Sanctify them in the Truth Stanley Hauerwas, 2016-01-28 In Sanctify them in the Truth Stanley Hauerwas provides an overview of the development of theology and ethics. He considers how the two disciplines interrelate, discusses the nature of sin, how any account of sin requires a more determinative account of moral law, the nature of sanctification, the body as a subject for Christian holiness, and the relationship between sanctification and truthfulness. The volume ends with sermons. Hauerwas emphasizes the freedom the sermons create as they remind us that the words we use are not our words. The inclusion of sermons also underlines Hauerwas' point that the truth of the gospel cannot be discovered apart from its embodiment in specific communities of faith. The Christian life, he argues, is not about being in possession of the truth defined as a set of timeless and universal principles of belief and action. Rather, it is about learning and living the life of truthfulness toward God and one another. For this Cornerstones edition, Hauerwas has provided a new preface that places the work in the present debate and brings this remarkable work to a new audience. Karl Barth's Doctrine of Sanctification Michael

Bartholomaeus, 2021-09-28 This book explores Karl Barth's doctrine of sanctification as set out in The Sanctification of Man 66 of the Church Dogmatics. In his analysis, Michael Bartholomaeus reflects on the role Barth's various engagements with Scripture play in the flow of his theological argument, as well as the significance of his interaction with other voices from the tradition. He then examines select aspects of Barth's theology of sanctification in greater depth, including how Barth's use of Scripture in 66 can be understood as the exegetical background to his dogmatic exposition, the similarities and differences between Barth and Calvin on the question of sanctification, and how seriously and biblically Barth speaks of visibility and growth in the Christian life. Unsettling Arguments Charles R. Pinches, Kelly S. Johnson, Charles M. Collier, 2010-07-02

Scott Bader Saye, Frederick Christian Bauerschmidt, Michael Baxter, Daniel M. Bell Jr., Jana Marguerite Bennett, Michael G. Cartwright, William T. Cavanaugh, Peter Dula, Chris K. Huebner, Kelly S. Johnson, D. Stephen Long, M. Therese Lysaught, David Matzko McCarthy, Joel James Shuman, J. Alexander Sider, Jonathan Tran, Paul J. Wadell, Theodore Walker Jr. System and Story Gale Heide, 2009-01-01 System and Story is intended to develop a means for bridging the gap between critics of system and those who may find value in doing systematics from a Biblically oriented context. Narrative theologians have rightly identified and critiqued the development of system in academic theology. Unfortunately, they have not identified the ways in which systematic elements have always played a role in theological knowledge. This study demonstrates the inherent systematic tendencies that still exist in narrative approaches to theology while at the same time acknowledging the appropriateness of aspects of the narrative critique of system. The reaction against Enlightenment modernism is examined from the perspective of the heightened role of system in religious epistemology. The work of Stanley Hauerwas serves to carry much of the conversation regarding the critique of system and a narrative alternative as it is discovered in communal formation. After summarizing Hauerwas' theology, if such a thing is possible, the final chapters explore the ecclesiological

concerns of narrative theologians according to a more systematic rendering of pneumatology A Biblical rendering of pneumatology from the perspective of the Spirit's role in ecclesiology allows for a modest i.e. pre modern systematic presentation commensurate with narrative communal formation Thus the narrative attempt to once again do theology for the church is seen as compatible with a Scriptural i.e. modestly systematic theology of the Spirit Paul, Grace and Freedom Paul Middleton, Angus Paddison, Karen J. Wenell, 2011-11-03 This collection of twelve essays will celebrate the distinguished contribution of Professor John Kenneth Riches to biblical interpretation The international selection of contributors are all either former students or colleagues of Professor Riches and the focus of the essays all reflect and extend Professor Riches particular research interests and contribution to biblical and theological studies The essays in this volume are clustered around two closely related topics historical and theological contributions to understanding the nature of Christian freedom and agency and studies which investigate how Paul's thought has been interpreted in diverse settings All the contributors have been asked to centre their thinking around the following issues how does the grace of being in Christ transform and restore those who receive it in faith how far they are as it were responsible for that transformation how far their identity changed by their union with Christ and how are they to make ethical decisions are they to be guided and goaded by the law or are to be led by the Spirit and called to discern what is right and good in the law There are four parts to this book Part I explores grace and human agency by looking at texts both within and outside of the New Testament highlighting the themes of ethical responsibility and freedom Part II turns to look at how Pauline themes of grace and the Christian life have been interpreted at various points of Christian history Part III reflects John Riches substantial interest in and contribution to African biblical interpretation and includes essays that investigate how Paul is appropriated in African contexts Part IV reflects John Riches interest in the mutual engagement between theology and Scripture and includes contributions investigating the theological aspects of the Law and the Spirit and transformation in Christ in the theology and ethics of P. T. Forsyth Strength of Mind Jacob L. Goodson, 2018-09-19 Higher education in the twenty first century should bring together freedom and knowledge with courage and hope Why these four concepts As Goodson argues in Strength of Mind higher education in the twenty first century offers preparation for ordinary life Freedom and knowledge serve as the conditions for cultivating courage and hope within one's ordinary life More specifically courage and hope ought to be understood as the virtues required for enjoying ordinary life If college educated citizens wish to hold onto the concepts of courage and hope however then both courage and hope need to be understood as intellectual virtues As a moral virtue courage has become outdated As a theological virtue hope violates the logic of the golden mean Focusing on intellectual virtues also requires shifting from moral perfectionism to rational perfectionism Rational perfectionism involves keeping impossible demands in view for oneself while constantly and continually striving for one's unattained but attainable self Goodson defends these arguments by learning from the bits of wisdom found within American Transcendentalism Emerson

