a former diplomat posted to London, offers an insider's perspective on immigration, Canada's trade and finance, the coronation of George VI, the Paris Peace Conference of 1919, and NATO. For many years, the position of high commissioner was so important that the incumbent had to be a minister in the Canadian government. MacLaren argues that despite today's shift in Anglo-Canadian relations, a political appointee can be more effective in the role. Kingdom of the Mind Peter E. Rider, 2006-04-05

Many Canadians with a Scottish background still feel the pull of their Gaelic origins. During the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries, Scots dominated Montreal and by extension the rest of the country. Their habits and attitudes influenced business, education, science, and medicine, the military, and even the way Canadians imagined themselves. The Honourable John

Norquay Gerald Friesen, 2024-04-12 The life and times of the Premier from Red River. John Norquay, orphan and prodigy, was a leader among the Scots-Cree peoples of western Canada. Born in the Red River Settlement, he farmed, hunted, traded, and taught school before becoming a legislator, cabinet minister, and from 1878 to 1887, premier of Manitoba. Once described as

Louis Riel's alter ego he skirmished with prime minister John A Macdonald clashed with railway baron George Stephen and endured racist taunts while championing the interests of the Prairie West in battles with investment bankers Ottawa politicians and the CPR His contributions to the development of Canada's federal system and his dealings with issues of race and racism deserve attention today Recounted here by Canadian historian Gerald Friesen Norquay's life story ignites contemporary conversations around the nature of empire and Canada's own imperial past Drawing extensively on recently opened letters and financial papers that offer new insights into his business family and political life Friesen reveals Norquay to be a thoughtful statesman and generous patriarch This masterful biography of the Premier from Red River sheds welcome light on a neglected historical figure and a tumultuous time for Canada and Manitoba

The Dundurn Group The Dundurn Group, Country houses and the British Empire, 1700-1930 Stephanie Barczewski, 2017-02-01 Country houses and the British empire 1700 1930 assesses the economic and cultural links between country houses and the Empire between the eighteenth and twentieth centuries Using sources from over fifty British and Irish archives it enables readers to better understand the impact of the empire upon the British metropolis by showing both the geographical variations and its different cultural manifestations Barczewski offers a rare scholarly analysis of the history of country houses that goes beyond an architectural or biographical study and recognises their importance as the physical embodiments of imperial wealth and reflectors of imperial cultural influences In so doing she restores them to their true place of centrality in British culture over the last three centuries and provides fresh insights into the role of the Empire in the British metropolis
