Nature Historical Experience Essays:

Historical Experience David Carr, 2021-03-30 This volume brings together a collection of recent essays on the philosophy and theory of history This is a field of lively interdisciplinary discussion and research to which historians philosophers and theorists of culture and literature have contributed The author is a philosopher by training and his inspiration comes primarily from the continental phenomenological tradition Thus the influence of Husserl Heidegger Merleau Ponty and Ricoeur can be discerned here This background opens up a unique perspective on the issues under discussion Phenomenology differs from other philosophical approaches like metaphysics and epistemology Phenomenology asks of anything that exists or may exist how is it given how does it enter our experience what is our experience of it like Very broadly we can say phenomenology is about experience At first glance this approach may seem ill suited to history In our language history usually means either 1 what happened i e past events or 2 our knowledge of what happened We can't experience past events and whatever knowledge we have of them must come from other sources memory testimony physical traces But the author maintains that we actually do experience historical events and these essays explain how this is so Sitting at the intersection of philosophy and history and divided into three parts Historicity Narrative and Time Teleology and History and Embodiment and Experience this is the ideal volume for those interested in experience from a philosophical and historical perspective

Nature and historical experience John Herman Randall, 1970 Nature and Historical Experience John Herman Randall (Jr.), 1962 Naturalism and Historical Understanding John Peter Anton, 1967-01-01 As philosopher historian and teacher John Herman Randall Jr is world renowned and universally respected In more than fifty years of study he has probed Western thought inclusively from the early Greeks Aristotle and the Peripatetics through contemporary European and American philosophers Currently Professor Randall is conducting his scholarly research at the University of Padua and the Columbia Padua Institute a society which he helped found devoted to the study of the Aristotelian tradition in the Renaissance In his introduction to this volume the editor characterizes Professor Randall's relation to the contemporary world of thought It can be said in truth that Randall never touched a subject matter without making it luminous and intelligible and has scorned no inquiry no idea no vision ever ardently pursued by men anywhere The measure of our intellectual indebtedness to him will not soon be taken This volume has provided the rare opportunity to present related work of several eminent scholars in different fields Most of the essays were written to honor Professor Randall on the occasion of his 65th birthday Using Randall's work as a point of departure and reflecting its broad relevance they treat subjects as diverse as religion Greek philosophy Kant's philosophy of science Renaissance Aristotelianism and British Empiricism Included also are two tributes and memoirs personal reminiscences of Randall's early career and a valuable bibliography of Randall's published work

The Minimalist Vision of Transcendence Jerome A. Stone, 1992-11-03

The Truth of History C. Behan McCullagh, 2002-11-01 Modern relativism and postmodern thought in culture and language challenge the truth of history This book considers how all historians confined by the concepts and forms of argument of their own cultures can still discover truths about the past The Truth of History presents a study of various historical explanations and interpretations and evaluates their success as accounts of the past C Behan McCullagh contests that the variety of historical interpretations and subjectivity does not exclude the possibility of their truth Through an examination of the constraints of history the author argues that although historical descriptions do not mirror the past they can correlate with it in a regular and definable way Far from debating in the abstract and philosophical only the author beds his argument in numerous illuminating concrete historical examples The Truth of History explores a new position between the two extremes of believing that history perfectly represents the past and that history can tell us nothing true of the past

Essays in the History of Ideas Arthur O. Lovejoy, 2019-12-01 Originally published in 1948 In the first essay of this collection Lovejoy reflects on the nature methods and difficulties of the historiography of ideas He maps out recurring phenomena in the history of ideas which the essays illustrate One phenomenon is the presence and influence of the same presuppositions or other operative ideas in very diverse provinces of thought and in different periods Another is the role of semantic transitions and confusions of shifts and of ambiguities in the meanings of terms in the history of thought and taste A third phenomenon is the internal tensions or waverings in the mind of almost every individual writer sometimes discernible even in a single writing or on a single page arising from conflicting ideas or incongruous propensities of feeling or taste to which the writer is susceptible These essays do not contribute to metaphysical and epistemological questions they are primarily historical

Science, Worldviews and Education Michael Matthews, 2009-07-14 This book has its origins in a special issue of the journal Science Education Volume 18 Numbers 6 7 2009 The essay by Costas Skordoulis Science and Worldviews in the Marxist Tradition did not appear in that special issue due to a mistake in production scheduling It was published in an earlier issue of the journal Volume 17 Number 6 2008 but has been included in this book version of the special issue As explained in the Introduction the catalyst for the journal special issue was the essay on Science Worldviews and Education submitted to the journal by Hugh G Gauch Jr This was circulated to the other contributors who were asked to write their own contribution in the light of the arguments and literature contained in the paper Hugh made brief Responses and Clarifications after the papers were written However the Tanis Edis article on Islam and my own article on Priestley were processed too late to benefit from Hugh's appraisal The journal is associated with the International History Philosophy and Science Teaching Group which was formed in 1987 The group stages biennial international conferences and occasional regional conferences details can be found at www.ihpst.org The group though the journal conferences and its electronic newsletter at www.ihpst.org

