Nature Art In Renaissance Literature:

Nature and Art in Renaissance Literature Edward W. Taylor, 1964 Nature and Art in the English Renaissance: Some Literary Consequences of a Philosophical Idea Edward W. Taylor, 1960 Nature and Art in Renaissance Literature Edward W. Taylor, 1966 A New Companion to English Renaissance Literature and Culture Michael Hattaway, 2010-05-10 In this revised and greatly expanded edition of the Companion 80 scholars come together to offer an original and far reaching assessment of English Renaissance literature and culture A new edition of the best selling Companion to English Renaissance Literature revised and updated with 22 new essays and 19 new illustrations Contributions from some 80 scholars including Judith H Anderson Patrick Collinson Alison Findlay Germaine Greer Malcolm Jones Arthur Kinney James Knowles Arthur Marotti Robert Miola and Greg Walker Unrivalled in scope and its exploration of unfamiliar literary and cultural territories the Companion offers new readings of both literary and non literary texts Features essays discussing material culture sectarian writing the history of the body theatre both in and outside the playhouses law gardens and ecology in early modern England Orientates the beginning student while providing advanced students and faculty with new directions for their research All of the essays from the first edition along with the recommendations for further reading have been reworked or updated Ecocriticism and Early Modern English Literature Todd A. Borlik, 2011-05-11 In this timely new study Borlik reveals the surprisingly rich potential for the emergent green criticism to yield fresh insights into early modern English literature Deftly avoiding the anachronistic casting of sixteenth and seventeenth century authors as modern environmentalists he argues that environmental issues such as nature's personhood deforestation energy use air quality climate change and animal sentience are formative concerns in many early modern texts The readings infuse a new urgency in familiar works by Shakespeare Sidney Spenser Marlowe Raleigh Jonson Donne and Milton At the same time the book forecasts how ecocriticism will bolster the reputation of less canonical authors like Drayton Wroth Bruno Gascoigne and Cavendish Its chapters trace provocative affinities between topics such as Pythagorean ecology and the Gaia hypothesis Ovidian tropes and green phenomenology the disenchantment of Nature and the Little Ice Age and early modern pastoral poetry and modern environmental ethics It also examines the ecological onus of Renaissance poetics while showcasing how the Elizabethans sense of a sophisticated interplay between nature and art can provide a precedent for ecocriticism's current understanding of the relationship between nature and culture as mutually constructive Situating plays and poems alongside an eclectic array of secondary sources including herbals forestry laws husbandry manuals almanacs and philosophical treatises on politics and ethics Borlik demonstrates that Elizabethan and Jacobean authors were very much aware of and concerned about the impact of human beings on their natural surroundings The Oxford History of Poetry in English Catherine Bates, Patrick Cheney, 2022 A history of the birth moment of modern English poetry from Skelton to Spenser that studies a range of poets from Wyatt Surrey and Isabella Whitney to Raleigh Drayton and Mary Herbert The Automaton in

English Renaissance Literature Wendy Beth Hyman, 2016-03-23 The Automaton in English Renaissance Literature features original essays exploring the automaton from animated statue to anthropomorphized machine in the poetry prose and drama of England in the 16th and 17th centuries Addressing the history and significance of the living machine in early modern literature the collection places literary automata of the period within their larger aesthetic historical philosophical and scientific contexts While no single theory or perspective conscribes the volume taken as a whole the collection helps correct an assumption that frequently emerges from a post Enlightenment perspective that these animated beings are by definition exemplars of the new science or that they point necessarily to man's triumphant relationship to technology On the contrary automata in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries seem only partly and sporadically to function as embodiments of an emerging mechanistic or materialist worldview Renaissance automata were just as likely not to confirm a hypothesis about the man machine Instead these essays show automata were often a source of wonder suggestive of magic proof of the uncannily animating effect of poetry indeed just as likely to unsettle the divide between man and divinity as that between man and matter

Shakespeare and the Natural World Tom MacFaul, 2015-11-20 Exploring the rich range of meanings that Shakespeare finds in the natural world this book fuses ecocritical approaches to Renaissance literature with recent thinking about the significance of religion in Shakespeare's plays MacFaul offers a clear introduction to some of the key problems in Renaissance natural philosophy and their relationship to Reformation theology with individual chapters focusing on the role of animals in Shakespeare's universe the representation of rural life and the way in which humans consumption of natural materials transforms their destinies These discussions enable powerful new readings of Shakespeare's plays including A Midsummer Night's Dream As You Like It King Lear Macbeth The Tempest The Winter's Tale and the history plays Proposing that Shakespeare's representation of the relationship between man and nature anticipated that of the Romantics this volume will interest scholars of Shakespeare studies Renaissance drama and literature and ecocritical studies of Shakespeare

Refiguring Woman Marilyn Migiel, Juliana Schiesari, 1991 Refiguring Woman reassesses the significance of gender in what has been considered the bastion of gender neutral humanist thought the Italian Renaissance It brings together eleven new essays that investigate key topics concerning the hermeneutics and political economy of gender and the relationship between gender and the Renaissance canon Taken together they call into question a host of assumptions about the period revealing the implicit and explicit misogyny underlying many Renaissance social and discursive practices

Nature and Imagination in Ancient and Early Modern Roman Art Gabriel Pihás, 2022-07-27 This volume uses the art of Rome to help us understand the radical historical break between the fundamental ancient presupposition that there is a natural world or cosmos situating human life and the equally fundamental modern emphasis on human imagination and its creative power Rome's unique art history reveals a different side of the battle between ancients and moderns than that usually raised as an issue in the history of science and philosophy The book traces the idea of a cosmos in pre modern art in

Rome from the reception of Greek art in the Roman republic to the construction of the Pantheon to early Christian art and architecture It then sketches the disappearance of the presupposition of a cosmos in the High Renaissance and Baroque periods as creativity became a new ideal Through discussions of the art and architecture that defines proto modern Rome from Michelangelo's terribilità in the Sistine Chapel Caravaggio's realism Baroque illusionism the infinities of Borromini's architecture to the Grand Tour's representations of ruins through an interpretation of such major issues and works this book shows how modern art liberates us while leaving us feeling estranged from our grounding in the natural world The book will be of interest to scholars working in art history architectural history classics philosophy and early modern history and culture
