Bosnia as Civic State and Global Citizen Philip C. Aka, 2021-11-22 For long the narrative in constitutional law public policy and statecraft is that Bosnia must join the EU as a matter of economic development and nation building This book introduces another dimension to the narrative overlooked without which the story remains one dimensional rather than balanced That missing element in the literature this study integrates is a reformed Bosnian state along the lines proposed in this book that operates outside the EU The setting of the work within the fields of knowledge of comparative constitutional law and public choice theory provides added value to the reader including students scholars policy makers and lay persons      Our Last Best Hope -President John F. Kennedy M. James Wilkinson,2007-12 As America tries to deal with the consequences of its misfired Iraq expedition and the host of other challenges lurking in a murky future this book will sharpen our thoughts on the uses and misuses of the UN and where it fits into Washington policies The authors suggest an approach and specific policy elements that merit serious attention even as they make clear they do not expect the UN will be any kind of panacea Morton Abramowitz Senior Fellow at The Century Foundation By the same authors The Third Try can the UN work Published in Australia by Scribe Books in 2005 The Third Try was selected for the short list of a prestigious New South Wales Literary Prize The German translation by Dr Michael Haupt was released in 2006 by Parthas Verlag in Berlin from Third Try Australian reviews a brilliant analysis of an often maligned organization that pledged international kinship and is struggling to reinvent itself to stand for something meaningful An extremely significant book that is sure to rouse the public from its slumber Five stars Tony O Loughlin Australian Bookseller Publisher October 2005 written for the lay reader and is set out in a clear straightforward style Its accessible manner makes welcome reading when facing such a daunting subject Chris Saliba WebDiary      Human Rights in Nigeria's External Relations in the Age of General Muhammadu Buhari and His Successors Philip C.

Aka,2024-07-17 Under the Fourth Republic since 1999 the challenge Nigerian leaders face like never before is how to create a state that matches the expectations of their diverse peoples at home and abroad Taking this proposition as starting point this book advances proposals for a human right policy referred to alternately in the work as principled foreign policy for Nigeria under the Fourth Republic taking advantage of the inestimable opportunity afforded by General Muhammadu Buhari s departure from the political scene on May 29 2023 after the famine domestically and externally wrought by his two terms of office as President It is a broad ranging argument draped in the less arcane constitutional vocabulary and material of human rights for thoroughgoing reforms at home and abroad as the only antidote to the nation building dilemmas Nigeria confronts in the first quarter of the twenty first century Buhari s departure marks the end of military teleguidance of Nigerian politics under the Fourth Republic in the camouflage of democratic rule a birthmark of remote control dating back to the first military intervention in the country in January 1966 These momentous events within Nigeria coincide with equally epoch making developments in the UK Nigeria s former colonial overlord with ripple effects in Nigeria signified by the death of Queen Elizabeth II after seven decades on the throne and the emergence of Prince Charles as King of England A new monarch in Britain adds to the opportunity that falls open for the reconfiguration of Nigeria s external relations with ramifications for the application of human rights in those relations Despite its known disabilities Nigeria has the potential infrastructure including its sizable population to conduct a human right policy if its leaders rationalize the country s resources more wisely      The Interrelation between the Right to Identity of Minorities and their Socio-economic Participation Kristin Henrard,2013-01-08 This edited volume sets out to unravel various dimensions of a particular topical question pertaining to minorities and minority protection which has not been explored yet more particularly the socio economic participation of minorities in relation to their right to respect for identity This interrelation and interaction is studied from a multi disciplinary perspective spanning a broad range of disciplines while drawing on a rich variety of case studies covering various corners of the world This interrelation manifests itself in distinctive ways for religious minorities ethnic minorities and indigenous peoples As it is impossible to provide a comprehensive coverage this volume aims to offer a range of articles that reveal the breadth of the theme under review while combining theoretical analysis with fascinating case studies

Christianity, Globalization, and Protective Homophobia Kapya Kaoma, 2017-11-16 This book examines how socio political assumptions inform and shape the contestation of sexuality on the African continent Across Africa the idea that homosexuality is un African un Christian un natural and un cultural is now well established This book analyzes politically and religiously inspired protective homophobia within the context of Africa s socioeconomic and political place in the global community The author builds upon on the ground research and his groundbreaking previous studies on the cultural politics of globalization in Africa to present a wide complex and interdisciplinary understanding of Africa s sexual politics

Modern Genocide Paul R. Bartrop, Steven Leonard Jacobs, 2014-12-17 This massive four volume work provides students with a close examination of 10 modern genocides enhanced by documents and introductions that provide additional historical and contemporary context for learning about and understanding these tragic events Modern Genocide The Definitive Resource and Document Collection spans nearly 1 700 pages presented in four volumes and includes more than 120 primary source documents making it ideal for high school and beginning college students studying modern genocide as part of a larger world history curriculum The coverage for each modern genocide from Herero to Darfur begins with an introductory essay that helps students conceptualize the conflict within an international context and enables them to better understand the complex role genocide has played in the modern world There are hundreds of entries on atrocities organizations individuals and other aspects of genocide each written to serve as a springboard to meaningful discussion and further research The coverage of each genocide includes an introductory overview an explanation of the causes consequences perpetrators victims and bystanders the international reaction a timeline of events an Analyze section that poses tough questions for readers to consider and provides scholarly pro and con responses to these historical conundrums and reference entries This integrated examination of genocides occurring in the modern era not only presents an unprecedented research tool on the subject but also challenges the readers to go back and examine other events historically and consequently consider important questions about human society in the present and the future All

Necessary Measures Carrie Walling, 2013-07-01 What prompts the United Nations Security Council to engage forcefully in some crises at high risk for genocide and ethnic cleansing but not others In All Necessary Measures Carrie Booth Walling identifies several systematic patterns in the stories that council members tell about conflicts and the policy solutions that result from them Drawing on qualitative comparative case studies spanning two decades including situations where the council has intervened to stop mass killing Somalia Bosnia Herzegovina and Sierra Leone as well as situations where it has not Rwanda Kosovo and Sudan Walling posits that the arguments council members make about the cause and character of conflict as well as the source of sovereign authority in target states have the potential to enable or constrain the use of military force in defense of human rights At a moment when constructivist scholars in international relations are pushing beyond empirical claims for the value of norms and toward critical analysis of such norms All Necessary Measures establishes discourse's real world explanatory power From her comparative chronology Walling demonstrates that humanitarian intervention becomes possible when the majority of Security Council members come to a shared understanding of the conflict perpetrators and victims and probable when the Council understands state sovereignty as complementary to human rights norms By illuminating the relationship between national interests and the core values of Security Council members and how it influences decision making All Necessary Measures suggests when and where the Security Council is likely to intervene in the future Navigating the Tension Between Sovereignty and Self-Determination in

Postcolonial Africa Philip C. Aka, 2024-01-16 This book addresses the unique challenges faced by Africa regarding peaceful self determination Unlike other regions Africa has seen limited success in nonviolent self determination campaigns Since 1989 only three African nations Namibia Eritrea and South Sudan have joined the UN after enduring prolonged and violent struggles for independence In a world characterized by constant change border alterations typically require armed conflicts in postcolonial Africa In response to this disconcerting trend the book offers pragmatic blueprints for achieving peace emphasizing constitutional approaches to navigate the delicate balance between sovereignty and self determination The work delves into the complexities of five self determination struggles spanning three African countries providing valuable insights into the challenges faced It distils six critical lessons from these case studies and presents fourteen blueprint proposals tailored to address the unique dynamics of postcolonial Africa where reconciling sovereignty and self determination remains a pressing concern
