S. Merwin Cary Nelson, Ed Folsom, 1987 Ecocriticism and the Poiesis of Form

Aaron M. Moe, 2019-02-14 Ecocriticism and the Poiesis of Form Holding on to Proteus demonstrates how a fractal imagination helps one hold the form of a poem within the reaches of Deep Time and it explores the kinship between the hazy liminal moment when Sound becomes Syllable and the hazy liminal moment when the sage energy of the Atom made a leap toward the gaze of the first cell to echo Merwin Moe distills his methodology as follows My work I point asserted the aphorism That's what I do To point the project integrates a wide range of interdisciplinary ideas including biosemiotics fractals phi trauma theory the Mandelbrot Set hyperobjects meditative chants Goethe's morphology Ramanujan's summation a spiderweb's sonic properties and Thoreau's sense of the plant like burgeoning force of an Atom in order to open up multiple trajectories In this context the volume foregrounds the insights of poets storytellers including Hillman Snyder Anzald a EEC okpik Whitman Dickinson Gladding Melville Morrison and Toomer for they are most attentive to that liminal moment when the vibratory hum in language and in the cosmos turns kinetic As this volume draws on a wide range of writers from many backgrounds it allows the myriad voices to engage with one another across differences in race gender and ethnicity These writers show us how to echo Dickinson the Freight Of a delivered Syllable can split and how the energy unleashed came from and points us back toward the energy unmaking the forms of Gaia The starting point for discussing the energy of a poem can no longer begin with the human rather Holding on explores how the poem's energy is but a sliver of a hyperobject massively distributed throughout the cosmos a sage energy that brings forth form Conversations with W. S. Merwin Michael Wutz, Hal Crimmel, 2015-05-21 Conversations with W S Merwin is the first collection of interviews with former United States Poet Laureate W S Merwin b 1927 Spanning almost six decades of conversations the collection touches on such topics as Merwin's early influences Robert Graves and Ezra Pound his location within the twin poles of Walt Whitman and Henry David Thoreau and his extraordinary work as a translator as well as his decades long interest in environmental conservation Anticipating the current sustainability movement and the debates surrounding major and minor literatures Merwin was and still is a visionary He is among the most distinguished poets translators and thinkers in the United States A major link between the period of literary modernism and its contemporary extensions Merwin has been a force in American letters for many decades and his translations from the Spanish French Italian Japanese and other languages have earned him unanimous praise and admiration Merwin also wrote at the forefront of literature's environmental advocacy and early on articulated concerns about ecology and sustainability Conversations with W S Merwin offers insight into the various dimensions of Merwin's thought by treating his interviews as a self-standing category in his oeuvre More than casual narratives that interpret the occasional poem or relay an occasional experience they afford literary and cultural historians a view into the larger throughlines of Merwin's thinking

From Origin to Ecology Jane Frazier, 1999 Frazier examines Merwin's poetry with regard to ecocriticism anthropology Merwin's fellow poets Merwin criticism and his own essays and interviews Of central importance is Merwin's indebtedness to Henry David Thoreau his sense that Thoreau guided American writing in a new direction whereby nature could be seen as something of value for itself BOOK JACKET

This Is My Body Thomas J. Davis, 2008-08-01 There are many general surveys of the Reformation available and they all typically devote some space to how theologians such as Martin Luther and John Calvin understood the Lord's Supper and Christ's presence in the bread and wine However they usually do not provide a great deal of detail about the development of the Reformers' thoughts or the finer elements of their respective opinions This volume by Thomas Davis fills these gaps with a more narrowly focused study He devotes several chapters to Luther and to Calvin examining their use of language and their understanding of the presence of Christ both in the Lord's Supper and in the broader sense of his presence in the church

Desire and Infinity in W. S. Merwin's Poetry Feng Dong, 2021-12-15 In the first monograph on W S Merwin to appear since his death in 2019 Feng Dong focuses on the dialectical movement of desire and infinity that ensouls the poet's entire oeuvre His analysis foregrounds what Merwin calls the other side of despair the opposite of humans' articulated personal and social agonies Feng finds these presences in Merwin's evocations of what lingers on the edge of constantly updated socio-symbolic frameworks surreal encounters spiritual ecstasies and abyssal freedoms By examining Merwin's lifelong engagement with psychic fantasies anonymous holiness entities both natural and supernatural and ghostly ancestors Feng uncovers a precarious relation with the unarticulated unrealized side of existence Drawing on theories from Lacan i ek Levinas and Heidegger Desire and Infinity in W S Merwin's Poetry reads a metaphysical possibility into the poet's work at the intersection between contemporary poetics philosophy and psychoanalysis shaped and continue to shape the American poetry canon Students scholars critics and poets will welcome this enlightening and impressively documented book Recent writings by critics and theorists on literary canons have dealt almost exclusively with prose Alan Golding shows that like all canons those of American poetry are characterized by conflict Choosing a series of varied but representative instances he analyzes battles and contentions among poets anthologists poetry magazine editors and schools of thought in university English departments The chapters present a history of American poetry anthologies compare competing models of canon formation the aesthetic poet centered and the institutional critic centered discuss the influence of the New Critics emphasizing their status as practicing poets their anti nationalist reading of American poetry and the landmark textbook Understanding Poetry by Cleanth Brooks and Robert Penn Warren examine the canonizing effects of an experimental little magazine Origin trace how the Language poets address in both their theory and their method the canonizing institutions and canonical assumptions of the age

The West Side of Any Mountain J. Scott Bryson, 2005-04-01

In contrast to nature poets of the past who tended more toward the bucolic and pastoral many contemporary nature poets are taking up radical environmental and ecological themes In the last few years interesting and evocative work that examines this poetry has begun to lay the foundation for studies in ecopoetics Informed in general by current thinking in environmental theory and specifically by the work of cultural geographer Yi Fu Tuan The West Side of Any Mountain participates in and furthers this scholarly attention by offering an overarching theoretical framework with which to approach the field One area that contemporary theorists have found problematic is the dualistic civilization wilderness binary that focuses on the divisions between culture and nature thereby increasing the modern sense of alienation Tuan's place space framework offers a succinct vocabulary for describing the attitudes of ecological poets and other nature writers in a way that avoids setting up an adversarial relationship between place and space Scott Bryson describes the Tuanian framework and employs it to offer fresh readings of the work of four major ecopoets Wendell Berry Joy Harjo Mary Oliver and W S Merwin The West Side of Any Mountain will be of great interest to scholars and teachers working in the field of contemporary nature poetry It is recommended for nature writing courses as well as classes dealing with 20th century poetry contemporary literary criticism and environmental theory

Modern literature Swann Galleries (New York), 1828

Forces in Modern & Postmodern Poetry Albert Cook, 2008 Forces in Modern and Postmodern Poetry examines the works of classic authors in the modern and postmodern literary tradition including Stéphane Mallarmé Wallace Stevens Samuel Beckett Gertrude Stein Charles Olson Paul Celan Ezra Pound William Carlos Williams Louis Zukofsky and John Ashbery all from a comparative perspective The concepts modern and postmodern are not used to provide definitive answers but to raise questions concerning the status of representation issues of the self and the use of imagery and musical invention The wide range of the study is matched by the richly detailed analysis of specific poetic texts from an author noted for the scope and acuity of his attention to modern poetry in all its varied forms
