Racism And Ethnicity Critical Issues In New Zealand Society:

Racism and Ethnicity Paul Spoonley,1988 Meaningful Inconsistencies Neriko Musha Doerr,2009-07-01 School differentiates students and provides differential access to various human and material resources along a range of axes from elected subjects and academic achievement to ethnicity age gender or the language they speak These categorizations affected throughout the world by neoliberal reforms that prioritize market forces in transforming educational institutions are especially stark in societies that recognize their bi or multicultural makeup through bilingual education A small town in Aotearoa New Zealand with its contemporary shift toward official biculturalism and extensive free marketization of schooling is a prime example Set in the microcosm of a secondary school with a bilingual program this important volume closely examines not only the implications of categorizing individuals in ethnic terms in their everyday life but also the shapes and meaning of education within the discourse of academic achievement It is an essential resource for those interested in bilingual education and its effects on the formations of subjectivities ethnic relations and nationhood Narratives of Migrant and Refugee Discrimination in New Zealand Angela McCarthy,2022-08-31 This book explores the question of whether the conceptualisation of New Zealand as a welcoming nation is accurate Examining historical and contemporary narratives of migrant and refugee discrimination it considers the economic social political cultural and historical contexts from which discrimination emerges and its repercussions Alert to race and ethnicity gender age class religion and inter ethnic migrant conflict this volume traverses an array of discriminatory practices including xenophobia racism and sectarianism and responses to them With rich evidence fascinating new insights and engagement comparatively and transnationally with global themes of exploitation exclusion and inequalities Narratives of Migrant and Refugee Discrimination in New Zealand will appeal to scholars across the humanities and social sciences with interests in migration and diaspora studies race and ethnicity and refugee studies The Routledge Handbook of Architecture, Urban Space and Politics, Volume II Nikolina Bobic,Farzaneh Haghighi,2024-11-22 Architecture and the urban are connected to challenges around violence security race and ideology spectacle and data The first volume of this handbook extensively explored these oppressive roles This second volume illustrates that escaping the corporatized and bureaucratized orders of power techno managerial and consumer oriented capitalist economic models is more urgent and necessary than ever before Herein lies the political role of architecture and urban space including the ways through which they can be transformed and alternative political realities constituted The volume explores the methods and spatial practices required to activate the political dimension and the possibility for alternative practices to operate in the existing oppressive systems while not being swallowed by these structures Fostering new political consciousness is explored in terms of the following themes Events and Dissidence Biopolitics Ethics and Desire Climate and Ecology Urban Commons and Social Participation Marginalities and Postcolonialism Volume II embraces engagement across disciplines and offers a wide range of projects and critical analyses across the so called Global North and South This multidisciplinary collection of 36 chapters provides the reader with an extensive resource of case studies and ways of thinking for architecture and urban space to become more emancipatory Chapter 1 of this book is freely available as a downloadable Open Access PDF at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> under a Creative Commons Attribution CC BY 4.0 license

Understanding Teaching and Learning Baljit Kaur, 2012-12-17 How do children individually and collectively make meanings of their learning experiences How can teachers become aware of children's meaning making on an ongoing basis Is it possible and useful to create an integrated theory of student learning How can classroom research enhance critical understandings of the situated nature of learning and teaching while taking into account the systemic and educational policy contexts How do differences such as class race culture gender and sexualities interact with student learning How can teachers respond effectively to the realities of today's diverse classrooms What are the current and emerging issues in classroom research These are just some of the questions this book grapples with It pays tribute to Professor Graham Nuthall's 1935-2004 research contributions a pioneering and internationally renowned classroom researcher of teaching and learning from New Zealand It has been written by emerging and experienced classroom researchers from several countries as part of a project aimed at building on and extending Nuthall's research and promoting the conducting teaching and supervision of classroom research The authors engage critically with theoretical methodological and pedagogical possibilities of their research using Nuthall's work as a springboard As a result all authors make links between theory and practice Further several leading international researchers contribute comments on future directions for classroom research and its relevance for teaching and learning

Understanding teaching and Learning Classroom Research Revisited would be of interest to practicing or prospective teachers and teacher educators as well as scholars and students of teaching and learning

Yearbook of New Zealand Jurisprudence, 2005

Critical Issues in Anti-racist Research Methodologies George Jerry Sefa Dei, Gurpreet Singh Johal, 2005 Anti racism studies have blossomed over the years with scholarship and political work reinforcing each other to cement anti racist change But how do we understand anti racist research How is anti racist research methodology different from other methods of research investigation What are the principles of anti racism research This edited collection attempts to provide some answers by bringing together works that examine the perils and desires of anti racist research with a particular focus on the notion of difference and a serious consideration of the race gender class and sexuality intersections implications of educational research

Routledge Library Editions: Education Mini-Set L Sociology of Education Various, 2021-06-23 Mini set L Sociology of Education re issues 48 volumes originally published between 1928 and 1990 The books in this mini set discuss Teaching and social change research processes in education class race culture and education marxist perspectives in the sociology of education the family and education the sociology of the classroom and school organization