Cavell German Idealism Kant Hegel Jewish philosophy Maimonides Spinoza Putnam neo pragmatism Putnam Rorty West post modern theories about pedagogy Nietzsche Foucault Rorty and secular accounts of perfectionism Murdoch Cavell Truth, Community, and the Prophetic Voice Christopher J. Libby, 2018-06-18 The central concern of Truth Community, and the Prophetic Voice asks how it might be possible today to uphold an understanding of the prophetic voice that comports in essential ways with its expression in the biblical vision while attending especially to contemporary judgments regarding the epistemological significance of community and concerns about the nature and function of claims to truth Ultimately and more specifically Christopher J Libby hopes to gain some purchase on what an adequate contemporary Christian theological rendering of the prophetic looks like He argues that it is not only possible to provide a non foundationalist account of the prophetic voice but that that voice is able to come truly into its own when cast in a non foundationalist frame Analytical Thomism Matthew S. Pugh, 2017-03-02 Analytical Thomism is a recent label for a newer kind of approach to the philosophical and natural theology of St Thomas Aquinas It illuminates the meaning of Aquinas's work for contemporary problems by drawing on the resources of contemporary Anglo Saxon analytical philosophy the work of Frege Wittgenstein and Kripke proving particularly significant This book expands the discourse in contemporary debate exploring crucial philosophical theological and ethical issues such as metaphysics and epistemology the nature of God personhood action and meta ethics All those interested in the thought of St Thomas Aquinas and more generally contemporary Catholic scholarship problems in philosophy of religion and contemporary metaphysics will find this collection an invaluable resource Theology as History and Hermeneutics Laurence W. Wood, 2005 This book offers in style and content an exciting new perspective on contemporary theology and its future in post modern times I welcome this new perspective The style is agreeable unpolemical and engages in dialogue with the best of Barth and Bultmann Ricoeur and Pannenberg Cobb and Moltmann showing what they have to offer to the larger theological community and transferring it like a ferry boat into the post modern age The purpose is to offer an evangelical theology which is at the same time genuinely evangelical and relevant for post modern ways of thinking Wood writes with admirable clarity Jürgen Moltmann University of Tübingen Performing the Faith Stanley Hauerwas, 2015-03-11 Folksy eclectic disarmingly humble and astonishingly wide ranging Hauerwas offers us a provocative reading of Bonhoeffer that not surprisingly assimilates him closely to John Howard Yoder At the same time Hauerwas replies to recent criticisms of his work by Jeffrey Stout Contending that truth depends on performance far more than on theory Hauerwas steps forward as a pacifist gadfly for a more truly faithful church and a more recognizably democratic society George Hunsinger Princeton Theological Seminary This book shows how lively and fecund Hauerwas's thought remains A dazzling performance capable of entertaining and instructing professional theologians as much as those who think the world might be a better place without theologians in it Paul J Griffiths University of Illinois at Chicago Stan Hauerwas has done it again He is able skillfully to blend into his book the passion for truth and justice of two of his greatest influences Dietrich Bonhoeffer and John Howard Yoder He takes these heroic advocates for peace into his own present day struggle for the soul of the American nation Hauerwas an admirable Christian pacifist himself dares Christians to be the Jesus people they claim to be and to follow Jesus into the gospel path of nonviolence Geoffrey B Kelly author of Liberating Faith Bonhoeffer's Message for Today Never totally predictable Always a fresh perspective And yet once again in these essays on narrative politics Bonhoeffer and the church we hear the engaging discerning and brilliant voice we have come to know as Stanley Hauerwas Mark Thiessen Nation Eastern Mennonite Seminary Contending with and learning from the witness of Dietrich Bonhoeffer whose life is often thought to provide a Christian alternative to pacifism Hauerwas deepens the account of Christian nonviolence he has been articulating for decades His theology is strengthened and clarified by his encounter with the exemplary figure of Bonhoeffer Alan Jacobs Wheaton College Without loss of the provocative edge that has made him a vital and distinctive Christian voice Hauerwas's Performing the Faith allows him to cast a retrospective eye on his work At the same time in a brilliant essay under the title of the book he develops a profoundly important description of faithfulness Dennis O'Brien University of Rochester Method, Context, and Meaning in New Testament Studies C. Kevin Rowe, 2024-03-21 A masterful collection of essays in New Testament studies connecting Scripture theology and human life What is the purpose of studying the New Testament and how is it best approached Esteemed professor C. Kevin Rowe explores these questions in sixteen incisive essays covering a range of topics including the state of New Testament studies as a field the relationship between historical criticism and theological reading interdisciplinary methodology comparative religion and New Testament Christianity truth claims of the New Testament What unites these diverse chapters is a holistic approach to the New Testament Against the modern tendency to separate disciplines Rowe unites philosophy theology history and biblical studies in fruitful conversation Most crucially he emphasizes the essential purpose of this academic work its implications for human flourishing With an insightful and bold approach Rowe's essays should be read by anyone interested in New Testament studies Scholars and students will find the essays in this critical volume challenging and rewarding

Untamed Hospitality Elizabeth Newman, 2007-04 Untamed Hospitality digs into the important biblical theme of hospitality providing a profound initiation into this important but often misunderstood practice

Vital Christianity David L. Weaver-Zercher, William H. Willimon, 2005-08-23 Challenge theses debilitating distinctions between spirituality and social justice by exploring the numerous threads that can and should connect these two components of holistic Christian living

The State of the University Stanley Hauerwas, 2008-04-15 In this book controversial and world renowned theologian Stanley Hauerwas tackles the issue of theology being sidelined as a necessary discipline in the modern university It is an attempt to reclaim the knowledge of God as just that knowledge Questions why theology is no longer considered a necessary subject in the modern university and explores the role it should play in the development of our knowledge Considers how theology is often excluded from the knowledges of the modern university because these are constituted by an understanding of time necessary to make economic and state realities seem inevitable Argues that it is precisely this difference that makes Christian theology an essential resource for the university to achieve its task that is to form people who are able to imagine a different world through critical and disciplined reflection Challenges the domesticated character of much recent theology by suggesting how prayer and the love of the poor are essential practices that should shape the theological task Converses with figures as diverse as Luigi Giussani David Burrell Stanley Fish Wendell Berry Jeff Stout Rowan Williams and Sheldon Wolin Published in the new and prestigious Illuminations series     A Better Hope Stanley Hauerwas,2000-12-01 By his own admission never one to duck a good fight Stanley Hauerwas has in the past three decades established himself as one of our most important and most disputatious theologians With A Better Hope he concentrates on the constructive case for the truth and power of the church and its faith since Christians cannot afford to let ourselves be defined by what we are against Whatever or whomever we are against we are so only because God has given us so much to be for Hauerwas here crystallizes and extends profound criticisms of America liberalism capitalism and postmodernism but also identifies unlikely allies such as Chicago Archbishop Francis Cardinal George and locates surprising resources for Christian survival such as mystery novels Interlocutors along the way include Reinhold Niebuhr John Courtney Murray and in a significant and previously unpublished essay social gospeller Walter Rauschenbusch Never boring and often telling A Better Hope demonstrates how a thinker so often accused of being tribal and sectarian is at the same time one of few contemporary theologians read not just by other theologians but by political scientists philosophers medical ethicists law professors and literary theorists     Approaching the End Stanley Hauerwas,2015-02-17 In this book Stanley Hauerwas explores the significance of eschatological reflection for helping the church negotiate the contemporary world In Part One Theological Matters Hauerwas directly addresses his understanding of the eschatological character of the Christian faith In Part Two Church and Politics he deals with the political reality of the church in light of the end addressing such issues as the divided character of the church the imperative of Christian unity and the necessary practice of sacrifice     In Search of Goodness Ruth W. Grant,2011-03-15 The recent spate of books and articles reflecting on the question of evil might make one forget that the question of just what constitutes goodness is no less urgent or perplexing Everyone wants to think of him or herself as good But what does a good life look like And how do people become good Are there multiple competing possibilities for what counts as a good life all equally worthy Or is there a unified and transcendent conception of the good that should guide our judgment of the possibilities What does a good life look like when it is guided by God How is a good life involved with the lives of others And finally how good is good enough These questions are the focus of In Search of Goodness the product of a year long conversation about goodness The eight essays in this volume challenge the dichotomies that usually govern how goodness has been discussed in the past altruism versus egoism reason versus emotion or moral choice versus moral character Instead the contributors seek to expand the terms of the discussion by coming at goodness from a variety of perspectives psychological philosophic literary religious and political In each case they emphasize the lived realities and particulars of moral phenomena taking up examples and illustrations from life literature and film From Achilles and Billy Budd to Oskar Schindler and Shel Silverstein s The Giving Tree to Iris Murdoch and the citizens of Flagstaff Arizona readers will find a wealth of thought provoking insights to help them better understand this most basic but complex element of human life and happiness
