St Francis and Cultural Memory David Salter, 2025-05-11 St Francis and Cultural Memory explores central aspects of English national spiritual and broader cultural identity through a detailed yet accessible analysis of a familiar figure the Franciscan Friar Covering more than four hundred years from the late fourteenth to the late eighteenth centuries and taking in a wide variety of different literary and artistic forms the book charts the changing face of the Franciscan friar in the English literary imagination and examines how developments within this evolving tradition were both shaped by and have helped to shape wider debates within English culture about the relationship between religious and national identity and the past and the present Central to this analysis is the notion of cultural memory At the time of its suppression in the 1530s the Franciscan Order was too deeply assimilated into the social fabric of England either to be forgotten or to be credibly labelled an entirely alien presence despite the best efforts of Protestant polemicists to do so Rather the effect of the Reformation was to suppress but not completely to erase memories of English Franciscans The Catholic history that English Protestantism sought to deny was prone to return in unexpected and often distorted and disturbing forms so that in the centuries following the Reformation Franciscans came to haunt the imagination of English writers and artists Appearing in a wide variety of literary and artistic guises these ghostly Franciscans functioned as spectres of a national past which English Protestantism tried to disavow but which it was unable entirely to destroy Franciscan friars appear in the work of some of the most popular and influential writers and artists from the fourteenth to the eighteenth centuries reflecting the centrality of the Order to ongoing debates within English culture about religion and national identity

The book discusses in detail the work of Geoffrey Chaucer Thomas Malory Thomas More William Shakespeare William Hogarth Edward Gibbon Ann Radcliffe and Matthew Lewis It explores the individual responses of these writers and artists to the Franciscans and their legacy and also highlights the ways in which this shared interest in the Order reveals hitherto unacknowledged connections between their work

Religion as Art Form Carl L. Jech, 2013-05-09 If you find books such as Richard Dawkins The God Delusion compelling but your faith heritage is also important to you this book shows how you can affirm both Taking a cue from Marcus Borg's contention that scriptural literalism is for many people a major impediment to authentic spirituality Carl Jech describes how all religion can and should be much more explicit about its symbolic metaphorical and artistic nature With a particular focus on mortality and the relationship of humans to eternity the book affirms a postmodern understanding of God as ultimate eternal Mystery and of spirituality as an artistic w holistic visionary and creative process of becoming at home in the universe as it really is with all its joys and sorrows Religion as Art Form is a must read for those who think of themselves as spiritual but not religious

Liberating Exegesis Christopher Rowland, Mark Corner, 1989-01-01 This important book provides a sampling of liberation theology's use of biblical texts relating it to the standard methods of interpretation in Europe and America Divided into four sections the book sets out contemporary readings of the parable of Jesus influenced by a liberationist perspective identifies the biblical and theoretical foundations of liberation theology comparing them with the dominant exegetical paradigm in the first world explores the way in which liberation exegesis affects reading the canonical accounts of Jesus and argues that liberation theology cannot be seen solely as a third world phenomenon

Richard Hooker and Reformed Orthodoxy W. Bradford Littlejohn, Scott N. Kindred-Barnes, 2017-03-13 For more than forty years now there has been a steady stream of interest in Richard Hooker This renaissance in Hooker Studies began with the publication of the Folger Library Edition of the Works of Richard Hooker With this renaissance has come a growing recognition that it is anachronistic to classify Hooker simply as an Anglican thinker but as yet no generally agreed upon alternative label or context for his thought has replaced this older conception in particular the question of Hooker's Reformed identity remains hotly contested Given the relatively limited engagement of Hooker scholarship with other branches of Reformation and early modern scholarship to date there is a growing recognition that Hooker must be evaluated not only against the context of English puritanism and conformism but also in light of his broad international Reformed context At the same time it has become clear that if this is so scholars of continental Reformed orthodoxy must take stock of Hooker's work as one of the landmark theological achievements of the era This volume aims to facilitate this long needed conversation bringing together a wide range of scholars to consider Richard Hooker's theology within the full context of late 16th and early 17th century Reformed orthodoxy both in England and on the Continent The essays seek to bring Hooker into conversation not merely with contemporaries familiar to Hooker scholarship such as William Perkins but also with such contemporaries as Jerome Zanchi and Franciscus Junius predecessors such as Heinrich Bullinger and successors such as John Davenant John Owen and Hugo Grotius In considering how these successors of Hooker identified themselves in relation to his theology these essays will also shed light on how Hooker was perceived within 17th century Reformed circles The theological topics touched on in the course of these essays include such central issues as the doctrine of Scripture predestination Christology soteriology the sacraments and law It is hoped that these essays will continue to stimulate further research on these important questions among a wide community of scholars

The Boston Browning Society Papers Boston Browning Society,1897 A Defence of Christianity, from the Prophecies of the Old Testament; wherein are considered all the objections against this kind of proof, advanced in a late "Discourse of the grounds and reasons of the Christian Religion" by Anthony Collins . L.P. Edward CHANDLER (successively Bishop of Lichfield and Coventry and of Durham.),1725 A Defence of Christianity from the Prophecies of the Old Testament, Wherein are Considered All the Objections Against this Kind of Proof, Advanced in a Late Discourse of the Grounds and Reasons of the Christian Religion Chandler,1725 Christianity, Empire, and the Making of Religion in Late Antiquity Jeremy M. Schott,2013-04-23 In Christianity Empire and the Making of Religion in Late Antiquity

Jeremy M Schott examines the ways in which conflicts between Christian and pagan intellectuals over religious ethnic and cultural identity contributed to the transformation of Roman imperial rhetoric and ideology in the early fourth century C E During this turbulent period which began with Diocletian s persecution of the Christians and ended with Constantine s assumption of sole rule and the consolidation of a new Christian empire Christian apologists and anti Christian polemicists launched a number of literary salvos in a battle for the minds and souls of the empire Schott focuses on the works of the Platonist philosopher and anti Christian polemicist Porphyry of Tyre and his Christian respondents the Latin rhetorician Lactantius Eusebius bishop of Caesarea and the emperor Constantine Previous scholarship has tended to narrate the Christianization of the empire in terms of a new religion s penetration and conquest of classical culture and society The present work in contrast seeks to suspend the static essentializing conceptualizations of religious identity that lie behind many studies of social and political change in late antiquity in order to investigate the processes through which Christian and pagan identities were constructed Drawing on the insights of postcolonial discourse analysis Schott argues that the production of Christian identity and in turn the construction of a Christian imperial discourse were intimately and inseparably linked to the broader politics of Roman imperialism Strengthening Your Grip Charles R.