Towards Successful Schooling (RLE Edu L Sociology of Education) Hugh Lauder, Cathy Wylie, 2012-05-23 The editors have compiled this critical and comparative study of changes which took place in the New Zealand education system in the second half of the twentieth century For other Western societies who have felt the impact of New Right policies the New Zealand case is interesting because it provides some indication of how policies of decentralization in education might be used to develop egalitarian and democratic educational policies In recent years there have been major changes to educational systems in the Western world Often these changes have been justified by reference to successful educational practices in other countries However it is not always possible simply to abstract educational practices from one context and apply them in another successfully Moreover claims that policies in one country are more successful than those in another have to be treated cautiously there are always problems in making valid comparisons between the educational performances of different countries It is important therefore that critical and comparative studies are made of educational systems which take full account of the contexts in which they are embedded

Racialized Correctional Governance Claire Spivakovsky,2016-05-23 Racialized Correctional Governance examines problems in the relationship between criminology and racialized issues It questions current models for discussing issues of race in criminal justice systems and asks why a comprehensive theory of race and criminal justice has yet to develop in the discipline It takes into account the full nature of problems facing racialized peoples in criminal justice systems the developments and tensions in criminological theory and practice as well as the scope of racialized criminal justice issues and where they occur Suggesting that current explanations for the over representation of racialized peoples in the criminal justice system are inadequate the book explores the mutual constructions of race and criminal justice It examines the shortcomings of current discourse giving an account of how race criminal justice and criminology are interrelated Aiming to provide criminology with tools to engage with issues of race and criminal justice the book develops and applies a set of rules to a series of case studies and proposes ideas for transforming institutional practice

Towards a Grammar of Race Arcia Tecun,Lana Lopesi,Anisha Sankar,2022-10-21 A search for new ways to talk about race in Aotearoa New Zealand brought together this powerful group of scholars writers and activists For these authors attempts to confront racism and racial violence often stall against a failure to see how power works through race across our modern social worlds The result is a country where racism is all too often left unnamed and unchecked voices are erased the colonial past ignored and silence passes for understanding By bringing what is unspoken into focus Towards a Grammar of Race seeks to articulate and confront ideas of race in Aotearoa New Zealand an exploration that includes racial capitalism colonialism white supremacy and anti Blackness A recurring theme across the book is the inescapable entanglement of local and global manifestations of race Each of the contributors brings their own experiences and insights to the complexities of life in a racialised society and together their words make an important contribution to our shared and future lives on these shores Contributors to this book Pounamu Jade Aikman Faisal Al Asaad Mahdis Azarmandi Simon Barber Garrick Cooper Morgan Godfery Kassie Hartendorp Guled Mire Tze Ming Mok Adele Norris Nathan Rew Vera Seyra Beth Teklezgi Selome Teklezgi and Patrick Thomsen

Mapping the Language of Racism Margaret Wetherell, Jonathan Potter, 1992 Divided into two parts this book reviews and criticizes sociological and psychological theoretical approaches to the topic of racism and introduces the challenges to them posed by discourse analysis It examines how white New Zealanders make sense of their own history and actions towards the Maori minority

The Boundaries of Mixedness Erica Chito Childs, 2021-05-14 The Boundaries of Mixedness tackles the burgeoning field of critical mixed race studies bringing together research that spans five continents and more than ten countries Research on mixedness is growing yet there is still much debate over what exactly mixed race means and whether it is a useful term Despite a growing focus on and celebration of mixedness globally particularly in the media societies around the world are grappling with how and why crossing socially constructed boundaries of race ethnicity and other markers of difference matter when considering those who date marry raise families or navigate their identities across these boundaries What we find collectively through the ten studies in this book is that in every context there is a hierarchy of mixedness both in terms of intimacy and identity This hierarchy of intimacy renders certain groups as more or less marriable socially constructed around race ethnicity caste religion skin color and or region Relatedly there is also a hierarchy of identities where certain races languages ethnicities and religions are privileged and valued differently These differences emerge out of particular local histories and contemporary contexts yet there are also global realities that transcend place and space The Boundaries of Mixedness is a significant new contribution to mixed race studies for academics researchers and advanced students of Ethnic and Racial Studies Sociology History and Public Policy This book was originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Intercultural Studies

The Historical Globalization of Colorism Ronald E Hall, 2022-01-01 This topical book shows that racism by skin color is much more embedded and prevalent in the modern world than racism by race In the aftermath of globalization humanity has experienced unprecedented levels of interaction This book presents evidence to show that in the 21st century which is dependent on ever expanding communication technologies and new forms of visual media actually exacerbate historical mores of colorism in the lives of humanity i e African Asian Latinx Native and European descent The book discusses the historical roots and current values of idealization of light skin skin bleaching practices stereotypes of skin color developed through migration and cultural assimilation and health and educational consequences of colorism

Comparing Super-Diversity Fran Meissner, Steven

Vertovec, 2017-10-02 The concept of super diversity has received considerable attention since it was introduced in Ethnic and Racial Studies in 2007 reflecting a broadening interest in finding new ways to talk about contemporary social complexity This book brings together a collection of essays which empirically and theoretically examine super diversity and the multi dimensional shifts in migration patterns to which the notion refers These shifts entail a worldwide diversification of migration channels differentiations of legal statuses diverging patterns of gender and age and variance in migrants human capital Across the contributions super diversity is subject to two modes of comparison a side by side studies contrasting different places and emergent conditions of super diversity and b juxtaposed arguments that have differentially found use in utilizing or criticizing super diversity descriptively methodologically or with reference to policy and public practice The contributions discuss super diversity and its implications in nine cities located in eight countries and four continents This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies
