Reconstructing Lives Nanthalia W. McJamerson, Ph. D., 2016-02-11 This author is onto something groundbreaking by combining literature counseling education and critical thinking Dr Jean Kerney Educational Consultant Chillicothe Ohio The students and I experienced shocking revelations as they researched their selected celebrities As an Instructor I saw students were excited about learning that each celebrity they chose had a story which inspired drive to reach their glory Students had taken it at face value that these people's lives were always perfect Secondly I think this curriculum project gave students much needed advice Advice impacts differently when it comes from someone you idolize It gave these freshmen ideas of how to handle college and how to navigate issues in their lives Most importantly this project allowed students to exhale they now know whatever their struggles they are not alone Dr Jessie Broussard Researcher and Instructor University of Louisiana Lafayette When I was introduced to the Reconstructing Lives Project I was delighted to have a new way to assess my students comprehension of teaching theories Teacher candidates thought the theories were boring however they eventually found that connecting theories to their icons and later to themselves was meaningful The majority of my students felt the redemption that it brought them They didn't write it all in their papers rather they came to my office and explained what the project meant to them personally What surprised me most in 10 years of using the Project was the fact that it was not only a measure of student learning but also a measure of how much I could teach them about theory about my life and about their own life success Dr Felicie Barnes Professor of Education Retired Grambling State University Companion Workbook available at www.amazon.com RE MAKE AN ICON SO YOU CAN PRODUCE ONE

The Natural and the Human Stephen Gaukroger, 2016-01-21 Stephen Gaukroger presents an original account of the development of empirical science and the understanding of human behaviour from the mid eighteenth century Since the seventeenth century science in the west has undergone a unique form of cumulative development in which it has been consolidated through integration into and shaping of a culture But in the eighteenth century science was cut loose from the legitimating culture in which it had had a public rationale as a fruitful and worthwhile form of enquiry What kept it afloat between the middle of the eighteenth and the middle of the nineteenth centuries when its legitimacy began to hinge on an intimate link with technology The answer lies in large part in an abrupt but fundamental shift in how the tasks of scientific enquiry were conceived from the natural realm to the human realm At the core of this development lies the naturalization of the human that is attempts to understand human behaviour and motivations no longer in theological and metaphysical terms but in empirical terms One of the most striking feature of this development is the variety of forms it took and the book explores anthropological medicine philosophical anthropology the natural history of man and social arithmetic Each of these disciplines re formulated basic questions so that empirical investigation could be drawn upon in answering them but the empirical dimension was conceived very differently in each case with the result that the naturalization of the human took the form of competing and in some respects mutually exclusive projects Collections of United States Joint Publications Research Service Translations in the Social Sciences Emanating from Communist China United States. Joint Publications Research Service,1961 Solving the Riddle Dr. Kevin H. Abdur-Rahman,2019-04-29 Dr Abdur Rahman s life journey took on an unusual evolutionary process from delinquency to adult court long term incarceration rehabilitation and a progressive and productive life From Pop Warner quarterback to one of the most recognized drug dealers in Philadelphia and one of the most influential people on the campus of one of America s most historic universities To solve the riddle of life s journey there are questions that must be answered mysteries that must be solved and meaning applied to both In this book Dr Abdur Rahman has presented a case study of an at risk youth and ex felon that demonstrated the example that if given healthy information one can avoid and even transcend the environmental influences and dysfunction that create negative outcomes In addition he has given working professionals in the field of delinquency prevention ideas that can help them develop their own successful methodologies and has proven a vital need for Clean Slate legislation to create a second chance forum so other successfully transitioned ex felons do not have to hide their past and employers can feel comfortable hiring ex felons You will hear him tell stories about situations and individual relationships each giving hints to the riddle that he had to solve for himself Anyone wanting an autographed copy of my book can go to my website www.solvingtheriddelllc.com and pay through PayPal to get an autographed copy Helping? Gillian Berry,2025-05-14 This book exists to encourage helping professionals particularly those at the beginning of their careers to critically explore and understand current strategies in fields such as psychotherapy psychology and social work Historical examples of helping policies and strategies used over the years are reviewed and critically evaluated as to whether they helped or hurt the communities they were designed to support Current policies will be discussed to evaluate whether they are helping the communities they serve In alignment with an Indigenous African centered philosophy of holism multi dimensionality and interconnectedness this work takes a multilayered approach to storytelling by weaving together three journeys the author s personal journey of exploration the journey of the Black Girl from George Bernard Shaw s novella described below and the reader s In it the author details her understanding of the philosophical framework she learned in professional helping training programs why she came to believe they were inadequate and how this sparked her global search to understand how to be an effective helper The author s journey is paralleled with the famous and controversial novella by George Bernard Shaw The Adventures of the Black Girl in Her Search for God which is a depiction of the universal search for understanding This text contrasts this alternative perspective on helping with the dominant approaches to what constitutes helping The protagonist s journey is mirrored by the author s stories of discovery and reflective questions are designed to enable the reader s journey toward becoming a professional helper in the context of current systems This text explores what helping may look like from an alternative philosophical perspective seeking to facilitate a process that will enable people to live more satisfyingly Each chapter offers theoretical underpinnings from an Indigenous African centered perspective a critique of dominant approaches to helping and a different stage of the Black Girl and authors paralleled searches for understanding about God and healing respectively      Head Games Nikitah Okembe-RA Imani,2010-12-18

Head Games is focused on the way in which ethnocentrism and cultural bias can impact public health and in this case psychotherapeutic process It examines a family therapy program being run by a major public university tied to the criminal justice system and the educational establishment aiming to reform perceived dysfunctionality in homes of the patients subjects What follows is a tragic comedy of errors in which theory and practice normed in one sociocultural context is applied or more appropriately misapplied This book questions whether we have come as far as we think in the US in terms of calibrating our mental health systems for multicultural sensitivity and perhaps suggests there are limits to how much we can engage in cross cultural therapy The book uses an Africa centered theoretical framework to tease out these systemic incongruities and will hopefully provide guidance for counselors researchers and those more generally interested in programmatic evaluation research across cultural lines The title Head Games is an apt metaphor for the manipulation of the program by all of its participants for the purpose of reifying or resisting its inherent definitions of abnormality      Islam in North America Michael A. Gordon Melton,2017-01-12 First published in 1992 this book focuses on the Muslim community and how it has developed in North America Divided into eight sections it traces the history of the Muslim community in North America from the nineteenth century to the end of the twentieth century and examines different aspects of the community such as Sectarian Movements Islam in the African American community and points of contact between Christian and Islamic communities The text includes a number of bibliographies to aid further study and closes with a helpful directory of Muslim organizations and centers in North America This book will be of particular interest to those studying Islam and Religion in North America      Genocide by Any Other Name... .