Education and Conversation David Bakhurst, Paul Fairfield, 2016-05-19 Since Michael Oakshott spoke of education as initiation into the conversation of mankind more than fifty years ago the idea has inspired a diverse array of thinkers and continues to be invoked today by those seeking to resist the influence of managerialism and narrow instrumentalism in educational policy and practice Education and Conversation draws together papers written by scholars from both the analytic and continental philosophical traditions to offer a variety of perspectives on the implications of Oakeshott's educational ideas The metaphor of the conversation of mankind is explored together with the roots of Oakeshott's thinking in his early philosophical work the relevance of his ideas to the concept of Bildung and the significance of his political conservatism in evaluating the seemingly progressive potential of his educational ideas In addition concepts prominent in Oakeshott's thought are taken up and brought to bear on contemporary philosophical discussions about education learning and development including the nature of initiation the phenomenology of listening and the value of the liberal arts tradition Education and Conversation shows how the idea of conversation illuminates both the character and the ends of education yielding insight into the scope and limits of the philosophy of education and the character of philosophical inquiry more generally Explorations in Jewish Historical Experience Shmuel Noah Eisenstadt, 2004-01-01 Professor S N Eisenstadt has written numerous essays on Jewish Identity over the years This volume brings together some of these The major argument of the essays follows the Weberian view of Jewish historical experience as that of a distinct civilization as a distinct Great Religion the first monotheistic civilization without however accepting many of Weber's concrete analyses

The Things in Heaven and Earth: An Essay in Pragmatic Naturalism John Ryder, 2013-01-02 The Things in Heaven and Earth is a development and application of the Columbia Naturalism of John Dewey John Herman Randall Jr and Justus Buchler The chapters deal with systematic ontology epistemology constructivism and objectivity philosophical theology art democratic theory foreign policy education humanism and cosmopolitanism Emerson's Essays Harold Bloom, 2006 Ralph Waldo Emerson 1803-1882 was the most influential American writer of the nineteenth century Poets such as Walt Whitman Emily Dickinson Robert Frost and Wallace Stevens descend from Emerson as do thinkers such as John Dewey and William James This volume of critical interpretations focuses on Emerson's Essays First Series 1841 and Essays Second Series 1844 which encompass some of his most important works History Self Reliance Circles The Poet and Experience among others These essays exemplify Emerson's distinctively rich prose and his radical affirmation of the strength of the individual The analyses and appreciations collected here place Emerson's essays in the context of literary and intellectual history grapple with the implications of his epigrams and tropes and link his shifts of perspective and tone to the changes in Emerson's life Together they illuminate the complexity and scope of the seminal works of America's most influential writer and thinker Book jacket

The Study of History, 1988 The chief objective of this text is to provide a handy reference guide for teachers students and researchers of modern European economic and social history Since the bibliography covers only works written in the English language it will probably be of less use to the last named group at least insofar as those within it are already seasoned researchers on a particular country or topic However it would have been quite impossible from the point of view of length to have included all the literature in foreign languages while to have done so would have defeated the essential aim of the volume namely that of providing a reasonably convenient guide for those who teach and study the subject but who are not primarily specialists in the field The Historical Experience in German Drama Alan Menhennet, 2003 Major figures treated include Gryphius Lessing Schiller Goethe Grillparzer Hebbel Schnitzler and Brecht There is no competing work in English BOOK JACKET Essays on Interpretation in Social Science Georg Simmel, 1980 Hitch Your Wagon to a Star and Other Quotations from Ralph Waldo Emerson Keith Frome, Ralph Waldo Emerson, 1996 Possibly the most quoted man in American letters Emerson is represented in most general quote books but this is the first devoted to Emerson alone Here are 750 quotes arranged by subject so that readers can easily locate the ideas that interest and inspire them

Adorno Roger Foster, 2012-02-01 In Adorno Roger Foster argues that there is a coherent critical project at the core of Adorno's philosophy of language and epistemology the key to which is the recovery of a broader understanding of experience Foster claims in Adorno's writings it is the concept of spiritual experience that denotes this richer vision of experience and signifies an awareness of the experiential conditions of concepts By elucidating Adorno's view of philosophy as a critical practice that discloses the suffering of the world Foster shows that Adorno's philosophy does not end up in a form of resignation or futile pessimism Foster also breaks new ground by placing Adorno's theory of experience in relation to the work of other early twentieth century thinkers in particular Henri Bergson Marcel Proust Edmund Husserl and early Wittgenstein Kant on History and Religion Michel Despland, 1973-01-01 Sublime Historical Experience F. R. Ankersmit, 2005 Why are we interested in history at all Why do we feel the need to distinguish between past and present This book investigates how the notion of sublime historical experience complicates and challenges existing conceptions of language truth and knowledge Frankfurt School J. M. Bernstein, 1994 The Frankfurt School refers to the members associated with the Institut für Sozialforschung Institute for Social Research which was founded in Frankfurt in 1923 The work of this group is generally agreed to have been a landmark in twentieth century social science It is of seminal importance in our understanding of culture progress politics production consumption and method This set of six volumes provides a full picture of the School by examining the important developments that have occurred since the deaths of the original core of Frankfurt scholars All the major figures Adorno Horkheimer Marcuse Benjamin are represented In particular the important post war work of Jürgen Habermas is fully assessed The collection also covers the work of many of the minor figures associated with the School who have been unfairly neglected in the past resulting in the most complete survey and guide to the oeuvre of the Frankfurt School
