Regionalization In A Globalizing World A Comparative Perspective On Forms Actors And Processes:

Regionalization in a Globalizing World Michael Schulz, Fredrik Soderbaum, Joakim Öjendal, 2001-05 The emerging role of regional systems of relations is an important feature of the new global politics While the European Union is the most advanced case most other parts of the world display at least the beginnings of regional systems Using a multidisciplinary approach the contributors examine these processes from a comparative perspective concentrating on the following questions what constitute a region how is the historical process of region formation unfolding what motives and factors underlie this drive to regionalisation what forms a regional awareness and institutionalisation are emerging and where what are the future prospects Globalising the Regional, Regionalising the Global: Volume 35, Review of International Studies Rick Fawn, 2009-04-30 A collection of leading international scholars examine the concept of regions from a range of perspectives and assess leading contemporary examples Regionalisation and Global Governance Andrew F. Cooper, Christopher W. Hughes, Philippe De Lombaerde, 2007-12-21 The relationship between global governance and regionalization is fraught with ambiguity Understanding regionalization in this context requires an understanding of its relationship and reactive condition with both the constellations of global governance and globalization This book presents an overview and explores the distinctive but intersecting trajectories of regionalization and global governance It surveys the theoretical debates the economic dimensions multinationals trade and investment and labour the security considerations armed conflict conflict prevention and peacekeeping and non traditional security in Asia the governing structures managing contemporary multilevel architecture and cultural policy leadership and the L 20 The expert and multi disciplinary editors and contributors survey the context as well as the general character of these projects together with their links as both parallel mediating mechanisms and distinctive choices for interjecting governance into globalization Examining these projects in tandem amplifies their importance and enables the contributors to tease out coincidental as well as alternative possibilities in policy direction This book will be of interest to students and scholars of international relations area studies international economics international political economy political science public administration and development studies Globalization, Regionalization and Cross-Border Regions M. Perkmann, N. Sum, 2002-07-12 Cross border regions are newly emerging social spaces stretching across national borders Globalization makes national borders more permeable and leads to a rearrangement of economic and political interactions This is particularly pronounced within supra regional blocs featuring specific internal border regimes The ensuing opportunities are increasingly seized to create border spanning discourses and institutions This is illustrated in the book by a range of experts analyzing cross border regions in Europe America East Asia and Africa Security and International Law Mary E Footer, Julia Schmidt, Nigel D White, Lydia Davies-Bright, 2016-06-16 Of the many challenges that society faces today possibly none is more acute than the security of ordinary citizens when faced with a variety of natural or man made disasters arising from climate and geological catastrophes including the depletion of natural resources environmental degradation food shortages terrorism breaches of personal security and human security or even the global economic crisis States continue to be faced with a range of security issues arising from contested territorial spaces military and maritime security and security threats relating to energy infrastructure and the delivery of essential services The theme of the book encompasses issues of human political military socio economic environmental and energy security and raises two main questions To what extent can international law address the types of natural and man made security risks and challenges that threaten our livelihood or very existence in the twenty first century Where does international law fall short in meeting the problems that arise in different situations of insecurity and how should such shortcomings be addressed

Ageing and Globalisation Martin Hyde, Paul Higgs, 2016-07-06 Two of the most unprecedented transformations in the history of human social and economic life are currently underway One globalization is the subject of extensive media coverage and scholarly analysis Relatively ignored however is the other one the overall aging of the world's population This book offers the first in depth look at the two forces in tandem showing the many ways in which they interact and affect each other and helping us for the first time to grasp the implications of both This comprehensive introduction to globalization for gerontologists is part of the Ageing in a Global Context series published in association with the British Society of Gerontology

International Handbook on the Economics of Integration: General issues and regional groups Miroslav N. Jovanović, 2011-01-01 International Handbook of Economic Integration edited by Miroslav Jovanovi provides timely and rich academic contributions to considerations of the widest array of integration related issues European integration has been providing an inspiration to a number of academics and researchers The Handbook is a recognition of the dynamic and strong solidarity of the European integration At the same time the European Union often provided an example for integration schemes throughout the world which spread enormously since the mid 1990s Leading experts from all continents contributed to this Handbook which will be a valuable input into academic and policy making discussions and actions Jos Manuel Barroso President of the European Commission Miroslav Jovanovi's publication represents a rich contribution to the complex issue of regional integration its benefits its shortcomings and its relationship with multilateral trade opening It sheds light over an issue which is the subject of intense discussions in trade circles Pascal Lamy Director General of the WTO Much has been written on trade agreements as a mechanism to integrate the markets of two or more countries often inspired by the European example In recent years attention has increasingly focused on the importance of economic geography as a determinant of industrial location This book combines the two strands of analysis bringing together leading experts in the fields of economic geography and international trade The result is an outstanding compilation of papers that illuminate how policies and economic forces affect the location of economic activity in an integrated Europe Bernard Hoekman Director The World Bank US The open multilateral trading system is a tremendous success of the past half century and has contributed greatly to the world's unprecedented rate of economic growth Over the past two decades however preferential trading arrangements have proliferated raising questions as to how compatible they are with the open multilateral system and what policies might be adopted to improve outcomes The essays in this volume detail the emergence of PTAS and provide comprehensive and up to date analyses of the state of play of preferential arrangements in all regions of the world The volume will provide a useful reference for all those wanting to understand existing preferential arrangements and their role in the international economy today Anne O Krueger Johns Hopkins University and Stanford University US

Roads to Regionalism Tanja A. Börzel, Lukas Goltermann, Kai Striebinger, 2016-04-08 Over the past few decades states all around the globe have intensified institutionalized cooperation at the regional level To deepen our understanding of state led regionalism the authors use an analytical framework comprising four main strands First they describe and explain the genesis and growth of regional organizations Second they account for institutional design looking at important similarities and differences Third they examine the interaction between organizations and member states in an attempt to reveal factors that shape the level of commitment to and compliance with regional initiatives Finally they consider the impact of regional organizations on their member states They conclude by providing a foundation for future research on the dynamic development of regionalism

Ending Africa's Energy Deficit and the Law Yinka Omorogbe, Ada Ordo, 2018-02-22 With the inclusion of access to energy in the sustainable development goals the role of energy to human existence was finally recognized Yet in Africa this achievement is far from realized Omorogbe and Ordo bring together experts in their fields to ask what is stalling progress examining problems from institutions catering to vested interests at the continent's expense to a need to develop vigorous financial and fiscal frameworks The ramifications and complications of energy law are labyrinthine this volume discusses how energy deficits can burden disabled people women and children in excess of their more fortunate counterparts as well as considering environmental issues including the delicate balance between the necessity of water for drinking and cleaning and the use of water in industrial processes A pivotal work of scholarship the book poses pressing questions for energy law and international human rights

Regionalism and Regional Security in South Asia Zahid Shahab Ahmed,2016-04-08 Zahid Shahab Ahmed evaluates the progress of the South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation SAARC This study goes beyond economic integration to present a detailed appraisal of cooperation under the overarching themes of economic cooperation environmental security human welfare and cooperation in security matters According to the author SAARC is making progress in addressing the myriad of issues on its agenda The transition from agreements to actions and frequent interactions among the member states has boosted confidence The progress of SAARC is more evident in the less controversial areas of human security such as poverty alleviation health and safety human resources development and higher education Notwithstanding enthusiastic commitments reflected in agreements and action plans there is a gulf between rhetoric and implementation most notably in sensitive areas relating to traditional security In the light of the findings of this study the author proposes that greater cooperation in common human security areas has a potential to pave the way for a cooperation on issues of a contentious nature particularly terrorism
