Visions of the Land Michael A. Bryson, 2002-06-29 The work of John Charles Fremont Richard Byrd Charlotte Perkins Gilman John Wesley Powell Susan Cooper Rachel Carson and Loren Eiseley represents a widely divergent body of writing Yet despite their range of genres including exploration narratives technical reports natural histories scientific autobiographies fictional utopias nature writing and popular scientific literature these seven authors produced strikingly connected representations of nature and the practice of science in America from about 1840 to 1970 Michael A Bryson provides a thoughtful examination of the authors their work and the ways in which science and nature unite them Visions of the Land explores how our environmental attitudes have influenced and been shaped by various scientific perspectives from the time of western expansion and geographic exploration in the mid nineteenth century to the start of the contemporary environmental movement in the twentieth century Bryson offers a literary critical analysis of how writers of different backgrounds scientific training and geographic experiences represented nature through various kinds of natural science from natural history to cartography to resource management to ecology and evolution and in the process explored the possibilities and limits of science itself Visions of the Land examines the varied sometimes conflicting but always fascinating ways in which we have defined the relations among science nature language and the human community Ultimately it is an extended meditation on the capacity of using science to live well within nature Biographical Dictionary of American and Canadian Naturalists and Environmentalists George A. Cevalasco, Lorne Hammond, Richard Harmond, Keir B.

Sterling,1997-12-09 Casting a wide net this volume provides personal and professional information on some 445 American and Canadian naturalists and environmentalists who lived from the late 15th century to the late 20th century It includes explorers who published works on the natural history of North America conservationists ecologists environmentalists wildlife management specialists park planners national park administrators zoologists botanists natural historians geographers geologists academics museum scientists and administrators military personnel travellers government officials political figures and writers and artists concerned with the environment Some of the subjects are well known The accomplishments of others are little known Each entry contains a succinct but careful evaluation of the subject s career and contributions Entries also include up to date bibliographies and information concerning manuscript sources Mumford, Tate, Eiseley Gale H. Carrithers, Jr.,1992-01-01 Though of diverse backgrounds and training Mumford Tate and Eiseley shared remarkably concordant and convincing views of the state of twentieth century American society All three considered America to be benighted by a dominant myth the myth of the machine in Mumford s phrase that resulted in cultural degeneration Through an examination of selected works of each critic Carrithers explains how these writers both identified and fought against this myth Carrithers asserts that Mumford Tate and Eiseley in their essays revived prophecy as a mode of expression and as a means of appraising culture in a broad historical context Like the biblical prophets the three concerned themselves not so much with the future as with the present They sought to unmask the falseness the moral emptiness of a reductive abstractive mechanized model of the world Carrithers considers Mumford as he moved from conflicted stances in the four volumes of The Renewal of Life to the more assured and comprehensive vision of society he portrayed in the two volume The Myth of the Machine He examines Tate s critique of American culture as it developed from his youthful involvement with the Fugitives and Agrarians to in later years an increasingly coherent but comber construal of the world s plight Finally he describes Eiseley s fully emergent rejection of reductive scientism and temporalism a large part of all that is crushing us Eiseley wrote evident in *The Immense Journey*and other books Mumford Tate and Eiseley these watchers in the night all wrote against the grain of most of their contemporaries posing questions about generally accepted current values and proffering alternatives that would make the world a more humane and transcendent place Gale Carrithers thoughtful chalenging analysis of their efforts will be required reading for anyone who wishes a better understanding of our age History of Physical Anthropology Frank Spencer,1997 The comparative study of humans as biological organisms their evolution and their physiological and anatomical functions and ecology of primates surveys the entire field and summarizes and organizes the basic knowledge fundamental principles and development Resources in Education ,1992-10 Encyclopedia of World Biography: Diderot-Forbes Suzanne Michele Bourgoin,Paula Kay Byers,1998 Presents brief biographical sketches which provide vital statistics as well as information on the importance of the person listed 100 Most Popular Scientists for Young Adults Kendall Haven,Donna Clark,1999-05-15 Revealing the career histories of successful 20th century scientists this exciting

Humans as Components of Ecosystems Mark J. McDonnell, Steward T.A. Pickett, 2012-12-06 This book a product of the fourth Cary Conference amply demonstrates the achievement of a major goal of all Cary Conferences That is Cary Conferences were conceived to provide a forum for comprehensive discussion of major ecological issues from more philosophical and comprehensive perspectives The Institute of Ecosystem Studies is proud to make its staff and facilities available on a biennial basis for the purpose of initiating and fostering these important discussions On the one hand the influence of humans on ecosystems may be quite obvious such as when a forest is cut On the other humans live within and among ecosystems but ecologists largely have avoided making detailed and rigorous analyses of the more subtle effects that human activities generate Indeed most ecologists have sought out rather pristine or remote areas for study rather than those which include humans This book brings together a stimulating mix of disciplines to highlight and evaluate these problems as well as the opportunities of including humans as integral components in studies of natural ecosystems An exciting dialogue has ensued

Hopefully this book will convey some of the excitement and challenges that were generated at this Cary Conference Book Review Digest ,1989 Excerpts from and citations to reviews of more than 8 000 books each year drawn from coverage of 109 publications Book Review Digest provides citations to and excerpts of reviews of current juvenile and adult fiction and nonfiction in the English language Reviews of the following types of books are excluded government publications textbooks and technical books in the sciences and law Reviews of books on science for the general reader however are included The reviews originate in a group of selected periodicals in the humanities social sciences and general science published in the United States Canada and Great Britain Publisher Encyclopedia of Religion and Nature Bron Taylor,Jeffrey Kaplan,2005-01-01 No Marketing Blurb Inside the Verse Novel Linda Weste,2023-07-28 In these twenty two interviews with verse novelists from the UK USA Australia and Canada Linda Weste explores the uniqueness of storytelling through poetry and the genre of the verse novel Her subjects are notable representatives of countries where the genre thrives among them is Bernardine Evaristo joint winner of the Booker Prize in 2019 and what they have to say enriches our understanding of the many ways poetry and narratives can meld to create a unique reading experience Choice ,1992
